Class Secretary

ROY SMITH WALLACE

Class Committee

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT

ROB ROY ALEXANDER

ALBERT GOODHUE

To the members of the Class of 1904:—

This Report covers the doings of our classmates during the six years following graduation—their jobs, their adventures, their marriages, their children. In almost every case, the records have been written by the individual; in a few cases, I have made slight modifications of the text, and in a few cases I have myself written the biography from facts in my possession. I hereby apologize for all mistakes; for omissions you will have to demand the apology of those offenders who have failed to respond to repeated requests for information.

Some men are "lost." The Secretary and the Class, will be grateful to anyone who will send in information about these lost men.

The history of the Class as a whole is briefly recorded. The Triennial in 1907 enjoyed itself hugely; two 1904 dinners in New York and one in Boston were successful; our Class did somewhat more than its share in contributions toward the two and a half million dollars Teachers' Endowment Fund.

The thanks of the Class are due to Charles V. Imlay, '08, for very able work in the preparation of this Report, and I take pleasure in making public acknowledgment of his services.

Sincerely yours,

ROY SMITH WALLACE.

Freeport, N. Y.,
June 20, 1910.

CLASS OF 1904

A superior numeral 2, 3, or 4, printed before a name, indicates entrance to the Class in the corresponding college year out of course. A superior 5 indicates a member of the Graduate Department who took the degree of A.B. with the Class. A superior a, b, or c, printed after a name, indicates withdrawal from the Class in the Freshman, Sophomore or Junior year respectively. Other abbreviations follow, in general, the Quinquennial Catalogue.

RECORD OF THE CLASS

HUGH ABBOTT

Graduated M.A. at St. Lawrence University in 1904. 1904-'07, in lumber business at Cranberry Lake, N. Y. 1907-'09, spent in graduate work at Harvard and travel in Europe. In September, 1909, entered the publishing business. At present, editor and publisher of the Northern Tribune, Gouverneur, N. Y. Present residence: Gouverneur, N. Y.

RICARDO MIGUEL DE ACOSTA

Received LL.B. from the New York Law School in 1906. Is practicing law as an assistant corporation counsel. Business address: Hall of Records, Manhattan Borough, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 1037 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

ARTHUR KINNEY ADAMS

Right after graduating, I took the eleven weeks' surveying work at the Harvard Engineering Camp, then came back to Harvard for a year's post graduate work in Geology, receiving the degree of Master of Arts in Geology, 1905. In the same year I was elected a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

The summer of 1905 was spent with the United States Geological Survey mapping a coal and oil-field in Pennsylvania; then I went to "Tech" for a year as Assistant in Geology and graduate student in Mining. Then I went back to work with the United States Geological Survey; in June doing areal work in Oregon, July to November mapping and reporting on a large coal field in northwest Colorado, November to March inspecting and reporting and sampling bituminous coal mines from Maryland to Alabama. In July I went with the American Institute of Mining Engineers on a trip to Toronto, Sudbury, and Cobalt, Canada; and thence to Socorro, New Mexico. From September, 1907-'09, I was Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the New Mexico School of Mines, Socorro, N. Mex. In 1909 I was Vice-President for New Mexico of the American Mining Congress. April, 1909, I was appointed Mineral Inspector for the General Land Office, working in the Black Hills, South Dakota, from June to August, in New Mexico from September to October, and in Arizona from November on. This work has been the examination of land as to its mineral character, and reporting and giving expert testimony on the validity of mining claims.

In short, I have kept on studying and practicing Mining Geology, teaching it three years; traveled and studied ore deposits all over the country, much of the time in Government service.

Married Helen Terry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Terry, December 22, 1909, at Socorro, N. Mex. Present business address: General Land Office, Phoenix, Ariz.

GEORGE PLIMPTON ADAMS

Instructor in Philosophy, Lewis Institute, Chicago, Ill., 1904-'06. Graduate student and Assistant in Philosophy, Harvard University, 1906-'07. Assistant Professor and Dean, Lewis Institute, 1907-'08. Instructor in Philosophy, University of California, Berkeley, Cal., 1908-'09; Assistant Professor of Philosophy at same, 1909 to date.

Married Mary Knowles Woodle, daughter of Allan Sheldon Woodle, and Abigail (Tisdale) Woodle, June 30, 1908, at Narberth, Pa. A son, George Plimpton Adams, Jr., born April 27, 1909, at Berkeley, Cal. Present residence: 2427 Prospect St., Berkeley, Cal.

HERBERT LUTHER ADAMS

After leaving college, I went to work in the Bureau of Yards and Docks, Navy Department, as draftsman. In the last of July, 1905, I took a position as inspector and chief draftsman under the same department, at Cavite, P. I. While in Cavite, I made numerous trips to various parts of the Islands. In August, 1907, I asked for indefinite leave of absence and left Manila for China. Went from there to Formosa and Japan, and spent a month in the latter place, visiting the principal cities. I stopped at Singapore, Penang, Columbo, Arden, Port Said, Suez, Naples, Pompeii, Herculaneum, Vesuvius, Rome, Florence, Pisa, Venice, Verona, Padova, Milan, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Germany, and England. June 1, 1908, I landed in New York, after ten months of most interesting travel. I went to work as inspector in the New York Navy Yard, and in June, 1909, was appointed to lay out and inspect the seven hospital buildings at Washington, D. C. Present residence: 3800 14th St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

JOHN WASH ADAMS

*OWEN WILLIAM ALDIS *1903

Owen William Aldis, the son of Owen Franklin Aldis and Leila Reynolds (Houghteling) Aldis, was born October 31, 1879, at Chicago, Ill. He was prepared for college by a private tutor. He entered Harvard with the Class in 1900, being registered as a special student, and withdrew May 15, 1901. The Secretary had no further information of him until he saw the following notice which appeared in the New York Herald for Friday, May 1, 1903:

"Owen William Aldis, only son of Owen F. Aldis, of the real estate firm of Aldis, Aldis & Northcote, of Chicago, died suddenly yesterday afternoon [April 30, 1903] at the Hotel Manhattan. He was twenty-three years old. Mr. Aldis' death was due to blood poisoning, resulting from operations rendered necessary by an abscess in the ear. He was in good health when he left Chicago, April 18, preparatory to embarking on a six months' sojourn in Palestine and the Holy Land, but developed a case of measles after reaching this city.

No serious consequences were apprehended from this illness until the formation of an abscess in each ear caused his father to be summoned East last Monday. His aunt, Mrs. Bryan Lathrop, also came to New York at that time and Arthur T. Aldis followed within a day or two. * * * [Mr. Aldis] had devoted his life to preparing himself for entering the Episcopal ministry. * * * [Since leaving Harvard he] had been a student at the Chicago Theological Seminary. He was widely known in Chicago for his work among the poor."

ROB ROY ALEXANDER

1904-'07, student at Harvard Law School, receiving LL.B. in 1907. 1907-'08, assistant to counsel for Boston Finance Commission. Admitted to New York Bar, March 12, 1907, and to Ohio Bar, June 23, 1908. June 25, 1908, began practice of law at Cleveland, O. May 1, 1909, formed partnership for practice of law with William J. Dawley, Harvard Law School, 1908, under firm name of Alexander and Dawley, and am now practicing as a member of this firm at 619 Williamson Bldg., Cleveland, O. I am a member of the Harvard Club and the University Club of Cleveland. Present residence: 1874 East 81st St., Cleveland, O.

GEORGE MATTHEW ALLEE

My principal job is helping run the home farm at Newell, Ia.; my special study being the working out a type of corn suited to my part of the State. I am President of the Newell Y. M. C. A. in county work plan; and Vice-President of the Iowa State Corn Growers Association, a corn judge and experimenter in corn. Am an occasional speaker. I was appointed delegate from my county to be on the reviewing stand with President Taft at Des Moines, Ia., last fall. Present address: Newell, Ia.

HENRY BYRON ALLEN

Is farming at Cozad, Neb. Present residence address: Box 354, Cozad, Neb.

PAUL HASTINGS ALLEN

Since August, 1904, my life has been one of never-ending study. For the most part of this interim I have been in Italy, with occasional visits in near-lying countries. Three times too I have made visits to America. Now I am located in Leipzig whence I have made a concert tour through Germany with no small degree of success. On January 12, 1910, I received the First Prize in the Paderewski Fund Competition for American Composers. The work is a Symphony in D major for full orchestra. A detailed list of writings, for a music composer, does not seem here requisite. At present engaged in musical composition at Maquay, France.

Married Sue Hailey Scott, June 6, 1907, at Florence, Italy. Permanent address: care of Maquay & Co., Bankers, via Tornabuoni, Florence, Italy.

WILLIAM FREDERICK ALLEN

Left college in February, 1901, on account of poor health. Since then took a course in Harvard Summer School for one summer. Present residence: 134 St. Botolph St., Boston, Mass.

CHARLES EDGAR ANDREWS, JR.

My main job is with the First National Bank of New Bethlehem, Pa., of which I am Vice-President, elected January, 1907. Also devote my time to and am Vice-President of: C. E. Andrews Lumber Company (here); Meadow River Lumber Company (Evenwood, West Va.); Sewell Valley Railroad Company (Meadow Creek, West Va.). Present residence: New Bethlehem, Pa.

THOMAS PLUMMER ANDREWS

JOHN PHILLIP ANSHUTZ

Prepared for Holy Orders at the Church School of the Pacific, San Mato, Cal. In charge of St. Mark's Church, Pueblo, Colo. Missionary-in-charge of St. Clement's, St. Edward the Martyr, and Holy Cross Missions, South Omaha, Neb. At present in charge of a group of twelve frontier missions in Montana with the designation Missionary of Smith River and Musselshell Valleys.

Married Amy Meredyth Woodward, daughter of Charles

Meredyth Woodward and Martha L. MacGlashan Woodward, May 18, 1904, at Lewiston, N. Y. Children: Ruth Woodward Anshutz, born April 16, 1905, at Pueblo, Colo.; Meredyth Anshutz, born November 23, 1907, at Los Angeles, Cal. (Died November 25, 1907); and Esther Woodward Anshutz, born November 24, 1909, at Los Angeles, Cal. Present residence: Grace Church Rectory, White Sulphur Springs, Mont.

FRANCIS LOUIS ARENSBERG

The year 1904-'05 was spent in the Scientific Department of Harvard University after which I started in as a laborer in the pit of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., of Pittsburgh. After four months of work as pit boss I commenced my work on the furnaces as second-helper. After working here for some time, I left and went with the Vulcan Crucible Steel Co., of Aliquippa, and completed my mill work in a little over a year. I then acted as salesman for Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania for a period of about two years.

Leaving the Vulcan Crucible Steel Co., I came to the McCullough-Dalzell Crucible Co., where I am now located in no definite position other than doing all the chemical, drafting and engineering work that comes up, and learning the production end of the crucible business.

Married Florence Marion Dangerfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dangerfield, December 28, 1908, at Pittsburgh, Pa. Present residence: Oakmont, Alleghany Co., Pa.

IRVING MORRILL ATWOOD

Was with New England Telegraph & Telephone Co., during fall and winter of 1904. In June, 1905, went to work for Consolidated Weir Co., 3 T Wharf, Boston, and have been with them ever since.

Married Martha Ames Whitcombe, daughter of Charles Reade and Nellie Louise Whitcombe, June 24, 1908, at Watertown, Mass. Present residence: 28 Hurlbut St., Cambridge, Mass.

EDWARD AUTEN, JR.

Have worked with Auten & Auten, bankers, Princeville, Ill., ever since graduation, becoming a partner of that firm July 6, 1906. My strenuous recreation has been divided between the church organ and choir and the village board of aldermen, on which I am now serving my second term.

Married Alice Louise Chapin, daughter of George Farnsworth and Isabelle Perry Chapin, October 22, 1907, at Saxton's River, Vt. Present residence: Princeville, Ill.

*DANIEL BACON, JR. *1904

Daniel Bacon, Jr., the son of Daniel Bacon and Charlotte Macy (Vantine) Bacon, was born April 1, 1882, at Brooklyn, N. Y. He was prepared for college at the Blake School. He died at Yokohama, Japan, March 6, 1904.

R. S. W.

JOHN BACON

1904-'05, Principal of Lebanon (N. H.) High School. 1905-'06, Instructor in Mathematics at the University School, Louisville, Ky. 1906-'08, Instructor in Mathematics at the Fitchburg (Mass.) High School. From 1908 to the present Superintendent of Schools at Milford, N. H.

Married Mary Lillian Drake, daughter of John O. and Clara M. Drake, November 29, 1905, at Louisville, Ky. Present residence: Milford, N. H.

WILLIAM BADT

Received degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School in June, 1906, and since that time have practiced law in New York City. Business address: 11 Wall St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 415 West 118th St., New York, N. Y.

WILLIAM GOODELL BAER

Summer of 1904, I lived in Cambridge, Mass., doing tutoring for candidates for entrance to Harvard. September, 1904, to June, 1905, I was a graduate student in Harvard University. My course formed a comprehensive survey of dramatic literature in Greece and in periods of dramatic literature in France, Germany, and England. I completed my work for the A.M. degree in June, 1905, but, owing to term bill complications, the degree was not conferred formally until the following winter. In the summer of 1905, I tutored a Groton School lad who lived on Buzzard's Bay, Mass. In the fall of 1905, I entered newspaper work as a "cub reporter" on The North American in Philadelphia, Pa. With the exception of some months in 1906-'07, when I occupied my time with tutoring in Philadelphia and Baltimore, I have served continuously as dramatic and general news reporter on The North American. Present residence: 1819 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

CURTIS PATTERSON BAILEY

Was employed at Pennsylvania R. R. shops at Altoona, Pa., in 1904. In 1905 and part of 1906 cattle ranching at Dubois, Wyo. 1906-'07, with Bethlehem Steel Co., Bethlehem, Pa.; and American Pulley Co., Philadelphia, Pa. In 1908, with Newman & Harris, architects, Philadelphia, Pa. Since 1909, ranching at Fort Garland, Colo., which is his present residence.

ALVIN VORIS BAIRD

Received degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School in 1907. Am practicing law at 49 Wall St., New York, N. Y.

EMERSON WOODS BAKER

Attended Harvard Law School and was graduated in 1907. Married Charleen Dunn Johnson, July 2, 1907, at Fitchburg, Mass. Admitted to Massachusetts Bar, July, 1907. Began work for firm of Baker & Hall, in Fitchburg, Mass. Admitted to firm of Baker & Baker in December, 1907, and have so continued ever since.

Purchased, in February, 1909, old "Baker Homestead" in Lunenburg, Mass., where I was then living. This place has been in family since about 1660, direct male line of Bakers since 1800. A son, Charles Britton Baker, born there on September 22, 1908.

GEORGE ALBERT BAKER, JR.

I have nothing to offer in regard to my life since 1904 except that when I left college I went to work for my father as clerk in his hotel, the Ford House, at Youngstown, O. I then took charge of the culinary department as steward and have been there ever since, assisting also in a managerial way.

Youngstown is a city which is coming fast, and I intend remaining here either in the hotel business or some other line of work similar to that. Present residence: Ford House, Youngstown, O.

EUSTACE HALE BALL

On leaving Cambridge, in June, 1904, I toured the Southwest for two months, and then returned to the University to take up special work in History and Art classes, while working as illustrator for several advertising concerns in Boston. I also corresponded with several Western papers during the next two years, which I spent in Cambridge. In 1906, I went with the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune as Assistant Telegraph Editor, which position I occupied for several months. In the fall of that year I came to New York to accept the position of College Manager of the Electric City Engraving Co., which specializes in class book work for nearly every college and university in the United States. I traveled extensively for this concern. In the following year, 1907, I accepted a position on the Editorial Staff of the Architectural Record, and working for the same company was editor and manager of one of its publications, the Brooklyn Record and Guide. In July, 1908, after a good deal of fiction writing on the side, I launched into the exciting career of a free-lance, in fiction and illustrating. Since then I have managed to keep lupus Americanus out of the front vestibule, and have been engaged mainly in the writing of juvenile stories, under contract, for the Tousey Publishing Company, while I have done a good deal of theatrical and magazine poster work, as well as private portraits and ex libris designs. Am a member of the Harvard Club of New York, The National Order of Friars, the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, and other organizations. Present residence: 23 West 30th St., New York, N. Y.

ARTHUR ATWOOD BALLANTINE

In the fall after graduation, I entered the Harvard Law School, and received the LL.B. degree in 1907. While in the school I served for two years as President of the Prospect Union and for one year as President of the Harvard Coöperative Society, and was elected an editor of the Harvard Law Review. In the Graduates Magazine for September, 1905, I had an article on "Why Should a Student Choose Harvard?" written in the Hill competition. Since leaving the law school, I have been in the office of Gaston, Snow & Saltonstall, of Boston. In 1907 and 1908, I served in the law school as an Instructor in Criminal Law.

Married Helen Bailey Graves, June 19, 1907, at Springfield, Mass. A daughter, Barbara Graves Ballantine, born September 21, 1909. Present residence: 81 Brattle St., Cambridge, Mass.

HARLAN HOGE BALLARD, JR.

I entered Harvard Law School in September, 1904, and was a student there for one year. In September, 1905, I transferred to the Boston University Law School, and completed most of the course in 1906. I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in August, 1906, and soon entered the office of Choate, Hall & Stewart, attorneys, still attending certain lectures at the law school in order to obtain my degree. I graduated with the degree of LL.B. in June, 1907. I remained with Choate, Hall & Stewart until October 1, 1908, at which time I started practice for myself with Clarence G. Campbell as partner, the firm being Ballard & Campbell. In September, 1909, we took Amos R. Little, of Boston, into the firm, and enlarged our offices.

I have not traveled any to speak of, except for two vacations in northern Maine. I am a member of the Boston City Club, and of the First Corps Cadets, M. V. M. Went through the "war game" of 1909—this "war game" might more fitly be called naval manoeuvers, as it rained the entire week.

The only public post I have held has been that of Election Inspector in Ward 11, Boston, for the year 1907-'08.

I am now experiencing the trials (no pun intended!) of the young practitioner at the bar. I have been admitted to practice in the Federal courts as well as the State courts, and find the work very interesting.

Have taken great pleasure in attending any large gathering at Cambridge, and in going to the football and baseball games, as I nearly always meet several 1904 men on such occasions.

Married Alice Whiting Barker, daughter of Mr. Justice James Madison Barker and Mrs. Helena (Whiting) Barker, June 18, 1908, at Pittsfield, Mass. Present residence: 15 Park Vale, Brookline, Mass.

ROBERT FORREST BARBER

Taught in high school from 1903-'07, studying medicine at the same time and receiving degree of M.D. from the Long Island College Hospital in 1908. Served as interne at the same from 1908-'09. Am now preparing to undertake additional hospital work in New York before starting practice. Member of University Club of Brooklyn, N. Y. Present residence: 191 Lefferts Pl., Brooklyn, N. Y.

PIERRE LORILLARD BARBEY

Married Florence Flower, February 6, 1907, at New York, N. Y. A son, Pierre Lorillard Barbey, Jr., born January 4, 1908, at New York, N. Y. Present residence: Tuxedo Park, Tuxedo, N. Y.

CECIL BARNES

I spent the summer of 1904 at Mattapoisett, Mass., and sailed for Europe in November of that year in company with some of my family. We visited Spain, Italy, Egypt, Holy Land, Constantinople, Greece, Germany, Paris, and London. I also took the North Cape trip and returned to America in August, 1905. In September, 1905, I entered the Northwestern University Law School in Chicago, from which I graduated in 1908. I was awarded the Callaghan Prize for Scholarship at Northwestern.

I spent the summer of 1908 abroad with my mother, visiting Italy, Switzerland, Paris, and England, and returned to America in September. In the fall of 1908, I entered the employ of Messrs. Musgrave, Platt & Lee, and am still with them, the firm is now Musgrave & Lee. I was admitted to the bar in Illinois in October, 1908. I am a member of the following clubs in Chicago: Chicago, University, Saddle and Cycle, Literary, City, and Geographic. Present residence: 1150 Dearborn Ave., Chicago, Ill.

MORRIS BARON

In the fall of 1904, I entered, as an advanced student, the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York City, and graduated with the degree of Rabbi in June, 1906. While at the Seminary, I took some post-graduate work in Columbia College, obtaining the A.M. degree in 1905.

Since September, 1906, I have been in charge of the Jewish Reform Congregation of Cumberland, Md. In the fall of 1909 I received an appointment as Instructor in German and History at the Allegany County Academy. These two positions I am still holding.

Married Reine M. Weiner, daughter of Joseph and Rachael Weiner, July, 1904, at Baltimore, Md. Children: Theodore Saul Baron, born October 20, 1906, at Baltimore, Md.; and Ruth Weiner Baron, January 28, 1908, at Cumberland, Md. Present residence: 7 Union St., Cumberland, Md.

WILLIAM GEORGE BARR

Spent one year in the Harvard Law School in final year, coming in 1904 to San Francisco, where I engaged in the real estate business, finishing the law course at Hastings College of the Law, a department of the University of California, taking a B.L. in 1906, at the same time. Organized the Sterling Investment Company in 1905, of which I am Vice-President. Business address: 456 Mills Bldg., San Francisco, Cal. Present residence: 48 Pierce St., San Francisco, Cal.

EDMUND AUGUSTINE BARRY

Of my career since leaving college, I can say nothing worthy of interest. I have held positions with the Central National Bank, Faunce & Spinney, Lynn Evening Schools, and Lynn National Bank, all of Lynn, Mass. At present bookkeeper in Lynn National Bank. Present residence: 23 Tudor St., Lynn, Mass.

FRANCIS VINAL BARSTOW

Upon leaving college, I took a place tutoring Marion Wholey on Edesto Island, So. Ca. The following July, I took another position tutoring the two boys of Mr. J. F. D. Lancer of New York. While thus employed, I traveled in Maine, New Hampshire, and New York. In the fall, we crossed the water and journeyed well over Europe, returning the following July. During the summers following, I tutored the sons of F. H. Appleton, of Proctor's Crossing, Mass.; John Wyeth, of St. Joseph, Mo., and J. Knowles, of New Bedford, Mass. During the school terms I attended Law School at Harvard obtaining my LL.B. last June. Since July, I have been with Storey, Thorndike, Palmer & Thayer, attorneys-at-law, Room 735, Exchange Bldg., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 19 Putnam Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

HUGH BARTLETT

I started work in September, 1903, having completed my college course in three years. My first job was as a clerk with the firm of Harris, Gates & Co., on the Chicago Board of Trade. I stayed there until March, 1904; and in May of that year bought a membership on the Board of Trade and took a position on a telephone used in transmitting grain orders from the office to the Pits. The firm of Counselman & Stream, with whom I was employed on the above job went out of business in September, 1904; and, after doing general brokerage work, I located, in February, 1905, with the United Grain Co. I remained with them a year and they too dissolved, letting me out. The grain trade was extremely dull and I couldn't make a living, so in April, 1906, I went into the office of President F. A. Delano of the Wabash R. R. From there, I went to their local freight office in July, 1906, into the freight yards in November, 1906, where I stayed until March, 1908. I was at that time living away from home near the yards and the illness of my mother made it necessary for me to come home. So I threw up that job and in April, 1908, I took a temporary position as a reporter for the F. W. Dodge Co., building and construction reports. I hated the work and in August, 1908, quit very suddenly. I still had my ticket on the Board of Trade and in September, 1908, took a telephone position on Exchange with Hurlburt, Warren & Chandler, relieving a man who was on a vacation. I left there in October, 1908, to become trader in the corn pit for the Updike Commission Co., 530 Postal Bldg., Chicago, and have been with them in that capacity ever since. Present residence: 2739 Pine Grove Ave., Chicago, Ill.

THOMAS PARKMAN BATTELLE

When I left college at the end of my Sophomore year, I traveled in Europe with my brother. The following fall, I got a position with George S. Baldwin Co., a brokerage firm, where I remained two years. Then I went with Mackay & Co., a bond house. Both were Boston firms. After leaving there, I went with Wrenn Bros & Co., brokers, 24 Broad St., New York, N. Y., where I am at present.

Married Mary Gittings Gillet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Gillet, of Baltimore, Md., October 5, 1908, at West New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y. Present residence: 4 West 47th St., New York, N. Y.

FRANK ROBERT BAUER

Shortly after leaving college, I became associated with the National Tube Co., of Lorain, Ohio. I left this firm three months later to satisfy a craving I possessed for the oil fields of Oklahoma, but a few months in that country cured me of wanting to live there. I came to Detroit, Mich., in the fall of 1905 and have been located here since, always connected with the automobile business. For six months I was with the Ford Motor Co., manufacturers of automobiles; three years with Holley Bros. Co., manufacturers of carburetors and magnetos; and the past six months with the Chalmers Motor Co., manufacturers of the "Chalmers 30" and "Chalmers 40."

I am a member of the Harvard Club of Michigan and the Fellowcraft Club of Detroit. Present residence: 99 Willis Ave., West Detroit, Mich.

THOMAS PRINCE BEAL, JR.

On October 1, 1904, I started to work as a clerk in the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., Boston, bankers and brokers, where I remained until September, 1907. I then went to Minneapolis, Minn., where I worked as a clerk in the Northwestern National Bank. Upon my return in June, I took a three months trip through Europe, and then took the position of Assistant Cashier in the Second National Bank of Boston, on September 1, 1908. In April, 1909, I was elected a director. I continue to live at 36 Gloucester St., Boston, my father's home.

ELTON HOLMES BEALS

Completed course in Harvard Law School which I had begun in September, 1903, and received degree of LL.B. from there in June, 1906. Entered office of law firm of Bissell Carey & Cooke, Buffalo, N. Y., afterwards succeeded by Kenefick, Cooke, Mitchell & Bass, 558 Ellicott Square, Buffalo, N. Y., and have been with same firm ever since. Admitted to New York Bar in January, 1907.

Married Ella Cropper Gaylord, daughter of Rev. Eber William Gaylord and Annie (Foulk) Gaylord, September 5, 1907, at Brickerville, Lancaster Co., Pa. Present residence: 499 Bird Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

WILLIAM EVARTS BEAMAN

Lawyer, who is reported by his uncle, a lawyer at 100 William St., New York City, to be at Seattle, Washington, care University Club.

RALPH CARLETON BEAN

The year immediately following June, 1904, I remained at Clinton, Me., owing to the health of my parents. The following September, I became vice-principal and science teacher at Bridgton Academy, No. Bridgton, Me. I served in that capacity till June, 1906. That summer I was at Cambridge attending Summer School. The following September, I became teacher of Physics and Chemistry in Wakefield (Mass.)

High School, which position I have held since. I was back at Summer School during the summer of 1908 also. Present residence: 18 Richardson Ave., Wakefield, Mass.

VINCENT VAN MARTER BEEDE

From June, 1904, to September, 1905, resident tutor, after traveling abroad with the family. Wrote miscellany. Music for two operettas written in this period is now being composed by Arthur H. Ryder, of Providence, R. I., who has published. 1905-'06, First-Year Seminarist at the Episcopal School, Cambridge, Mass.; also took a course in Philosophy at Harvard College. 1906-'08, Middler and Senior Seminarist, at the General Seminary, Chelsea Square, New York City. March-May, 1908, in the country, trying to get up canonical examinations. Feast of Sts. Augustine of Canterbury and Philip Neri of Newark, May 26. 1909, ordered to the Diaconate by the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Newark, at The House of Prayer, Newark, N. J. In this Parish I had been serving as Lay Reader since October, 1908. June, 1908,-May, 1909, Deacon-Curate at the House of Prayer. May 15, 1909, received the Priesthood at the Hands of the Right Rev. the Bishop of Newark, at the House of Prayer. To November, 1909, Priest-Curate at the House of Prayer. November 17, 1909, went to St. Barnabas' Hospital, Newark, for five weeks of mild typhoid, with complications. November 7, 1909, resigned from the Curacy of The House of Prayer, against my own wishes and that of the Rector, the Rev. Fr. J. S. Miller. November 7, 1909, consented to be recommended to the Curacy of St. John's and St. Luke's Chapels, of Trinity Parish, New York City, by the new Vicar, the Rev. Canon Schlueter, of All Saints' Cathedral, Albany, N. Y., with the proviso that my health be restored by January 1, 1910, the date when I am supposed to take duty. My name has already been accepted by the Rector of Trinity Parish. At present writing, December 3, 1909, I am in a farmhouse at Irenia, N. J., with hopes of recovering slowly. Present residence: 49 State St., Newark, N. J.

ARTHUR WILLIAM BELCHER

Taught 1904-'05, at home in Plymouth (Mass.) High School; 1905-'06, at Summit, (N. J.) High School; and 1906-'09, at Fairhaven (Mass.) High School. Am at present teaching Mathematics at Cooper Union, New York City and earning an M.A. (which I will receive in June, 1910) at Teachers' College, Columbia. Present residence: 10 St. Nicholas Terrace, New York, N. Y.

ANSON WOOD BELDING

Since leaving college, I have had three positions, each in educational work. In 1904-'05, I taught in a private day school at Morristown, N. J. For the four years following, I was Principal of the high school at Simsbury, Conn. In the fall of 1909 I became Principal of Stevens High School, Claremont, N. H., where I am now located. I traveled in Europe during the summer of 1906.

Married Mary Allison Miller (A.B., Mt. Holyoke, 1905), daughter of John Louis Miller and Mary Hollenbeck Miller, January 1, 1908, at Buffalo, N. Y. A son, Harwood Seymour Belding, born May 22, 1909, at Simsbury, Conn. Present residence: 59 Woodland St., Claremont, N. H.

EDWARD BELL

Since graduating in 1904, I have spent most of my time in travel and study in Europe and the near East. I spent part of the winters of 1904-'05 and 1907-'08 in New York, and was also home on a visit in the spring of 1909. I have traveled extensively in Europe and North Africa and have lived for a time in Paris and Florence. I was appointed Deputy Consul-General at Cairo, Egypt, July, 1909, and Vice-Consul-General in November, 1909, which position I now hold, with headquarters at the American Diplomatic Agency and Consulate-General, Cairo, Egypt.

Married Gertrude Mayo Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Duncan Wood, June 22, 1904, at Islip, L. I., N. Y. Present residence: Glezireh, Cairo, Egypt.

WILLIAM HARRIS LAIRD BELL

After graduation, studied law at University of Chicago Law School and received the degree of LL.B. there. Since then have been with Matz, Fiske & Boyden, attorneys-at-law, 107 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., since January 1, 1910, as a member of the firm.

Married Nathalie Fairbank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Kellogg Fairbank, November 11, 1909, at Hubbard Woods, Ill. Present residence: 21 East Walton Pl., Chicago, Ill.

JOHN BENTON BELLAMY

Is traveling Pacific Coast representative of the Hazel-Atlas Glass Co., Wheeling, W. Va. Permanent address: 795 St. Nicholas Ave., New York, N. Y.

AUGUST BELMONT, JR.

Left New York for a trip round the world in August, 1904, with U. A. Murdock, '04, joining Pierre Lorillard, '04, en route, and arriving back in New York in June, 1905. Entered the firm of August Belmont & Co., bankers, 23 Nassau St., New York, N. Y., as a clerk, in the fall of 1905. January 1, 1910, I became a member of that firm.

Married Alice Wall de Goicouria, January 25, 1906, at New York, N. Y. Children: Bessie Morgan Belmont, born February 23, 1907; and August Belmont, 3d, December 30, 1908; both in New York City. Present residence: 46 East 34th St., New York, N. Y.

AVERY LOWELL BENNETT

Spent the summer of 1904, in a boys' camp at Long Lake, Me.; took position in fall as teacher at Milton Academy, where I stayed two years as teacher of Latin and Music. Spent both summer of 1905, and 1906, in Camp Pasquaney as counsellor. In fall of 1906, I went to Cheshire School, Cheshire, Conn., to teach History and Classics, with full charge of athletics. Then for two years I was associated with Dr. R. J. Mulford in founding Ridgefield School. Left there in 1909 to assume present position as teacher of Latin and Assistant Head Master at Manor School, Stamford, Conn., which is my present residence address.

My only traveling of note was in the summer of 1909, when with a small party of men and women I camped through the Selkirk Mountains of British Columbia. The party were studying the ecological botany of the region. Some very interesting discoveries were made regarding the topography and plants.

HAROLD HOTCHKISS BENNETT

In July, 1904, my work began with the Miller & Franklin Co., business economists and systematizers. My experience was varied and I was sent on system installation to factories, foundries, and mills in all parts of New England. In April, 1905, Pioche, Nev., was the scene of my activities; and for five months I had an exceedingly interesting life in a mining camp. In September I returned to New England again, but was sent to Toronto until the destruction of the factory there caused the suspension of systematizing operations. In July, 1907, I was sent to Pioche again as General Manager of the Boston and Pioche Mining Company. Here I gained much valuable experience and many pleasant memories of outdoor life in lands that are new and unfinished. In January, 1908, my affairs necessitated my coming East and undertaking my present work as Superintendent of the Morley Button Manufacturing Co., Portsmouth, N. H. I have lived in the "Ancient City by the Sea" since that time, save for a vacation trip to California and the Grand Cañon in 1908, and a two months trip to Europe in the summer of 1909.

Engaged to be married to Susan Breck Farwell, daughter of George N. Farwell and Anna Grosvenor Farwell, June 22, 1910, at Claremont, N. H. Present residence: 41 Middle St., Portsmouth, N. H.

*HOLLAND BENNETT *1909

Holland Bennett, the son of Josiah Quincy Bennett and Jennie (Holland) Bennett, was born December 15, 1881, at Cambridge, Mass. He was prepared for college at the Cambridge Latin School from which he graduated in 1900. While there he was in his last year editor of the school paper, The Review, one of the best school papers known. He also took a prominent part in debating.

Mr. Bennett entered college with the Class in 1900 and received the A.B. degree, cum laude, with the Class in 1904. His Senior year was, however, spent in the Law School, from which he graduated with the degree of LL.B. in 1906.

During his college career Bennett was Business Editor of the Lampoon, a member of the Cambridge Latin School Club, of the Christian Association, of Class Debating Clubs, of the Harvard Union, and a zealous and devoted member of Pi Eta. During Senior year he successfully managed the Pi Eta Show. While in the Law School he was a member of the Smith Law Club. He was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar after his second year, on August 18, 1905.

After leaving the Law School in 1907, Bennett was taken as a partner in the law firm of Forbush & Bennett, 53 State St., Boston, Mr. F. Forbush having employed him as a law clerk during the two preceding summers.

On May 12, 1909, Bennett married Lucetta Avrill Upham, daughter of Harry Thomas Upham and Eliza Colby Upham, at Cambridge, Mass. They went abroad for their honeymoon, and just at the end of this wedding trip, while they were on the S. S. Berlin, between Genoa and Naples, on June 10, 1909, Bennett was lost at sea.

In spite of the fact that he was a Cambridge townsman, Bennett was widely known in college, and widely liked. The intimacy of his fellowship, however, was reserved to a few of his close friends, largely mates in Pi Eta, who knew well and valued highly his ability, his energy, and his loyalty; and also shared with the larger circle of acquaintances the enjoyment of his good nature and cleverness. The tragedy of his sudden death only makes more keen the grief of his friends, who predicted for him a useful and prosperous career.

R. S. W.

IRVING LOUIS BENNING

I have spent most of the past six years in study. I have been and at present am interested in the cut flower and potted plant business, but not very extensively, and it is claiming but a small portion of my time.

Five or six years ago I took an active interest in politics. I was nominated for City Clerk of the city of St. Joseph, Mich., on the Republican ticket, but was defeated by the Democratic candidate.

I have written a number of papers during the last six years on various subjects both economic and literary, among which are the following: "Tendencies in Society;" "Do Modern Business Methods Impede Literary Production;" "The Compromise between Capital and Labor;" "Law Versus Anarchy;" "The Logic of Progress and Poverty;" "The Essence of Poetry and Present Day Tendencies in Literature." Aside from this, I have written a three act drama, "The Masses and the Classes." At present I am engaged in writing a novel. Present residence: 920 Broad St., St. Joseph, Mich.

EDWIN FRANCIS BENSON

Although I had two and one-half courses to pass for my A.B. degree, I did not return to college the following year, as I obtained a teaching position in the Ballou and Hobigand School in Boston. I remained there two years, and then took the examinations for the high school service in Boston. Having passed these successfully I was appointed to my present position, Junior Master of English High School, Boston, which I have held for the past four years. During the summer of 1908, I attended the Summer School, and last year I took a seminary course in Education. I have remaining a single course which I shall probably work off this summer.

Married Grace McDermott, daughter of Michael McDermott and Elizabeth McDermott, June 24, 1907, at Boston, Mass. Present residence: 32 Lorraine St., Roslindale, Mass.

HARRY BERGSON

Received degree of LL.B. from Harvard Law School in June, 1906. Am plugging away steadily at 61 Court St., Boston, trying to make both ends meet and trying to convince myself that some day I really will be a lawyer.

Married Augusta Cooks, daughter of Herman Cooks and Hannah Cooks, June 26, 1906, at Dorchester, Mass. A son, Herbert A. Bergson, born January 14, 1909, at Dorchester. Present residence: 24 Nixon St., Dorchester, Mass.

HARRY SAUL BERNSTEIN

In the fall of 1904, I entered the Harvard Medical School, from which I obtained the degree of M.D. in June, 1908. During my medical course, I was Instructor in English in the Boston Evening Schools. From June 15, '08 to November 22, '09, I served as interne in the medical and pathological service of the Boston City Hospital. The summer of 1906, I spent abroad, touring Germany, France, and Switzerland. An article of mine, "Medicine in the Bible," appeared in the February issue of the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal of the present year. Since leaving the Boston City Hospital, I have been following up the laboratory side of medicine. Am Assistant Pathologist at Bender Hygienic Laboratory, Albany, N. Y.; and Instructor in Pathology and Bacteriology at the Albany Medical College. Present residence: 119 Manning Blvd., Albany, N. Y.

LEICESTER THEODORE BERNSTEIN

Came to New York October, 1903, and started to learn manufacturing business. Learned the business step by step until finally I was given a partnership, and now if my classmates' children buy their dresses in stores, I will be the indirect means of clothing them. Have remained in New York steadily only visiting the near-by States occasionally, so have not broadened much historically. Have become a member of the City Athletic Club, but am not doing anything in the athletic line. My time is so much taken up by my business, that I have done no writing and politics knows me not. I am still single, a bit more serious than formerly and that is about all. Present residence: 175 West 72d St., New York, N. Y.

HAROLD HAIL BERRY

From February, 1904, to December, 1904, I was a clerk at the Bankers' Trust Co. of New York City, leaving to become bond clerk at Post & Flagg, bankers and brokers, of New York City. This firm I left in February, 1909, to go to the Bitter Root Valley, in Montana, with several classmates to establish fruit (apple) ranches. Leaving Montana in November of 1909, I returned to the East and finally accepted a position as bond salesman with Farson, Son & Co., 21 Broad St., New York, N. Y. I am a member of the Harvard Club of New York and of Squadron A, N. G. N. Y. Present residence: The Royalton, 44th St., New York, N. Y.

STANLEY AUSTIN BERRY

After graduation from Harvard College, I entered Harvard Law School and received the degree of LL.B. in 1906.

Began the practice of law in Providence, R. I., where I was associated with George H. Huddy, Jr. and Robert S. Emerson. In March, 1909, on the retirement of Judge Charles C. Mumford from the bench, I became associated with the firm of Mumford, Huddy & Emerson, and am with them at the present time.

During the summer of 1909 I traveled in England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, and Holland. Present residence: 137 Elmwood Ave., Providence, R. I.

WELLINGTON MAYBEURY BERTOLET

Having completed work for my A.B. degree in 1903, I spent the following year in the Law School. In July, 1904, I returned to my home city, Reading, Pa., and became a law student in the offices of Baer, Snyder & Zieber. After two years study I was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, since which time I have actively practiced law in Reading, Pa. Office at 520 Washington St. In October, 1908, I became one of the two editors and owners of the Berks County Law Journal, a weekly legal periodical containing reports of cases decided by the courts of Berks County.

Married Helen Fletcher Jones, daughter of Frederick S. Jones and Alice Krueger Jones, September 25, 1907. Present residence: 1541 Mineral Spring Rd., Reading, Pa.

LLOYD WHARTON BICKLEY

*HAMILTON STORRS BIGELOW *1901

Hamilton Storrs Bigelow, the son of Allen Gilman Bigelow and Genevieve Dayton (Boyce) Bigelow, was born October 24, 1880, at Buffalo, N. Y. He was prepared for college at Phillips Exeter Academy. While there he was Class Poet.

Bigelow was instantly killed by being run over by a fire engine at the corner of Quincy Street and Broadway, Cambridge, on the night of June 11, 1901. He was on his way with a crowd of students to a fire which had broken out in a large pile of timber in front of the new Robinson Hall.

Bigelow, though cut off thus in his Freshman year, had shown promise of a successful college life. He had already contributed to the Lampoon and written the song for the Class dinner.

ELIOT BOARDMAN

Is a Professor in the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kan.

CLARENCE SMITH BODFISH

After leaving Harvard in 1903, I entered the office of the Assabet Mills (American Woolen Co.) at Maynard, Mass., where I stayed three years. I then went into the Boston office of the American Woolen Co. In December, 1906, I came to Providence, R. I., to learn the business of manufacturing woolen and worsted goods at the Weybosset Mills (American Woolen Co.) where I am at present.

Married Florence Frances Haynes, daughter of Alfred Thompson Haynes and Emma Kendall (Smith) Haynes January 14, 1908, at Maynard, Mass. A son, Clarence Haynes Bodfish, born December 14, 1908, at Providence, R. I. Present residence: 40 Dexter St., Providence, R. I.

MATTHEW BOLLES

Insurance broker with F. G. Macomber, 51 Wall St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: The Royalton, 44 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

HENRY HERRICK BOND

The last year in college was spent in Law School work, which was completed in June, 1906. Two summers' work in the office of Whipple, Sears & Ogden, 831 Tremont Bldg., Boston, led to a connection with that firm which has been most pleasantly continued to date. The work is the broadest sort of general law practice.

Married Delcie June Barnes, daughter of George Foster Barnes and Mary Fiske Barnes, September 3, 1908, at Waltham, Mass. Present residence: 254 Linden St., Waltham, Mass.

RICHARD CARLETON BOURNE

Since the fall of 1903, I have been employed by The Bourne-Fuller Co., iron and steel merchants, of Cleveland, O., in various office positions; during the first three years and for the last three years as city salesman, which position I now occupy. About a year ago I was elected Secretary of The Bourne & Knowles Manufacturing Co., a small but long-established concern engaged in the manufacture of cold pressed nuts, rivets, washers, copper gaskets, etc. To this company I have devoted only a small percentage of my time.

My travels have been very limited; one, into Canada, down the St. Lawrence River to Halifax, N. S.; the other through the southeastern part of our own country. At present I am a member of the Union, University, and Mayfield Hunt Club. Present residence: 2163 East 40th St., Cleveland, O.

RALPH WILSON BOURNE

Received the degree of A.M. from Harvard in 1905 and the degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School in 1907. Is reported to be living at Bourne, Mass., and practicing law there.

JOHN THOMAS BOWEN

I was Principal of the high school at Columbus, Ga., until I began the study of medicine at the University of Pennsylvania. Since my graduation there I have been practicing in Philadelphia.

Married Elizabeth Townsend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Townsend, November 17, 1909, at Philadelphia, Pa. Present residence: 4343 Baltimore Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

WALTER RUSSELL BOWIE

In the fall of 1904, I went to the Hill School in Pottstown, Pa.—from which school I had gone to Harvard in 1900—and taught there during the season ending June, 1905. In September, 1905, I entered the Theological Seminary of the Diocese of Virginia, at Alexandria, Va., and studied there till graduation and ordination in June, 1908, with a break of several months in the fall of 1907, and the winter of 1908, when, by special leave of absence from the Virginia Seminary, I studied at Union Seminary, New York City.

In the summer of 1908, I went abroad with C. W. Gilkey, Harvard, '03, and R. C. Falconer, a Dartmouth man, both graduates of Union Seminary. We sailed from Boston, July 4, on the S.S. "Republic," landed in Liverpool, bought bicycles there, and in the two months following rode through England and Scotland; and—having sailed from Edinburgh to Rotterdam—through Holland, Belgium, and Northern France to Paris. September 16, I sailed from Cherbourg for New York; and on October 3, took active charge of the parish at Greenwood, Albemarle Co., Va. There, with four churches to look after, I have been sufficiently busy ever since.

On September 29, 1909, I was married at Buffalo, N. Y., to Jean Laverack, daughter of George E. Laverack and Mary R. Laverack. F. W. Bird, '04; Roy Wallace, '04; Kingman Robins, '04; H. C. Laverack, '99; and W. H. Laverack, '01; were the Harvard men in the wedding party. Present residence: Greenwood, Va.

KRISTIE IVANOFF BOYADJIEFF

After leaving college, was with Houghton, Mifflin & Co., publishers, Cambridge, Mass. Not heard from recently. Former address, 24 Bigelow St., Cambridge, Mass., does not reach him.

CHARLES BURNET BRADLEY

The first three years after graduation I passed at the Harvard Law School, and made trips to Europe in the summers. After graduating there in June, 1907, I went to Europe and remained there until January, 1908—principally in Italy. I returned to my home in New Jersey, was admitted to the bar in June, 1908, and have since been practicing law with an office with Messrs. Collins & Corbin, 243 Washington St., Jersey City, N. J. The greater part of the year I live in the country near Morristown, N. J., although my legal residence is 18 James St., Newark, N. J. I am Assistant-Judge-Advocate-General of the State of New Jersey, by Commission dated November 21, 1908.

LEVERETT BRADLEY

October, '04 to April, '05, abroad as traveling companion, followed by a year in the Mass. Forest Service. Worked in various capacities in Maine lumber operations with an intervening trip to Europe in 1907 until January, 1909, when a change of occupation became necessary on account of health. Traveling since then. Present residence: 20 Brimmer St., Boston, Mass.

WILL BRADLEY

Is in business at 365 Metropolitan Tower, New York, N. Y.

GERALD ARTHUR BRAMWELL

Have been in the banking business ever since I left college, and am at present manager of the branch office of Chisholm & Chapman, 18 Wall St., New York, N. Y., members of the New York Stock Exchange. Travels have been confined to this country and a trip to Havana, Cuba. Honors, degrees, writings and public posts have I none.

Married Emily Faithful Ames, daughter of Minor T. Ames and Irene C. Ames, October 23, 1909, at Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass. Present residence: 901 Lexington Ave., New York, N. Y.

JOHN VICTOR JUDAH BRANDON

I left Harvard College in June, 1903, at the end of my Junior year without my degree and with no college honors. I published no writings while in college beyond those incident to my candidacy for the board of the Harvard Monthly. I "made" the Monthly shortly before I resigned from the University. Immediately after returning to Indianapolis, I went into the service of the German Fire Insurance Company, with whom I stayed until 1908. In November of that year, I resigned my position as adjuster and agency superintendent for the "German" and went into the general insurance business for myself. In March, 1909, I made a connection with Mr. Wm. H. Stafford, who is now my associate in the firm of Brandon & Stafford, general insurance agents and brokers. Lemcke Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

I was married on December 15, 1909, to Muriel Hitt, of Indianapolis, daughter of George C. Hitt and Elizabeth B. Hitt. I belong at present to the University Club of Indiana and the Indianapolis Country Club. Present residence: 4 Wildwood Terrace, Indianapolis, Ind.

HARRY DORMITZER BRANDYCE

Went abroad in July, 1904; returning in August, 1904. Employed August 21, 1905, as assistant secretary to Arthur Mills, '72, Vice-President and General Manager of Merchants Despatch Transportation Co., New York City. Left January 21, 1907. June 6, 1907, became treasurer of Merwin Clayton Sales Co., New York City. Resigned October 6, 1908. May 4, 1909, took present position with Ball & Whicher, members of New York Stock Exchange, 111 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Member of City Club and Harvard Club of New York City. Present residence: 27 East 74th St., New York, N. Y.

THOMAS BRENNAN

I entered the Law School and also settlement work evenings after Junior year. The next two years after Commencement I worked at both; getting my degree of LL.B. besides putting in nearly half of the year's time with boys' clubs at the Ellis Memorial Club and the Executive Committee of the old South End Athletic League. After Law School, I practiced law with the firm of Powers & Hall in Boston and continued to do social work evenings and during my summer vacation. I had been in practice but five weeks when I had the misfortune of being hurt in a street car smash. The sight of one eye was permanently injured beyond help of glasses or use for study or reading. The other eye has not been affected very seriously as yet.

In June, 1908, I gave up the law and began wholly social work at the Jacob Riis House in New York. And after a year there I returned to Boston as headworker in the club I had put so many years into. I may say the Harvard Alumni Association got me the job at Riis House without my suggestion, and influenced my change from law to social work. My law work had been increasing and I had no idea of changing when the offer from Mr. Riis was given to me.

Married Mary Helen Lowe, daughter of Henry Nathaniel Lowe and Mary Dixon Lowe, September 15, 1908, at Marion, Mass. Present residence: 429 Brookline Ave., Boston, Mass.

PERCY WILLIAMS BRIDGMAN

Continued in the Graduate School at Harvard, obtaining a Ph.D. in Physics in 1907. Since then have continued the same research in the Jefferson Physical Laboratory, my official standing being "Fellow for Research in Physics." Have also done a slight amount of teaching, three or four hours a week. Several small papers of technical interest on subjects connected with my research, various effects of high pressures, have been published by the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. Present residence: 507 Craigie Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

FREDERICK GUNN BRINSMADE

On leaving college at the end of Junior year with my course completed, I began teaching at the Gunnery School, Washington, Conn., of which my father is the Principal. I have been in the same position ever since, being now at the head of the Mathematical Department and Assistant to the Principal. During my vacations I have made two trips to the Island of Jamaica, to Colon, Costa Rica, and the Republic of Colombia. I am a member of the Harvard Club of Connecticut and the Litchfield County University Club. Present residence: The Gunnery, Washington, Conn.

Resigned in April, 1906; returned to Boston, and entered the employ of Stone & Webster, engineers, where I worked before going to Tampa, Fla., for the same firm as an accountant on a power plant construction job. Returned to Boston for three months and then went to Dallas, Tex., for the same firm to act as assistant to the resident consulting engineer on the construction of the Sherman-Dallas Interurban Ry. for the Texas Traction Co., which is the largest interurban in the Southwest. Am now at Houston, Tex., with the Stone & Webster Co., on the construction of the Galveston-Houston Interurban Ry. Present residence: Houston, Tex.

LEONARD CARPENTER

Upon graduation, I became a cub reporter on the Colorado Springs Gazette which position I held with more or less honor until June, 1905, when I entered the employ of the General Electric Company, being on the engineering and testing staff of the Pittsfield (Mass.) works. In November, 1906, I accepted the position of assistant to the electrical engineer of the Central Colorado Power Co., with head offices in Colorado Springs. On January 1, 1909, I opened a consulting and construction engineering office; but, while on a trip to the Northwest, I became enthusiastic about fruit-growing; and, perceiving an excellent opening in Medford, Ore., in the Rogue River Valley, I purchased ninety acres of orchard, and, with my brother Alfred S. V. Carpenter, '05, am now enjoying life and rapidly making The Veritas Orchard worthy. I have traveled much in this, our own country, since June, 1904, but you are all familiar with the East and to try to tell of the West would only shame my command of our language. Present residence: Veritas Orchard, Medford, Ore.

LAURENCE PROCTOR CARR

*WILLIAM FRANCIS CASTELLO *1903

William Francis Castello, the son of Bartholomew John Castello and Mary Agnes (Coogan) Castello, was born December 27, 1879, at Springfield, Mass. He was prepared for college at the Boston Latin School. He stayed at Harvard only one year. He died January 6, 1903, at Pittsfield, Mass.

R. S. W.

FRED WAYNE CATLETT

In 1905, I returned to Cambridge in attendance on the Harvard Law School, completing my course in 1907 and receiving the degree of LL.B. In June of 1905, I received the degree of A.M. from Harvard and was appointed Assistant in Government 1 under Professor Lowell where I served the remaining two years of my law school course. I value that experience most highly. In 1907, I made my only trial for a Varsity debating team and became a member of the second team against Yale. Pressure of work forced me to resign before the debate. I also served as a member of the Debating Council during this year. In 1907, I won the Toppan Prize of $150 for an essay on "Government and Parties in Japan." In June of the same year I passed the Massachusetts Bar examinations.

September 14, 1907, I was married in Cambridge to Florence Gertrude Chase, daughter of Dr. Henry Everett Chase and Lucy Bassett Chase; and one week later started for Seattle, Wash., where I am located at present in the practice of law at 415 New York Bldg. During all of this time, with the exception of four months, I have been practicing alone. For four months I was junior member of the firm of Siegfriedt & Catlett, but the partnership was dissolved by mutual consent and Mr. Siegfriedt went into another line of business. While practicing alone, I have been associated with the firm of A. C. & R. W. Emmons, of Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore. A daughter, Dorothea Lucile Catlett, was born May 12, 1910. Present residence: 6011 First Ave., N. E. Seattle, Wash.

ELBRIDGE GERRY CHADWICK

After graduating in June, 1904, I went to Manàos, Brazil, where I worked for a year and a half in the rubber trade. In November, 1905, I returned to New York and entered the real estate office of Douglas Robinson, C. S. Brown Co., 146 Broadway, where I am still working. Present residence: 571 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

HAROLD CANNING CHAPIN

I have been doing research and assistant work in the Harvard Chemical Laboratory since graduation. I received an A.M. in June, 1905, and hope for a Ph.D. next June. Present residence: 97 Lake View Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

IRA T CHAPMAN

I attended the Harvard Graduate School one year, receiving the degree of A.M. in June, 1905. I became Superintendent of Schools of the Huntington (Mass.) LAURENCE MURRAY CROSBIE

My Senior year I spent in Exeter as Instructor in English, and have been here ever since. Since 1903-'04, I have been once to California, and once to Europe—my second trip there. In the spring of 1907, I lost all of my beloved books and penates in a fire; but after a few weeks in the hospital, my body resumed its usual functions, so I forgive the elements for destroying the rest. I am trying especially aside from my work in English, to put the life of the younger boys in the academy on an ideal basis both for their minds and for their bodies. I live as resident Instructor in a hall with fifty boys. My chief out-of-door delights are golf and shooting.

I am a member of the Association of New England Colleges and Preparatory Schools, of the Harvard Teachers' Association, of the New England Teachers' Association. I am also a member of the Renaissance Club of Exeter, and of the Koruthos Club of Exeter.

Married Helen Mason, daughter of Dr. Robert Mason, July 5, 1909, at Exeter, N. H. Present residence: Exeter, N. H.

Have had no time to do anything in politics, except vote; or for club life. While in Baltimore was a member of the Maryland Athletic Club and played on the football team, and was on the track teams. The next year, was made authorized official by the football rules committee and have been one ever since. While in Hagerstown, member of Conococheagus Club. Have had no time for social affairs since I came to Cumberland. Was head coach of Allegany Academy football and baseball teams, seasons of 1908 and 1909.

Married Katharine Edna Mason, daughter of Harry H. Mason and Jennie Mason, August 27, 1906, at Roxbury, Mass. Present residence: 28 Washington St., Cumberland, Md.

LAWRENCE GREEN DODGE

I spent the summer of 1904 in the country recuperating from an illness that during my Senior year came near keeping me away from college the second half-year. In the fall I entered the College of Agriculture, at Cornell, as a Junior in the regular undergraduate work. At the middle of the year I became a Senior, and in June, 1905, received the degree of B.S.A. from Cornell. July 1, 1905, I entered the Bureau of Plant Industry, Washington, D. C., as a Scientific Assistant in Agronomy under the Agriculturist, where I have been employed ever since.

In the fall of 1905 I registered at Cornell University as a non-resident graduate student, and in June, 1907, was given a Master's degree, M.S.A. Every year since I have been in the Department of Agriculture I have traveled from six to ten months, conducting field investigations in Farm Management as a member of the office known by that name. This involves the study of various general agricultural problems, especially those of the district to which I have been continually assigned, namely, New York and the New England States. I now have three assistants in my work in these States. Aside from this assignment, I have been studying the methods employed in the production of the white potato crop, especially in the Northern States. This work has taken me into most of the United States, all except some of the Rocky Mountain and Pacific States.

I have published one bulletin of the series known as Farm- ers' Bulletins of the Department on this subject. Also published previously one Farmers' Bulletin and one bulletin of the Bureau of Plant Industry, each dealing with the production of crops for the feeding of dairy cattle in the Northeastern States. The same sort of work is likely to continue for a time yet, even though more interesting than remunerative.

Married Alice Ware Cole, daughter of Samuel Cole and Mary E. Cole, September 14, 1908, at Beverly, Mass. Since then have been making my home in Washington in the winter, and various places in the country during the summer where I am obliged to travel the most. Post office address: U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

ALBERT PRESCOTT DOE

On graduating from Harvard, I spent some months in a vain search for some school committee anxious to employ a "green teacher." Failing pro tem. in this, I went to work with the Derryfield Mfg. Co., of Manchester, N. H. Here, for three months, I "filled blinds," that is, strung the shades and nailed the blind up. From there I was promoted to the office, where my official title was "order clerk."

In March, 1905, I was appointed to my first school in Epping, N. H., a town of fifteen hundred people. I taught there until a year from the next June. In September, 1906, I went to Ansonia, Conn., to become master of a twelve room grammar school. I remained in Ansonia only one year. The following fall, September, 1907, I took up my present position as Supervising Principal of District Number 5, in the city of Pawtucket, R. I. I have been here nearly three years, have received more or less commendation from my Superintendent and feel that I have "made good" in my chosen field of work. Present residence: Y. M. C. A. Bldg., Pawtucket, R. I.

GILMAN CORSON DOLLEY

After leaving Cambridge, I went to New Orleans and Baton Rouge, La., where I attended the University of the State, the Sugar School, until the last of October. I then returned to Philadelphia and entered the Sophomore class of the Medico-Chirurgical College. Here I was for two years Assistant Demonstrator of Bacteriology, while taking the course. Spent the summer of 1906 in the island of Cape Breton. In 1907, I graduated as M.D. and secured appointment as interne to the Medico-Chirurgical College Hospital of Philadelphia where I served a full term, one year. I spent the summer of 1908 in New Hampshire, and in the fall put in six weeks in Southern Florida. While there I passed the State board for licence. I then held three licences. Pennsylvania, New York, and Florida.

Returning to Philadelphia, I opened offices at 110 South 52d St., and took charge of the Surgical and Patient Department of the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital. I practiced in Philadelphia for a year; then closed my offices and went to Atlantic City, where I engaged in practice during the months of May, June, and July. I spent the autumn in Chesham, Cheshire Co., N. H.; and in October went to Washington and took the examination for the U. S. Army Medical Corps. I received my commission, 1st Lieutenant Medical Reserve Corps, December 23, and was ordered to duty January 3, 1910, in Washington for six weeks, then to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where I have charge of the Clinical and Bacteriological Laboratories. In September, I shall be ordered to Washington. There, after an eight months course, I shall be examined; and, if I am passed, I shall be favorably reported on by the Surgeon General for a commission in the Regular Medical Corps. I am in excellent health. I am a member of the Medico-Chirurgical College Club, of Philadelphia; the Fort Leavenworth Mess Club; the Philadelphia County Medical Society; the American Medical Association; and the Phi Rho Sigma Fraternity. Present residence: Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

GORDON DONALD

Soon after graduation went abroad for three months; and, returning, entered the employ of Hallowell, Donald & Co., wool dealers, 252 Summer St., Boston. April 1, 1906, became a partner in practically the same firm, under the name of Hallowell, Jones & Donald, where he has been ever since. His business has called him to England once; several times to Montana, Wyoming, and the Pacific Coast; and he is now in Australia and New Zealand. Will probably return this spring. Is a member of the Brookline Country Club; Tennis and Racket Club, and the City Club, of Boston. Boston residence: 173 Marlboro St.

CHARLES ANDREWS DOOLITTLE, JR.

ARNO WALTER DOSCH

I left Cambridge in June, 1903, having completed seventeen courses. Went to work as reporter on Portland Oregonian, the following October, remaining in Portland, Ore., until the following spring when I went to Alaska. That fall, I returned to Portland and reported for the Oregonian until the following August, with intermittent periods of desk work. Then I became associate editor of the Pacific Monthly and in October was placed in charge of the magazine for a period of six months. My agreement expiring a few days before the San Francisco fire, I was sent to that as correspondent for the Oregonian. Three months later, I started an illustrated weekly in San Francisco, East and West, which lasted just six issues, appearing the same weeks that Ridgway's Weekly appeared, but dying less conspicuously. After six months in a vain attempt to start it again, I took charge of a newspaper contest for the San Francisco Call, and later reported a few months for the same paper. In July, 1907, I went to work as a reporter for the San Francisco Bulletin, the paper which carried on the graft fight, and remained with the paper until last August, when I quit to come to New York to free lance as a newspaperman and magazine writer.

BERNARD JOSEPH DOUGHERTY

Not heard from. Last reported address: 620 Park Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

KENNETH ERSKINE DOWNS

I left college at end of Junior year and went to Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. There I was employed in the wheat business. Returned to Boston at the end of 1905 as result of illness. Later entered the employ of the Harvard Trust Co., in Cambridge, Mass., and have remained there since. Present residence: 618 Washington St., Brookline, Mass.

LOUIS CARR DOYLE

I have been engaged in the practice of law since my graduation, in 1907, from the Harvard Law School. I am at present associated in practice with Walter I. Badger, Esq., 53 State St., Boston. Have held no public offices and have been living a very simple humdrum existence. Present residence: 29 Berkeley St., Somerville, Mass.

WILLIAM DRINKWATER

Is in the lumber business with the Falls City Lumber Co., Portland, Ore.

DAVIS TOWNSEND DUNBAR

GEORGE EATON, JR.

Is Foreman Farmer and Instructor Agriculture at the Farm School, Pa.

Married Jane Martha Nye, daughter of Hiram Nye and Julia E. Nye, September 5, 1906, at Bridgewater, Mass. Has a daughter, Casindania Pratt Eaton. Present residence: Farm School, Pa.

HENRY TAFT EATON

After graduation, I was employed for about a year in that haven for all Harvard graduates who are "waiting for something to turn up," the Old Colony Trust Co., of Boston. In December, 1904, I went to Bennington, N. H., there to learn the business of paper manufacturing with the idea of coming to New York to be connected with the selling end of the business; after I was considered sufficiently versed in the gentle art of sorting rags, etc., I spent about two years in the mill, during which time I was employed in various capacities; and managed to pick up more or less knowledge of paper manufacturing, and incidentally a lot of good health. In December, 1906, I came to New York, and entered the employ of Clarke & Co., paper manufacturers and wholesalers, 225 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y., and at present writing am still with them.

I have not as yet done much for my country in the way of art, letters, or politics. I am a member of the Plainfield County Club and the Harvard Club of New York. I have been a "Jersey commuter" for three years. Present residence: 966 Hillside Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

ELIE CHARLIER EDSON

Has studied at the Harvard Law School and expects to establish himself as a lawyer, probably in Paris.

Married Eleanor Fairbrother Mann, October 2, 1908, at Providence, R. I. Present residence: 137 East 19th St., New York, N. Y.

DANIEL MANN EDWARDS, JR.

MILTON ARTHUR EDWARDS

Is assistant cashier of Peru National Bank, Peru, Ind. Present residence: Peru, Ind.

JOSEPH BURKE EGAN

In 1904, I became sub-master of the Washington Grammar School, Boston, and have been there to date. Have written one play a year and innumerable short stories, all of which seem very fond of home from the way they return.

Married Grace Genevieve Robinson, daughter of Stephen Robinson and Minerva J. (Clapp) Robinson, September 30, 1905, at Boston, Mass. A son, Robert Burke Egan, born May 9, 1907, at Boston, Mass. Present residence: 96 Washington Hill St., Dorchester, Mass.

WILLIAM BRADSHAW EGAN

Was with Granger Farwell & Co., bankers and brokers, from December, 1902, to July, 1906, and have been with Kenneth Cowan & Co., Corn Exchange Bank Bldg., Chicago, Ill., since that time, at present as bond salesman for that firm. Have done no traveling to speak of except one or two business trips to St. Louis, Mo., and Jacksonville, Fla.

Married Christine Thiede, daughter of Henry A. Thiede and Anna Christina Thiede, November 28, 1908, at Oak Park, Ill. Present residence: 1244 Sunnyside Ave., Chicago, Ill.

HENRY PEIRCE ELDREDGE, JR.

Spent year 1901-'02 at Harvard; traveled in Europe and the United States the following year. Entered Boston University Law School in the fall of 1903; again traveled abroad during the summer of 1905; graduated from Boston University Law School in 1906, cum laude, with the degree of LL.B. Admitted to practice at Rhode Island Bar in the year 1906, and to practice before the Federal Courts in 1907. Since admission to the bar, have been engaged in the practice of law at Providence, R. I., in the office of Vincent, Ross & Barnefield, 48 Custom House St., Providence, R. I. Member of King Solomon's Lodge, No. 11, F. & A. M., of East Greenwich; and of the University Club of Providence. Present residence: East Greenwich, R. I.

THEODORE HICKLING ELLIS

During the winter of 1905-'06, was in Panama, and in November, 1906, was with the Sullivan Drill Company, Claremont, N. H. Is now engaged in engineering at Belcaro, Enfield, Middlesex, England.

GEORGE ROBB ELLISON

After completing some work at Squam Lake in the summer of 1903, I had enough courses to my credit to entitle me to an A.B., and did not return to college in 1904. During the remaining part of the summer of 1903, I worked as a reporter on a newspaper in Kansas City, Mo. That fall I entered the Law School of the University of Missouri. I finished the first year's work there, and then began to "read law" in the office of James S. Shinabargar, Esq., in Maryville, Mo. In the fall of 1904, I was admitted to the bar. For two years thereafter I practiced alone. On the first of January, 1908, I formed a partnership with James S. Shinabargar and W. A. Blagg, in the practice of law at Maryville, Mo., under the firm name of Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison, and have just entered my third year as a member of that firm. Present residence: 204 So. Dunn St., Maryville, Mo.

FREDERICK BURCHARD ELY

First position held was as chemist for the South Chicago Steel Works at South Chicago, Ill.; remaining with them for about six months. I next went to work for the Rock Island Ry., as "Inspector of Materials," headquarters at Chicago; holding this position for eight months. On leaving their employ, I was engaged by the Otto Gas Engine Co. as chemist in charge of water-softening plants for railroads outside of Chicago. I held this latter position for about ten months and then went to New Mexico to engage in mining. I was employed by the Hermasa Copper Co., a branch of the General Electric Co., at their mines in Hanovex, N. Mex.; remaining there for one year and eleven months. During that time I was variously occupied as assayer, book-keeper, timekeeper, and finally as assistant engineer. My next position was with the Arizona Copper Co., at Morenci, Ariz. Starting in the sampling department, I finally became assistant engineer, which position I now hold. In February, 1910, I shall have been with this latter company for exactly two years. Present address: Morenci, Ariz.

JOSEPH WILSON EMERSON

When last heard from, was a mining engineer. Last reported address: Whitehall, N. Y.

LOUIS EUGENE EMMES

Left college in April, 1904. Attended Summer School at Cambridge in summer of 1904. Attended college in fall of 1904 and spring of 1905. Was assistant chemist at the New England Gas & Coke Co., Everett, Mass, for several months of the fall of 1905. Head foreman of the dye house of Lewandos at Watertown spring and summer of 1906. Clerk in wholesale men's furnishing house of Simons, Hatch & Whitten Co., Boston, Mass., fall of 1906 to fall of 1908. From November, 1908, to the present time, chemist at Carnegie Institute, Nutrition Laboratory, Vila St., Roxbury, Mass., doing special research work on calorimetry.

Married Ethel May Hopkins, daughter of Warren B. Hopkins and Lucy M. Hopkins, June 1, 1909, at Boston, Mass. A son, Samuel Hopkins Emmens, born February 10, 1907, at Brookline, Mass. Present residence: 442 Walnut St., Newtonville, Mass.

HENRY GEORGE ESSELEN

After leaving college, I went to work as draughtsman for Byron Eldred, M.E., at Room 902, Equitable Bldg., Boston. While in his employ I designed a stoker for firing lime kilns with coal in connection with the Eldred process for burning lime. I also made a trip to Carey, O., and superintended the erection of a mill for hydrating lime. From Mr. Eldred I went to the Sturtevant Blower Co. at Readville, Mass. There I worked as draughtsman in the economizer department, making lay-outs for the use of economizers in various boiler plants. I got fine experience measuring the plants and planning locations for economizers. While with these people I designed some machine tools for boring and reaming the headers of the economizers.

From there I went to work for the Walworth Construction & Supply Co., 100 Pearl St., Boston, as draughtsman. I made lay-outs for heating and ventilating apparatus in all kinds of buildings. After being with them six months, I started figuring work and was very successful in getting work. Then I went to work for the Nightingale & Childs Co., 205 Congress St., Boston, as a salesman. These people deal in asbestos and in magnesia goods for heat insulation, also roofing, etc. I figure all of their plan work and also get out and measure various plants. I have been with these people three and one-half years at this writing. Outside of this work, I am interested in the Folsom Snow-Guard Co., of Boston, with my father and brother. I have charge of all of the machinery and the manufacture of the snow-guards. To this work I devote Saturday afternoons and about two nights a week.

Just at present I am designing a machine for making a new snow-guard which we had patented last year.

ANGUS DAVIS ESTABROOK

Went to island of Jamaica in February, 1906. Later to about every part of United States east of Mississippi river. Have, since starting work in fall of 1904, been with W. H. McElwain Co., 34 Congress St., Boston, shoe manufacturers, now as salesman, formerly as purchasing agent. Present residence: 101 Washington Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

PHILIP SIDNEY ESTES

I spent the summer of 1904 abroad, entering Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the fall, where I took a special course in Electrical Engineering. During the following summer, 1905, I was engaged in the automobile business at Chestnut Hill, Mass.; and in the winter went to work for a publishing concern in New York City. I returned to Boston in the spring of 1906, where I have been engaged in the publishing business up to the present time. Business address: 212 Summer St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Englewood Ave., Brookline, Mass.

HORNSBY EVANS

I took my examinations for the Army, January 12, 1904, obtaining a leave from the college for that purpose. I got my commission June 9, 1904, but did not have to join until July 15. My regiment was at American Lake, Wash., in camp. I was soon sent to Vancouver Barracks, Wash., where I remained on duty until spring, 1905, when I went with my regiment to the Philippines. The transport ran on a coral reef but we finally landed in the southern part of the archipelago. Penang, Mindanao, was my station. It is among the hills inhabited largely by hostile Moros. There were several expeditions while I was there including one against Datu Ali in which I participated. In April, 1907, I took a leave for the purpose of visiting China and Japan. I traveled in those countries until July, when I joined my regiment on board ship at Nagasaki, Japan. On arriving at San Francisco, I was detailed as aide-de-camp to General Funston, who was then in command of the Department of California, which includes the troops in California, Nevada, and the Hawaiian Islands. While on duty there I accompanied the General on an expedition to Goldfield, Nev., to quell a riot of miners there. It was soon suppressed by the mere moral effect of the presence of the 22d U. S. Infantry. We came back to San Francisco in about a week.

While on duty at San Francisco I was Inspector of Small Arms Practice for the Department of California. In the summer of 1908 I accompanied General Funston to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where I am at present. He commands the Army Service Schools here, of which there are three; the Army Staff College; the Army School of the Line; and the Army Signal School. I do not believe that any more dates or figures or names will be of interest to the Class. If I get through the examinations, I shall probably be promoted to a 1st Lieutenant in about a year. As for writing, I have not shown any marked ability as an author: it took me three years to get through English A. Present residence: Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

WALDO CLARENCE EVERETT

Manager of D. Whiting & Sons, grain store, Bradford, N. H.

Married Winnifred Isadore Kendal, daughter of Eugene W. Kendal and Flora M. Kendal, June 17, 1905, at Newton, Mass. A daughter, Olive Kendal Everett, born February 9, 1909, at Bradford, N. H. Present residence: Bradford, N. H.

ALBERT HARRISON EWING

In September, 1904, I entered the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, and did the regular work two years, then spent a year of travel and study in Europe. Returned for final year in Cambridge and graduated from Episcopal Theological School in 1908, with a degree of B.D. Was ordained deacon by Bishop Lawrence in May, 1908. Spent that summer in Europe. Took charge of Trinity Church, Wrentham, Mass., in October, 1908, and was ordained priest by Bishop Lawrence in June, 1909. Now have full charge of the church work at Wrentham, Mass. Present residence: Wrentham, Mass.

GORDON FAIRCHILD

Received degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School in June, 1907. Since that time practiced law in Boston. Now engaged in general practice of law at 38 Equitable Bldg., Boston. Spent summer of 1905 in Europe. Present residence: Brattle St., Cambridge, Mass.

SUMNER LEIGH FOSTER FANCHER

Upon leaving college, I started West, spending some time in all large cities from Boston to Denver, and finally winding up on R. S. Van Tassel's ranch at Islay, Wyo. I led a cowpuncher's life for five months, then returned East. Soon after my return, I entered the services of the Essex County Truant School, Lawrence, Mass. "Training" has since replaced "Truant." One year later, I left and took a cashier's position in the Parker House, Boston; but remained only four months, then returned to the same school, where I have been since. I am a member of the Caleb Rand Lodge 197, I. O. O. F., and the Vermont Association of Boston.

Married Alice May Bates, daughter of Henry Bates and Mary (Lawrence) Bates, June 25, 1903, at Lawrence, Mass. Present residence: Essex County Training School, Lawrence, Mass.

WALTER WILLIS FARNUM

On leaving college, I worked for a few months for the S. D. Warren Co., Boston, and then came to my present position, Chief Chemist, Naval Torpedo Station, Newport, R. I., which I have held ever since. I received the degree of A.M. from Harvard in 1905. My travels have been local with the exception of the six months or so I spent in traveling through Canada and the West to San Francisco, visiting Yosemite, Yellowstone Park, etc. I am a member of the Miantonomi Club, Newport; the Newport Yacht Club; the American Chemical Society; and several lodges. Present residence: 10 Bradford Ave., Newport, R. I.

EDWARD PATRICK FARRELL

Not heard from. Last reported address: 172 Spring St., East Cambridge, Mass.

GEORGE JAMES FEISS

Is Secretary of the Superior Foundry Co., Cleveland, O. Present residence: 10508 Lake Ave., Cleveland, O.

NICHOLAS FELD

I have engaged since June, 1903, in the cotton business, as cotton merchant and cotton broker. Up to June, 1909, I was located at Vicksburg, Miss.; but since then, have been located at New Orleans. I have had occasion to visit New England cotton mill centers every year since leaving college; sometimes twice a year. I have not been actively associated with any enterprises, of private or public nature, not connected with the cotton trade. On one or more occasions I have been a delegate to national and international conventions connected with the development of the cotton business; and on two occasions I have been a delegate to the "Lake to the Gulf Deep Waterways Conventions." This constitutes the extent of my activity in a pubic way. At present I am a member of the Vicksburg Cotton Exchange, and of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange.

My travels have taken me over all sections of the United States; over all Canada, east of the Great Lakes to the Atlantic, and to England and the continent of Europe. I have not engaged in writing or literary work, except in a purely amateur way, for personal pleasure at home, nor have I taken up any new studies with the intention of acquiring any further degrees. Present address: Hicks Bldg., New Orleans, La.

STANLEY WARNER FENNO

I have held the position of Sub-Master and head of the science department of the Revere (Mass.) High School since graduation. Am a member of the Eastern Association of Physics Teachers and the New England Association of Chemistry Teachers. In May, 1907, I became a Mason. For the past four years I have been the treasurer of the First Unitarian Society of Revere, organized in 1715.

Married Bertha P. Whitaker, daughter of Stephen Whitaker and Harriet S. Whitaker, June 26, 1906, at Pawtucket, R. I. Present residence: 50 Pleasant St., Revere, Mass.

MAURICE FERBER

In September, 1904, I entered the Boston Normal School, which, for the first time, had been thrown open to male college graduates, with the idea of inducing college men to teach in the grammar grades. After completing the year's work, I accepted a position in a certain grammar school in Boston, a thing I shouldn't have done, for the headmaster was being tried for various "errors," which trial finally caused not only his dismissal, but also, as an aftermath, the dismissal of a dozen of his subordinates, whom he was deemed to have illegally appointed; I was of that congregation. The whole affair quite disgusted me with public school service and I decided to reënter Harvard for graduate study in a subject that had always allured me and was beginning to be made much of by Professor G. P. Baker: that was play-writing. So in the fall of 1906, I acted accordingly, remaining in the Graduate School until June, 1909, taking all of Professor Baker's courses in drama and dramatic composition, not with a view to winning a higher degree, but simply for the sake of the courses. The second of these three years was given almost entirely to writing a realistic play, a difficult undertaking at best and, for a tyro who held the absurd idea that true realism was mere photography, a very arduous one. However, one must make mistakes. The third year, there came to my mind a magnificent theme for dramatic and poetic treatment; and this has been my bane already for a good part of a year. If my final treatment is adequate, professional presentation is likely. Present residence: 49 Greenwood St., Dorchester, Mass.

HENRY GARDINER FERGUSON

Remained at college until summer of 1906, taking my S.B. and A.M. degrees in addition to my A.B. Then assistant geologist at Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., Ishpenning, Mich., until February, 1907. From March, 1907, to date, geologist, Philippine Bureau of Science. Work consists of exploration of the less known parts of the islands. Writings have consisted of scientific papers which have appeared in Journal of Geology, Bulletin Museum of Comparative Zoölogy (Harvard), and Philippine Journal of Science. Recently elected Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society. Expect to be in America on leave of absence this summer. Present residence: 2 Calle Padre Paura, Manila, P. I.

ROBERT PHILLIPS FERRY

1904-'05, in New York City at various jobs. 1906-'08, at Wisconsin University College of Law, Madison, Wis., receiving degree of LL.B. there in 1908. Admitted to the Wisconsin Bar the same year. Traveled in Europe June to September, 1908. 1909 to date, with Van Dyke & Van Dyke, attorneys, 916 Wells Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis. Member of Phi Gamma Delta and Phi Delta Phi fraternities; also member of the Monastics, Student Conference Committee, etc. Present residence: 19 Prospect Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

ARTHUR DAVISON FICKE

Spent 1904-'05 in traveling in Japan, India, Greece and Italy. Entered the College of Law at the State University of Iowa in September, 1905. In collegiate year 1906-'07 gave a course in English at above University. Continued study of law until June, 1908; was then admitted to the Bar of Iowa. Became member of law firm of Ficke & Ficke, Davenport, Iowa; and am now practicing law. Have published three volumes of poems: "From the Isles," 1907, Samurai Press, Cranleigh, Surrey, Eng.; "The Happy Princess," 1907, Small, Maynard & Co., Boston; "The Earth Passion," 1908, Samurai Press. Have published twenty-five or thirty poems in the Century, Harper's Magazine, Scribner's Magazine, etc. Devote leisure to writing poetry.

Married Evelyn Bethune Blunt, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Stanhope English Blunt, October 1, 1907, at Springfield, Mass. Present residence: 2117 Main St., Davenport, Ia.

ELIAS FIELD

Until June, 1906, I attended the Harvard Law School, receiving then the degree of LL.B. In the fall of 1906, I started in practice in Boston, in partnership with two other 1904 men, Herman L. Brown and William F. Murray, under the firm name of Brown, Field & Murray. Since that time I have devoted myself assiduously to the exhausting job of building up a "large and lucrative" law business—a task not yet completed, I might add. Business address: 141 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 111 St. Botolph St., Boston, Mass.

ELLIS FISCHEL

After working as a "bench moulder" in the foundry of the Universal Caster and Foundry Co., at Newark, N. J., from September, 1904, to January, 1905, I entered the Freshman Class of the Medical Department of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo. During my course of instruction for the degree of M.D., I became a member of the Missouri Gamma of the Phi Delta Theta Society, and also a member of the honorary medical society, Alpha Omega Alpha. I received the degree of Doctor of Medicine in May, 1908, and immediately entered the St. Louis City Hospital as junior assistant physician. Since June, 1909, I have occupied the position of senior assistant physician in the City Hospital and shall be so occupied until June, 1910. At present I am a member of the following clubs: University Club, of St. Louis; Harvard Club, of St. Louis; 'Varsity Club, of Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 3867 Washington Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

CHARLES HEBER FISHER

Am employed now as an electrical engineer by the Black Powder Engineering Division of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Powder Co., of Wilmington, Del. Have been with them since March, 1907. Prior to that date, I had worked for the Telluride Powder Co., of Provo, Utah; and for the O. S. L. R. R., Salt Lake City. Was with the former company from July, 1904, to November, 1905. While at Provo, I not only gained some knowledge of the workings of a high-tension hydro-electric plant, but also of surveying. This latter knowledge helped me to get the R. R. job. The O. S. L.

first sent me out as levelman and inspector on construction work, then as signalman with one of their gangs that were installing automatic signals. I came back East in December, 1906. Have never done, said or written anything of importance. Present residence: 1018 West 8th St., Wilmington, Del.

*REGINALD FOSTER *1907

On August 17, 1907, the Class suffered a serious loss in the death of Reginald Foster. While spending the summer at Nahant, Mass., he was accidentally thrown from his bicycle and sustained a fracture of the skull. Unfortunately, the injury was such that an operation could not be performed—otherwise his splendid physical condition would probably have pulled him through—and his death followed about two weeks later.

Mr. Foster was born July 15, 1881, at Brookline, Mass., the son of John Harrod Foster and Mary Gardiner (Churchill) Foster, and prepared for college at Dunham's Latin School, Baltimore, Md.

During the greater part of his college life, he was obliged by circumstances to earn his own expenses, but in spite of this necessity he took an active part in athletics. He was a member of the Newell Boat Club for three years, rowing number four in the Newell Sophomore Crew in the Interclub races of 1902 and stroking the Newell Junior Crew in 1903. During 1903 and 1904 he was captain of the Club. His summer vacations were usually spent at Nahant where he was for several years treasurer of the Nahant Dory Club. He was a member of the Union, and in 1904 was elected to the Class Photograph Committee.

The year following Commencement he taught at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and the next year accepted a position at the Roxbury Latin School. In 1906 be became a master at the Volkmann School, Boston, where he taught English and Latin. During these three years he not only achieved success as a teacher but endeared himself equally to his pupils and associates. In December, 1906, Mr. Foster was married to Miss Reiba Thélin of Baltimore, and on April 21st, 1908, his daughter, Mary Reginald, was born.

Throughout his college course he worked hard, not only because of the time necessarily given to outside employment, but also because success in studies did not come easily to him and everything he undertook was thoroughly and conscientiously performed. In spite of this fact, he could always find time to give himself freely and efficiently to those who needed help. Perhaps the best illustration of this spirit of helpfulness is the story of many precious hours given up to teaching Mathematics to one of the mechanics employed by the college. This service was without any return save the satisfaction of helping the man toward a cherished ambition, and it usually meant studying into the small hours afterward to make up his own work. It is a striking commentary on this aspect of his character that one of his intimate friends and classmates never knew of this incident until told of it recently.

Although earnest and conscientious in all his efforts, he had a keen sense of humor and boundless good nature; his ideals were high set and he had a lasting contempt for anything mean in either work or sport. It is a peculiarly sad circumstance that he should have died before the birth of his daughter, for he was very fond of children; and it is in his relations with the boys whom he taught that his fine personality was perhaps best expressed. He was not only an excellent teacher but also a friend and comrade in both work and play, and his influence with the boys was a constant tribute to his own wholesome manhood.

The mark he had already made in his chosen profession is indicated by letters sent to the Class Secretary, extracts from which follow:

Mr. Coit of St. Paul's School wrote, "I have never known a young man who exercised a more wholesome influence over the boys with whom he came in contact than did Mr. Foster. . . . . He was a good teacher and a man of real force and power . . . . he was a fine type of an upright, Christian gentleman; and had his life been spared he would have been a power for good. He has left a bright example of a fine and useful life."

Mr. McCormick said, "The death of Mr. Foster is a personal affliction to the boys and masters of the Roxbury Latin School. Although a teacher here only a year, he won the lasting love of his pupils and the enduring affection of his colleagues. As a teacher he was endowed with a wonderful capacity for putting himself in a boy's place and appreciating his point of view. His was a popularity that was a spontaneous expression of real admiration for the lovable qualities in the man. . . . As a wholesome, lovable, inspiring companion and friend, as well as teacher, his memory will long remain green."

Mr. Volkmann wrote, "The members of Mr. Foster's class will undoubtedly be interested to hear of the splendid success of his last year's teaching in the Volkmann School and of the fine promise foreshadowed for him by the nature of his works and his qualities as a man. He combined in a remarkable degree the serene and cheerful temperament which dominates critical situations, with perseverance and faithfulness to high standards. His students were impressed at once with his genuineness as a man and the straightforwardness of his teaching. He had a happy way of stating difficult points clearly and of approaching them from a boy's point of view. He had himself such an abundance of animal spirits that a fellow feeling made him wonderous wise in dealing with boys; but, however sympathetic, he led them onward and upward. In scholarship he was precise without being a pedant. . . . . It was always refreshing to me at the end of a day's work to hear his comments on what the day had brought forth. There was sanity of judgment, imperturbable good humor and fixedness of purpose. His former pupils and his friends mourn his loss, but they feel happy over the success and pleasure of his last year's work. He illustrates the truth that a teacher's success rests on fine character."

These words of affection and appreciation are a measure of the loss occasioned by his untimely death. His life reflected honor upon the Class of which he was a loyal member, and to those who knew him well his memory will always remain as an inspiration toward honest endeavor and high purpose.

*JOHN RICHARD FOWLER *1908

John Richard Fowler was born at St. Louis, Mo., on February 6, 1879. His parents were Edwin Fowler and Syrena L. (Bacon) Fowler. He prepared for college at Smith's Academy, St. Louis, and at Stone's School, Boston. After attending Washington University, St. Louis, for a short time, he entered Harvard in the fall of 1900 with the Class of 1904. At the conclusion of his Junior year, in 1903, he left Harvard to enter business, associating himself with the Boston office of the Library Bureau. After two years' experience he was promoted to the managership of the Pittsburgh branch of the Bureau. In the summer of 1907 he changed to the insurance business and from that time until his death was connected with the Provident Life and Trust Company. He died of typhoid fever in Pittsburgh, January 17, 1908, leaving a widow, Rosalie B. Simpson Fowler, whom he had married at Brookline, Mass., October 11, 1905.

Though John Fowler was a man of remarkable strength and firmness of character, his kindly and courteous disposition made him universally beloved and respected, both in his business and social relations. His family life was delightful, his gentleness, cheerfulness and thoughtfulness making him an unusual son and husband. At a meeting of the Harvard Club of Western Pennsylvania (of which John Fowler was a member) held March 25, 1908, the following resolution was adopted: "That in the death of Mr. Fowler we have lost the companionship of a much loved and respected comrade. Affable, altruistic, always a cheerful and persevering hard worker, in his death we have lost much."

J. J. Rogers, '04.

MILTON GEORGE FOX

CHARLES GALWEY

Since leaving Harvard, I have continued to teach English at the College of the City of New York. In 1906-'07, I secured a year's leave of absence to accept an appointment in Columbia College and also began teaching English Composition in the extension courses of Columbia University. This work in extension teaching has developed somewhat, and I offer at present several courses in Columbia and other institutions. A trite quotation from G. B. S. has it: "He who can, does. He who cannot, teaches." My existence to date remains placidly pedagogical. Present residence: 407 West 123d St., New York, N. Y.

JOHN VALLETTE GANO

My "annals" since June, 1904, while hardly "of the poor," are, I fear, quite "short and simple" in as far as any record of particular accomplishment is concerned. Almost half of my time since graduation has been spent in travel, in America, and in Europe, and the other half mostly in work, principally teaching.

The first academic year after graduation, 1904-'05, I spent studying law at the Harvard Law School. The following summer of 1905 I spent principally in a long trip with my family through the Northwestern States to visit the Lewis and Clarke Centennial Exposition at Portland, Ore., visiting the Yellowstone Park on the way, then by sea northward through glorious scenery as far as Skagway, Alaska, then eastward again by rail from Vancouver, B. C. through the Canadian Rockies. Most of the winter of 1905-'06 I spent at work with the Central Trust and Safe Deposit Company of Cincinnati. Five or six weeks of the following summer again were spent in travel through eastern Canada and down the St. Lawrence. The school year of 1906-'07 I spent as a teacher of English and French at the Ohio Military Institute at College Hill, O., near Cincinnati, and the following year of 1907-'08, as a teacher of Latin and History at Kent School, Kent, Conn., a church boarding school for boys conducted under the auspices of the Anglican Order of the Holy Cross.

The summer of 1908 I spent chiefly in traveling abroad in Europe, and on the re-opening of school in the fall returned to my work at Kent. In the course of the autumn months, however, my health declined so steadily after my rather strenuous summer of travel that I found it necessary to give up the work early in December and return to my home in Cincinnati. Then, as my family were planning to come abroad on an extensive tour of foreign travel, I joined in with their plans; and, sailing from New York January 22, 1909, on the White Star liner, "Republic," was shipwrecked the following day in that steamer's catastrophe at sea south of Nantucket Lightship. About two weeks after our rescue and return to New York, however, I sailed again with my family on the "Kaiserin Auguste Victoria," of the Hamburg-American Line; and spent the following months of the spring and summer of 1909 traveling in France, Italy, the Tyrol, Bavaria, and Switzerland; and the three autumn months of October, November, and December studying French language and literature at the University of Grenoble. Since Christmas, I have been spending the winter here in Paris with the rest of my family, passing a good part of my time each day attending the public lectures at the Sorbonne, where I am looking forward at present to the opportunity of listening to the address of our renowned and strenuous ex-President on his return from Africa in the course of the spring.

As to my plans for the future, I have had a very handsome invitation from my former headmaster at Kent School to return to work there when I go back to America, which I may in fact likely do. At any rate, I expect to resume work at teaching again sooner or later.

The only "office" I have held since graduation is that of Secretary of the Harvard Club of Cincinnati from October, 1906, to October, 1907. The only other club connection which I enjoy is that of member of the University Club of Cincinnati. Present residence address: care of Morgan, Harjes, & Co., 31 Boulevard Haussman, Paris, France.

ROBERT HALLOWELL GARDINER, JR.

Entered the Harvard Law School in 1904 and graduated in 1907, LL.B. cum laude. While in the Law School, was a member of Pow-Wow and the Choate Club. Spent the year after graduation in the law office of Hill, Barlow & Homans, of Boston, having been admitted to the Bar of Massachusetts in 1907. Since September, 1908, have been in private practice in the office of my father. Am treasurer of the Consumers' League of Massachusetts; and a member of the Publication Committee of the Good Government Association of Boston; the Maine Historical Society; Tennis and Racquet Club and Union Boat Club of Boston; and the Harvard Clubs of Maine, Boston, and New York. Business address: Barristers' Hall, Pemberton Square, Boston, Mass. Present residence: Gardiner, Mass.

JOHN EDWARD GARDNER

In the winter of 1904, after working for a few months in the college office at Cambridge, I went to the General Electric Co., at Lynn, Mass., where I was engaged in experimental work on steam and gas turbines. I stayed there until May, 1905, when I decided to take up railroading and secured a position as special apprentice with the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Railroad Co.

For almost a year I was engaged in locomotive testing in various parts of Illinois, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Colorado. I was next at the railroad laboratory, testing and inspecting material. Since then, I have been at various kinds of railroad work, a few of which are wrecking, working in the locomotive, erecting and machine shops, air brake work, firing locomotives, installing machinery, as electrician, draftsman, and temporary assistant Shop Superintendent. At present I am in the office of the Shop Superintendent engaged in mechanical engineering work. In June, 1905, I received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering from Harvard.

Married Mary Aston Hatch, daughter of John Hatch and Alice Caroline (Benton) Hatch, October 21, 1908, at Greenland, N. H. Present residence: 278 Spring St., Aurora, Ill.

CHESTER ARTHUR GARFIELD

For three months after graduation I took a much needed rest, and visited many important engineering works under construction in the New England States. In September, 1904, was appointed rodman in engineering department of Massachusetts Metropolitan Park Commission and assigned to construction work. In January, 1905, became a transitman on railroad location, and in January, 1906, became a chief of party on parkway and bridge construction. Was called into office in January, 1907, to work up details for construction of boat-lock bridge, and dam at Craddock Bridge, Medford. Resigned on July 1, 1907, to accept an appointment as assistant engineer, Board of Water Supply, City of New York. Was assigned for duty in Reservoir Department on preliminary work until July, 1908, when I was placed in charge of monthly estimates for payment for Olive Bridge Dam. Am a member and past commander of Camp 56, Sons of Veterans of Cambridge, Mass.; also member of Utopian Club of Cambridge and New York Harvard Club.

Married Mabel Gertrude Young, daughter of Franklin Augustus Young and Nina Isadora Young, January 31, 1906, at Cambridge, Mass. Children: Frances Viola Garfield, born December 7, 1906, at Cambridge, Mass.; and Leonice Esther Garfield, born August 18, 1909, at West Shokan, N. Y. Present residence: West Shokan, Ulster Co., N. Y.

JULIAN GARRETT

I was employed during the summer of 1904 as an Assistant in the surveying courses at the Harvard Engineering Camp. In the fall of that year I returned to Harvard, registering in the Graduate School to study Mining, but had been back only about two weeks when I was taken ill with typhoid fever. It was not until the following spring that I had fully recovered my health; I then gave up all thoughts of becoming a mining engineer, choosing instead to adopt railroad engineering as my profession. The spring of 1905 I spent as rodman, then as transitman on the extension of the Norwood, Canton, and Sharon Street Railway. In June of 1905, I returned to the Harvard Engineering Camp as an Assistant in the surveying courses.

In September, 1905, I accepted a position as instrumentman on construction for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, the new Trans-Continental Railroad of Canada. The life in the construction camps was a total change from the city life of Boston and Cambridge, where I had spent my youth.

and when offered, without solicitation, a position as assistant engineer in the maintenance of way department of the Terminal R. R. Association of St. Louis, I was happy to exchange the hardships and deprivations of a pioneer life for one of comparative ease and comfort, with a higher salary. I was employed here from December, 1905, to April, 1906. Realizing that I had made a mistake in leaving the Grand Trunk Pacific, in view of the magnitude of the work they are doing, and the variety of experience to be gained by a young engineer, I returned again to their employ as an instrument-man on construction in Saskatchewan. In May, 1906, I was promoted to the position of resident engineer, which position I now hold.

I have been on twenty-four miles of construction in Manitoba, forty-one miles in Saskatchewan, and thirty-seven miles in Alberta. I have also been on one hundred and twelve miles of preliminary and location surveys. During the winter of 1906 and 1907, I had charge of a party on the Hydrographic Survey of Prince Rupert harbour, our Pacific Coast Terminal, situated about twenty-five miles south of the Alaskan boundary. While at the coast I went as far north as Skagway; not on company business, but merely for a pleasure trip. During the winter of 1908-1909, I spent five months abroad with my father and mother, visiting in Spain, Italy, France, and England. At present I am in charge of the erection of all the bridges on the first fifty miles of the Tofield-Calgary branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, with headquarters at Camrose, Alberta. One of the bridges on this section will be the largest wooden trestle bridge in the Western Provinces of Canada; it will be 3033 ft. long, 115 ft. high, and will contain about four million F. B. M. of timber. I am an associate member of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, a member of the Edmonton Engineering Society, and a member of the Camrose Canadian Club. Present residence: Camrose, Alberta, Canada.

KIRKLAND HOPKINS GIBSON

Spent summer of 1904 in Europe. Entered factory of Ivers & Pond Piano Co., Cambridgeport, in October, 1904. Spent a year at factory, then came to Boston offices of the company, 114 Boylston St. In January, 1909, was elected Secretary of the Boston Music Trade Association. Belong to the Boston Athletic Association; Eastern Yacht Club, Marblehead; and Megantic Fish and Game Corporation, in Maine and Canada.

Married Florence Warner, daughter of Frederick Harris Warner and Eleanor Skinner Warner, April 25, 1905, at Boston, Mass. Children: Eleanor Gibson, born February 18, 1906; Ruth Gibson, born March 28, 1907; George Warner Gibson, born February 19, 1909; all at Brookline. Have permanent summer house at Marblehead Neck, Mass. Present residence: 20 Circuit Rd., Chestnut Hill, Mass.

*REGINALD MESSENGER GIGNOUX *1904

Reginald Gignoux was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., on January 1, 1883, and died at Great Neck, Long Island, from injuries accidentally sustained while trying to climb upon a moving train there, on August 17, 1904. After attending school at Great Neck as a small boy, he was sent, in 1894, to the gymnasium at Dresden, Germany, and the following year, he spent a winter at Montreux, on the lake of Geneva, with a German tutor. In 1896, on his return home, he entered Pomfret School in the third form, and, in the following four years there, completed his preparation for college. He came to Cambridge in September, 1900, and completed the work for his bachelor's degree after three years in the college and ten weeks in the engineering camp at Squam Lake. In the autumn of 1903, having obtained leave of absence for his last year, he went to New York, where he was employed by the McVickar-Gaillard Realty Company; that year, Senior year for most of us, he spent at work down town.

Gignoux came to college well equipped. Mr. Olmsted of Pomfret speaks of him as "a particularly high minded and fine boy—wielding always a strong influence in school, especially as a sixth former and monitor." Despite his retiring manners, he knew a great many men in college and was a member of the Institute of 1770, the Dickey, the Spee, the Hasty Pudding, and the Signet. He tried his hand, though not very seriously, at various games (he had been president of the Athletic Club at school), and, if not a conspicuous athlete at all, he was by no means a duffer—a vigorous and interested player. He took only a desultory interest in his college work, the large elementary courses, Government 1, History 1, Economics 1, English 22, Philosophy 1a and 1b, some German and French, and a scattering choice of other electives. Although his work was only of moderate excellence (he was what they speak of in University 4 as "an able C man"), many of us felt that he could have acquitted himself brilliantly, for his mind was an original and rather profound one; in Philosophy, which interested him, he enjoyed speculating. Life and people he examined eagerly and critically, with no mean insight, but in a calm and charitable mood.

A little difficult to know well, I dare say, but when known, he was a friend to prize. It is a waste of words to tell anyone who really knew him that he was a stimulating companion, with a gentle, meditative conversation full of humorous surprises. In his gray Norfolk jacket, old and bulging, he lived a deliberate life in the hopeless confusion of his room in Russell—such a trial as it was to the orderly Lindsley! Those of us to whom the bad news in the summer of 1904 came through the newspapers will not forget the grim brevity of the paragraph nor the shock of the loss. No member of this Class need wish a better thing for a young brother or (when the time comes) a son, than that he may find as wise and loyal a friend as "Gig" with whom to walk late into the night, around Fresh Pond perhaps, and thrash out, over and over, the problems of twenty-one.

S. A. Welldon, '04.

CHARLES GILMAN

My first position after graduation, was as rodman with the Rapid Transit Commission of New York on the construction of the present subway. In June of 1905, I resigned to take a position as engineer on the construction of a large manufacturing plant in St. Louis, Mo., which was completed in October, 1906. From this date until October of 1909, I was sales engineer for the Quincy Manchester Sargent Co., in New York. I have held my present position as assistant to Vice-President of Rodger Ballast Car Co., 90 West St., New York, N. Y., since that date.

In June of 1909, I was elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Harvard Engineering Society of New York. Elected a member of the Harvard Club of New York, December 16, 1909. Elected a Junior Member, American Society of Civil Engineers, December, 1904. Have been a member of the New York Railroad Club since March, 1909.

Married Alva Howe Story, daughter of Abram Story and Charlotte Brown Story, June 26, 1909, at Ipswich, Mass. Present residence: 1228 Lenox Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

STEPHEN JOSEPH GILMAN

Admitted to Massachusetts Bar in February, 1906, and since then I have been engaged in the general practice of law in Boston and Everett. WILLIAM GRAINGER

In September, 1904, I entered the General Theological Seminary, New York City, where I studied theology until May, 1906. On May 6, 1906, I was ordained to the ministry in Trinity Church, Boston, Mass., by the Right Rev. William Lawrence, D.D., and on May 13, entered on my first work as a clergyman at Susquehanna, Pa. I was advanced to the priesthood at Trinity Church, West Pittston, Pa., on January 22, 1907, by the Right Rev. Ethelbert Talbot. I remained at Susquehanna, Pa., until January 1, 1909, when I resigned to take charge of Trinity Church, Canton, Mass.

Married Anna Henshaw Holbrook, daughter of Edward Henry Holbrook and Emily Rolfe (Eldredge) Holbrook June 14, 1906, at Dorchester, Mass. Children: Emily Eldredge Grainger, born July 8, 1907; and Charles Holbrook Grainger, born July 22, 1908; both at Susquehanna, Pa. Present residence: Canton, Mass.

LUCIUS DWIGHT GRANGER

Received the degree of A.B. in 1904, and A.M. in 1905. During the next year, was Austin Teaching Fellow in Metallurgy and Metallurgical Chemistry. In the fall of 1906, came with the American Steel and Wire Co. in Worcester, Mass., as Metallurgist at South Works, and one year later was added to the staff of the District Manager with added duties, mainly along Metallurgical lines, however.

Married Mary Lucina Powers, daughter of Charles Ransom Powers and Ruth Dewey Powers, October 15, 1906, at Randolph, Mass. Children: Roger Gordon Granger, born January 26, 1908; and Mary Elizabeth Granger, born November 27, 1909; both at Randolph, Mass. Present residence: 3 Midland St., Worcester, Mass.

WARREN PARSONS GRANT

I reported at the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company's Contract Office in Washington, D. C., on July 11, 1904. I was connected with that office until the latter part of August, 1905. During the school terms of 1905-'06 and 1906-'07 I was Principal of the High School at Huron, S. D. During the summer of 1906 I attended the Harvard Summer School. Since September, 1907, I have been in various capacities as assistant and foreman in the shoe factory of Dunn & McCarthy in Binghamton, New York. Present residence: 214 Main St., Binghamton, N. Y.

JOHN RAYNOR GRAVES

I came to California immediately after the close of college and went to the mountains with a surveying crew for the summer. Then I worked in a machine shop in Chico until the following spring, when I went to Japan and round the world in the employ of The Diamond Match Co. On my return in February, 1906, I was employed in the Diamond Match Co.'s match factory at Chico and remained there until about a year ago, when I bought a ranch at Cottonwood, Cal., and here I am.

Married Lucile Graves, daughter of George W. Graves and Lillian Burlingame Graves, October 16, 1907, at Chico, Cal. Present residence: Cottonwood, Shasta Co., Cal.

WILLIAM ARTHUR GRAY

I have been managing partner of Forbes & Co., book publishers, Chicago, Ill. since 1904. Edited books and contributed to magazines. Lectured on literary subjects. Present residence: 2805 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

CARROLL GREENOUGH

I went into partnership, on my departure from college, with Henry T. Phelps, architect, in San Antonio, Tex., which partnership being dissolved four years later, I sailed in February, 1907, for Paris, where I am now studying for the Ecole des Beaux Arts, in the section of Architecture. Present residence: 21 Rue Bonaparte, Paris, France.

BURT WHITMAN GREENWOOD

Life since June, 1904, has been uneventful, with the ordinary interests and activities. The morning after return from college, July 1, 1904, went to work with the Worcester Trust Company and remained with them since that time. Advancement has been steady, first to discount clerk, then bookkeeper, and teller in charge of the Quinsigamond Branch. Travels have been very limited, only such as can be taken in the usual two weeks' vacation, to the mountains principally. Considerable time has been given to aiding in promoting agricultural interests, having a strong love for "the out of doors," and believing these interests are of the greatest importance. Present residence: 193 May St., Worcester, Mass.

CHARLES ERNEST GREENWOOD

After leaving college, I was engaged in private business affairs in Lancaster, Mass. until May, 1906, when I took a position with the Edison Electric Illuminating Co., 39 Boylston St., Boston. I am still with this company. I have done considerable traveling in the Middle West and Canada. Present residence: 241 Lexington St., East Boston, Mass.

WILLIAM MUMFORD GREGORY

Ava," Geological Survey of Michigan, Vol. 9; "Preliminary Report on Arenae County," Annual Report of State Geologist of Michigan, for 1905; "Ore Boat Unloaders," National Geographic Magazine, May, 1907; "Flowing Wells of Southern Michigan," Water Supply Paper, No. 183; "The Cuyahoga River," School Topics, September, 1907; "Northern Ohio Geography at National Educational Association," School Science, etc., June, 1908; and "Climate of Cleveland, Ohio," Journal of Geography, June, 1909.

Married Julia Ogden Emery, daughter of Temple Emery and Elizabeth Ogden Emery, June 25, 1904, at Jonesville, Mich. Children: Elizabeth Emery Gregory, born November 5, 1905; and William Emery Gregory, born July 30, 1909; both at Cleveland, O. Present residence: 105 Burton Ave., Station H, Cleveland, O.

DAVID LINCOLN GRIFFEN

ROGER CASTLE GRIFFIN

The summer of 1904 I spent surveying at Woodstock, Vt., and in the fall returned to Cambridge and entered the Graduate School. I was Austin Teaching Fellow in Chemistry (Chem. 9 and 10) and on the following Commencement received an A.M. in Chemistry. The summer of 1905, I spent at Woodstock, Vt., and again returned to Cambridge for a second year of graduate work, holding the same position as the previous year. Received degree of S.M. in Chemistry in June, 1906.

From August, 1906, to March, 1907, I was ill with "walking typhoid" at Woodstock, Vt., and then took a long sea trip for my health. On April 4, I sailed from Philadelphia for Liverpool, and spent ten days in England. Sailed from London, April 26, for Cape Town, South Africa, arriving there May 19. I visited friends there for nine weeks and sailed for England July 15, visiting on the way St. Helena, Ascension, and Las Palmas (Canary Islands), and arriving at Southampton August 7. After spending two weeks with friends at Liverpool, I motored for three weeks in Scotland and sailed for America on September 21. The following month I went to St. Louis and held the position of chemist at the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works for thirteen months. While in St. Louis I was a member of the University Club. On January 4, 1908, I took the position of chemist in the Arthur D. Little, Inc., laboratory of Engineering Chemistry at Boston and have been there since that date.

I have had published in various chemical journals the following papers: June, 1905, with Gregory P. Baxter, "The Determination of Phosphoric Acid by Means of Ammonium Phosphomolybdate," American Chemical Journal, Vol XXXIV, No. 3, pp. 204-217; June, 1906, with Gregory P. Baxter, "The Carrying Down of Ammonium Oxalate by Oxalates of Rare Earths." Journal of the American Chemical Society, Vol. XXVIII, No. 12, pp. 1684-1693; July, 1909, "The Analysis of Lead Arsenate for Water Soluble Impurities." Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, Vol. I, No. 9, pp. 659-661. I have been a member of the American Chemical Society since December 1907. My father was one of the one hundred thirty-three members of that society when it was founded in 1876 in New York. Present residence: 154 Huntington Ave., Boston, Mass.

FREDERIC WILLIAM GRIGG

After graduation, was in the office of the B. & A. R. R. at Allston, Mass. Was a student of Romance Languages in the Harvard Graduate School, 1906-'07, receiving the degree of A. M. in 1907. Is now engaged in the business of photography. Permanent address: Newtonville, Mass.

LOUIS GRILK

In real estate business and ranching at Bliss, Idaho, which is his present residence.

SIDNEY GUNN

Studied English in Harvard Graduate School, receiving degree of A.M. in June, 1905. I have taught on the Pacific Coast; at Brown University; and at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where I am at present Instructor in English. Present address: Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass.

WILLIAM KING GUNN

I've taught chiefly in the University School, Cleveland, O., though I've taken two years' vacation from that institution: one year (1908-'09) when I taught in the Country Day School, Newton, Mass., in order to regain the Bostonian point of view and to be near the Stadium; and the other, when I put in a little time at the Harvard Graduate School, and four months abroad with an old-school sea captain who spun yarns of mutinies he had survived. Every summer since graduation I have been connected with the Reewaydin Camps of Ontario, Canada, until now my opinions are listened to with at least tolerance by the Injin guides. The chief societies I belong to are the University Club of Cleveland, and the Reewaydin Gigitowin, of which the latter is the harder to get into. Present residence: University School, Cleveland, O.

LEON ABBOTT HACKETT

Is assistant to engineer, engineering department, Everett Mills, Lawrence, Mass. Published "The Processes in Cotton Spinning'' in the Harvard Engineering Journal for January, 1910.

Married Florence May Kenrick, June 3, 1908, at Franklin, N. H. Kenrick Wadsworth Hackett, born November 3, 1909, at Methuen, Mass. Present residence: Fair Oaks Ave., Methuen, Mass.

FREDERICK HALDE HADDIX

Not heard from. Former address, Fort Worth, Tex., does not reach him.

WILLIAM HAGUE

Have been with the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining Co., Bisbee, Ariz., for the most part; with the exception of a year and a half when I was working in Mexico and traveling in the United States. Present residence: Bisbee, Ariz.

MILTON HAHN

I received the degree of M.D. from Johns Hopkins in 1907, and am now an interne at Mount Sinai Hospital, New York, N. Y.

HERBERT MILLER HALE

Immediately upon graduation I joined that profession, civil engineering, whose membership act that part of the song ''Didn't he ramble'' and give as their address the particular place where they happen to hang their hat. After working for a short time on the Pennsylvania R. R. in Chicago, I drifted back to New York City where for three years I was with the Rapid Transit R. R. Commission as assistant engineer in tunnel construction in the Broadway Subway. Resigning my position in September, 1907, I spent a year and a half designing water works for the New York Board of Water Supply. In February, 1909, I was sent into the outskirts of the Rip Van Winkle country to my present work as section engineer of one half of the Roudout Pressure Tunnel, a portion of the Catskill Water project for New York City.

Having contracted the fever Rip had for returning to his old haunts I intend to ramble back to the company of "learned men" to which subsequent classes have been admitted by virtue of their Degrees, and so join in the Sexennial of the Class of 1904. I am affiliated with the American Society of Civil Engineers; the Association of Harvard Engineers; and the Harvard Engineering Society of New York. Present residence: High Falls, N. Y.

EDWIN OSCAR HALL

I left Cambridge to take a position in Berkeley, Cal., as private secretary of Professor Carl C. Plehn, Dean of the College of Commerce of the University of California. During my year with Professor Plehn, I also worked on the Manufacturing Census in San Francisco under the direction of the Director of the Census at Washington. After a year with Professor Plehn, I came to Honolulu, and held the position of assistant registrar of Kamehameha Schools for one year. I then came into the firm of E. O. Hall & Son, Ltd., hardware, ship chandlery, etc., founded by my grandfather, E. O. Hall, in 1850, and was Auditor of said firm until I became Secretary about a year ago.

In April, 1910, I expect to move to Bangor, Me., as my health is better in a cold climate, where I shall be in the firm of Blake, Barrows & Brown, bankers and insurance agents. I shall be in the insurance department. I am a member of Delta Upsilon and of the Harvard Club of Hawaii.

Married Margaret Brown, daughter of William Edwin Brown and Harriet Blake Brown, August 1, 1906, at Honolulu, T. H. Present residence: Bangor, Me.

FRANCIS MARCUS HALL

I graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1906, since which time I have been engaged in the practice of law. Business address: 52 William St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 215 West 23d St., New York, N. Y.

LYMAN DAVID HALL

Since leaving Cambridge, I have received degree of Bachelor of Laws from New York Law School, and have been practicing law in New York City up to the present.

Business address: 507 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 425 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

IRVING KENT HALL

On leaving college, I entered the firm of Carter, Macy & Co., tea merchants, 142 Pearl St., New York, N. Y., who sent me to Formosa, where I remained for three years, with the exception of short trips to Japan and China during the winter months. At the end of this period I returned to America via Suez Canal and Europe; and, after a few months vacation, I went again to Formosa, where I have been for the last two years. I am at present again located with the company in New York, where I expect to remain permanently.

WILLIAM MORTON HALL

Received degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School in 1906. Practicing law at 24 Broad St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 215 West 23d St., New York, N. Y.

RALPH HUBBARD HALLETT

Went into the Harvard Law School and graduated in 1906. I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1905.

Started in practice in the fall of 1906 with Edward E. Elder, Albert R. MacKissick, and John G. Brackett, all Harvard men who had formed a partnership with a general practice. In 1908 Mr. MacKissick withdrew, and in May, 1909, I was taken into the firm as a partner of Mr. Elder and Mr. Brackett, the firm to be known as Elder & Brackett, 6 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. I have been interested in politics, having worked for the adoption of a new charter for Boston, as a member of the Committee of One Hundred and as a speaker. I have also been a speaker for the Massachusetts Savings Bank Insurance League in their attempt to establish cheap insurance for the laboring classes. Present residence: 568 Broadway, South Boston, Mass.

CHALKLEY JAY HAMBLETON

Is in the real estate business at 189 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

Married Elizabeth McMurray, daughter of John Henry McMurray and Elizabeth (Whittaker) McMurray, December 5, 1906, at Boston, Mass. Present residence: 609 Rush St., Chicago, Ill.

CHARLES PACE HAMILL

After graduating from Harvard College, I entered the Harvard Law School. My health prevented my returning in the autumn of 1905. Until 1908, I spent my time at home, in Colorado and in California. Part of the years 1908-'09, I was engaged in helping to develop a piece of oil property in the Beverly field in California. In the autumn of 1909 I re-entered the Harvard Law School and intend to complete the course. In 1907, I was appointed a member of the St. Clair County Committee of the Illinois State Board of Charities. Present residence: 35 Walter Hastings Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

WALTER HAMILTON

During the school year of 1904-'05, I taught Latin and History at Princeton High School, Princeton, Ill. The next three years I spent in the Harvard Law School from which I was graduated with the degree LL.B. in June, 1908. Since July, 1908, I have been connected with the law firms of Aldrich & McAuley and Aldrich & McRoberts, 205 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill. Present residence: 923 Windsor Ave., Chicago, Ill.

JOSEPH ROCHEMONT HAMLEN

In July, 1904, I entered the employ of J. H. Hamlen & Son, Portland, Manufacturers and Exporters of Lumber and Cooperage, and West Indian Commission Merchants, and I have been with them ever since. I have been much of the time at the mills in Little Rock, Ark. In 1907, I spent the winter in the West Indies, Central and the northern part of South America. In 1908, and 1909, I made trips to Europe. I regret to state that honors, degrees, literary pursuits, public offices, and marriage have had no attractions for me. Such omissions of duty should be deplored. Present residence: 16 Carleton St., Portland, Me.

FRANK OGLEVEE HAMMOND

Is engaged in Journalism. Permanent address: 29 East Ave., Ithaca, N. Y.

HAROLD WILSON HAMMOND

My summer vacation of 1903 was spent in the office of Baring, Magoun & Co., bankers, in New York City, and upon graduation I again took up my work there. Starting as errand boy, in three years I occupied a position as foreign exchange shipper: Baring, Magoun & Co., agents for Baring Bros. & Co., Ltd., London, doing a large business in that line. At the end of three years, believing I had obtained a banking experience that would be valuable, I accepted a position as manager of a branch house in Boston for Wrenn Bros. & Co. While in New York I enjoyed the use of the Harvard Club very much, but my work was very confining and I only had a little time for recreation at golf.

Although in the employ of Wrenn Bros. & Co. I had a great deal of time for recreation at golf, yet I decided I wanted out-door work all the time and at the end of a year I took up the timber end of my father's lumber business where I am now employed. For three years I have been a member of the First Corps Cadets in Boston, taking part in the defence of Chelsea after the big fire in 1908, in the army manoeuvers at Pine Camp, N. Y., during the summer of 1908, and in the defence of Boston during the army and militia manoeuvers of 1909. I enjoyed these manoeuvers greatly and appreciate the training I received from my officers. Business address: care of E. J. Hammond Co., 79 Milk St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 1880 Beacon St., Brookline, Mass.

PARMLY HANFORD

After spending the summer of 1904 in traveling abroad, I entered the law school of New York University which, in 1906, conferred upon me the degree of LL.B. In the fall of 1906, I entered the law office of Merrill & Rogers, where I remained until March, 1908, and then transferred my services to the firm of Wallace, Butler & Brown.

My next move took place in April, 1909, when I went West—to Victor, Mont. There I carefully studied the many advantages of that country and the superior opportunities it offered for the rapid acquisition of fame and fortune, and in September, 1909, returned to New York to resume the practice of law—this time with the firm of Breed, Abbott & Morgan, 32 Liberty St., New York, N. Y., with whom I now am. Present residence: 28 West 71st St., New York, N. Y.

LLOYD BENJAMIN HAYES

In the summer of 1904, after graduation, I went to St. Louis, to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. In the fall of 1904 I entered the Harvard Law School. The summer of 1905 I spent on the farm in Alton, N. H. In the fall of 1905 I entered the Boston University Law School. In June, 1906, following the great fire and earthquake, I went to San Francisco via the Great Lakes to visit my brother and watch the new San Francisco rise from ruin and desolation. Returning in the fall of 1906, via Portland, Seattle, Vancouver, Spokane and St. Paul, I continued my work in the Law School and tried the Massachusetts Bar examination in December, but did not pass till in June, 1907, when I completed my law course and on again trying the examination, passed and was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in August. In the fall of 1907 I went to St. Paul, Minn., in the employ of the West Publishing Company and after two weeks preparation at the home office entered upon my duties as representative of that house in Georgia and Florida where my work took me into every county seat, brought me in contact with the leading men, and gave me a close view of social, commercial and political conditions, typical of Southern conditions generally. In May, 1908, I came North and spent the summer on the farm in Alton, N. H. On October 13, 1909, I came to Laconia, N. H., and entered the law office of S. S. Jewett. On June 26, 1909, after two days' examination, I was admitted to the New Hampshire Bar and the present time finds me patiently waiting my turn on the ladder of fame. Present residence: Laconia, N. H.

WILLIAM OTTIWELL HAZELTINE

Was on the stage for a number of years. My last engagement was as "Pickering" in "House of a Thousand Candles" which failed in New York City two years ago at Daly's Theatre. Then went back to my old business of fire-insurance. Now a special agent for the German-American Insurance Co., 1 Liberty St., New York, N. Y.

Married Stella Augusta Hale, daughter of Edwin Hale and Lucinda Hale, May 11, 1901, at New York, N. Y. Present residence: 134 East 19th St., New York, N. Y.

DAVID HEALD

Since June, 1903—I had leave of absence from the college for the year 1903-'04—I have been connected in one capacity or another with the Harvard College Library. When the Medical School moved into its new building in 1906 and developed a desire for an organized library and library-service, I was loaned to it and spent eight months, December, 1906, to June, 1907, in getting the several libraries into shape and starting them on the paths of righteousness. The rest of my time has been spent in the College Library at Cambridge. At present I am described in the college catalogue as an "Assistant in the Catalogue and Shelf Departments." I have received no degrees, have held no public offices, have written nothing, have not traveled, and am not married. Present residence: 9 Franklin St., Watertown, Mass.

FREDERICK ELBRIDGE HEATH

At the time I entered the Class I was minister of the old First Church (Baptist) in Weston, one of the most beautiful suburbs of greater Boston. As I was anxious to better equip myself for a special work in my profession, I finally resigned and came to Cambridge, continuing my studies at Harvard and preaching as opportunity offered. I made Sociology my hobby, studied the problems of city life, especially of the social and industrial conditions among the down-town classes and was called to the pastorate of the Old Tabernacle (nearly one hundred years old) in the West End of Boston. I began my service on November 19, 1905; was settled as pastor February, 1906.

I found a discouraged church about to give up the battle. Today we have a fine working institutional church. I have five salaried assistants and six voluntary assistants. Men's Clubs and Women's Clubs have been formed. Clubs and classes also among the Jews and Italians. Instruction free in Elocution, Music, etc., etc. A large summer school for the foreign children has been operated for two seasons. We have created an open church where the workers are actively engaged every day in the year. Several Harvard students give their service in Boy's Clubs, gymnasium, literary work, etc., etc. Services and Clubs meet every night except Saturday. We have no large congregation but minister to from one thousand to fifteen hundred people every week. Lectures and entertainments are given. Have served as director of various organizations in Boston. Have written pamphlets on the "Down-Town Church" and lecture frequently on the various problems of the submerged masses in our city life.

Married Bessie Wilson Maxwell, daughter of Charles Maxwell and Lydia Maxwell, August 18, 1897, at Bath, Me. Children: Maxine Gladys Heath, born August 25, 1898, at Spencer, Mass.; and Frederick Elbridge Heath, Jr., born December 25, 1903, at Weston, Mass.

JOHN CLEVES HENDERSON

I left Harvard in June, 1902, in order to enter West Point Military Academy, from which I graduated on June 12, 1906, standing 28 in a class of 78. I was appointed 2nd Lieutenant, Field Artillery, and was assigned to what was then the 27th Battery, now Battery "D," of the 4th Artillery. I joined at Mount Gretna, Pa., where the battery was participating in manoeuvers then being held there. We marched back to Fort Ethan Allen, Vt., where the battery was regularly stationed, and I remained there till April 4, 1907. I was appointed 1st Lieutenant to date from January 25, 1907. From Ethan Allen we went to Vancouver Barracks, Wash., and thence to the Philippine Islands. While on the way to Manila, I was transferred from the Field to the Coast Artillery and returned to the United States two months after arriving in Manila, having traveled, during the short time I was in the Philippines, all round the Southern Islands. I arrived in San Francisco about the 15th of August, 1907, and immediately left for Fort Flagler, Wash., my present station, where I arrived on the 20th of the same month. While here I have performed various military duties. I am at present commanding the 94th Company, Coast Artillery Corps.

Married Blanche Burdick Ingalls, daughter of Frank Lewis Ingalls and Ella Ogden Ingalls, December 20, 1909, at Crown Point, Ind. Present residence: Fort Flagler, Wash.

GEORGE B HENDRICKS

During the year 1904-'05, I was in the Graduate School of Harvard studying Economics. I attended Harvard again during 1907-'08. In the spring of 1908 I received the degree of A.M. in Economics. Since that time, I have held the position of Assistant Professor of Economics in the Utah Agricultural College, Logan, Utah. Last summer (1909) was spent in Chicago University and the University of Wisconsin. Present residence: Logan, Utah.

RICHARD TOWNSEND HENSHAW

The fall after graduation I entered the Episcopal Theological Seminary, Cambridge, Mass., from which institution I was graduated with the degree of B.D. in June, 1907. In June, 1905, I received the degree of A.M. from Harvard for extra work done during my four years there. On Trinity Sunday, 1906, I was ordained a deacon by Bishop Greer, in the Church of Zion and St. Timothy, New York City, and was made priest by the same Bishop at St. John's Chapel, New York City, on Trinity Sunday, 1907. From October, 1907, to June, 1908, I worked under the direction of Bishop Greer at the Bronx Church House, New York City, in charge of the boys' club work. I also acted as assistant at St. Mary's Church, Motthaven. In June, 1908, I accepted the rectorship of the Church of the Holy Communion, Norwood, N. J., with the charge of St. John's Chapel, Bergenfield, N. J., and a mission district covering nine suburban towns, in which I afterwards formed another congregation, at Haworth. Became rector of Christ's Church, Rye, N. Y., April 1, 1910.

Married Clara Ambler Venable, daughter of Charles Fontaine Venable and Nannie (Hocker) Venable, July 29, 1908, at Litchfield, Conn. A son, John Handy Henshaw, 2d, born August 7, 1909, at Norwood, N. J. Present residence: Christ's Church Rectory, Rye, N. Y.

HAROLD WATERS HERSEY

I entered the Harvard Medical School in the fall of 1904 and was graduated with the degree of M.D. in June, 1908. I have been doing hospital work in all spare time since. In November, 1908, I entered Worcester City Hospital as house officer, which position I shall hold until June 1, 1910. Then I receive an eighteen months diploma from the hospital.

As soon as possible after leaving the hospital I intend to enter practice. As yet have not decided where, but am looking round for any good proposition. I should like to spend a short period in travel if possible, but shall be unable to do this unless I can do so in connection with my medical work. Present residence: Worcester City Hospital, Worcester, Mass.

*JOHN AMES HIGBEE *1907

John Ames Higbee, the son of George Howell Higbee and Frances Ann (Neally) Higbee, was born August 11, 1881, at Burlington, Ia. He was prepared for college at the Pomfret School, Pomfret, Conn. He died at Burlington, Ia., July 19, 1907.

HARRY LE GRANDE HILTON

I left Lawrence Scientific School in June, 1902, on authorized leave of absence and have not since resumed studies. From 1902, to June, 1903, was employed by J. H. Wallace, C. E., as surveyor and draftsman on construction of White Mountain Paper Mills, at Portsmouth, N. H. I left here to work as draftsman in Mr. Wallace's New York office, then for a few months was employed as transit-man by the Queen's County Water Company at Far Rockaway, L. I. From here I went to Bangor, Me., where I was employed for four years as Assistant City Engineer by P. H. Coombs, C. E., and Surveyor. In May, 1907, was appointed Assistant Civil Engineer at West Point, N. Y., where I am now located. I am an Associate Member of the American Society of Civil Engineers. Have at times run across members of '04 to our mutual pleasure.

Married Helen Clough Locke, daughter of Oliver Eldredge Locke and Belle Clough Locke, October 17, 1903, at Bangor, Me. Present residence: 24 Overlook Pl., Newburgh, N. Y.

ARTHUR INGERSOLL HOE

After leaving Harvard in the spring of 1904, I spent the summer in the country. In the fall I went to work in the factory of R. Hoe & Co., 504 Grand St., New York City, and have been employed there ever since. Present residence: The Warrington, New York, N. Y.

JOSEPH PIERRE HOGUET

GUERDON STEARNS HOLDEN

Spent year 1904-'05 in Harvard Law School. Studied law next two years and worked in office Kline, Tolles & Morley, Williamson Bldg., Cleveland, O. Passed Ohio Bar examinations at Columbus in June, 1907. Practiced law in employ of same firm till September 1, 1909. At that date assisted in the organization of the comptroller's office, in charge of the accounts of the Hollenden Hotel Co., Plain Dealer Publishing Co., and Goodhold Farm. Nominally this leaves me assistant to the comptroller, but also I am secretary, house attorney and director in each of the companies. In short, I am following my father's business, and doing such things and holding such jobs as are necessary to keep things up to the mark, so far as it is in my power.

I suppose the chief public work I have is as director of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, commonly credited to be the most influential paper in Northern Ohio, and with a circulation of over eighty thousand. Minor jobs of a public nature are election clerk of my village, and member of Standing Committee on Education of Cleveland Chamber of Commerce. With the exception of a three weeks' trip to the Class Triennial, and a four weeks' trip to Montreal, Maine, and Boston this summer, I have not been off the job over four days at a stretch since I left college. I am a member of the Cleveland Country Club, The University Club, The Cleveland Harvard Club, Cleveland Whist Club, and Chamber of Commerce. Present residence: Bratenahl, O.; P. O. address: Station H., Cleveland, O.

FRED HOLDSWORTH

From June, 1904, to May, 1906, I worked for the Draper Company, Hopedale, Mass., as a clerk in their Cost Department; but, not liking the work, I left to become a traveling salesman for The Luxemoor Co., of Vineyard Haven, Mass. Their company manufactured decorated leather, and sent me all over the country, east of the Mississippi, to introduce it. I followed this business from May, 1906, to October, 1907, and then, tired of leading the life of a traveling man, I came to Boston with the intention of entering the real estate business. I looked round for some time trying to find a partner, and finally induced James M. Hughes '04, a classmate at Harvard, to take up the business with me. Accordingly, about Thanksgiving, 1907, we opened an office and took a chance. Neither of us knew anything about the business and, consequently, things came slowly for awhile, but we kept up our courage and kept everlastingly at it until things began to come our way, with the result that today we have a very nice business under the firm name of Hughes & Holdsworth, 18 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. I am a member of the Boston City Club; but, aside from this, I am active neither in politics nor club life. Present residence: 33 Union Ave., South Framingham, Mass.

HARRY BOWLEY HOLLINS, JR.

In business at 74 Broadway, New York City.

Married Lilias Livingston, June 20, 1904. Present residence: East Islip, Long Island, N. Y.

CHARLES RICHARDSON HOLMAN

I took my Master's Degree at Harvard in 1905, and left America in 1906 with my family for an extended trip abroad. Have spent a year and a half in Great Britain, a year in Germany, and another in Switzerland. Have also visited France, Holland, Belgium, and Austria-Hungary. Among my pleasant experiences was a term at Oxford University in 1907.

Married Susan Lee Longstreth, daughter of John Cooke Longstreth and Susan Watson (Lee) Longstreth, October 11, 1893, at Philadelphia, Pa. Children: Stephen Holman, born June 25, 1895, at Worcester, Mass.; Rebecca Lee Holman, born October 24, 1897, at Worcester, Mass.; and John Longstreth Holman, born August 7, 1902, at Marblehead, Mass. P. O. address: care of British Linen Bank, Threadneedle St., London, England.

ROSCOE THORNE HOLT

Received A.M. from Harvard in 1905 and LL.B. in 1907. Traveled in Europe in summer of 1906. In practice of law with Sidney St. F. Thaxter '04, in firm of Thaxter & Holt, 120 Exchange St., Portland, Me. Present residence: 723 Congress St., Portland, Me.

CLAUDE NEWTON HOLWILL

Since leaving Harvard, December, 1901, have been a member of the Imperial Maritime Customs Service of China, stationed first at Ningpo; transferred to Peking in 1904. Sent to take charge of the Port of Chinwangtao in 1907. In 1907 had the rank of fifth civil degree conferred upon me making me a "blue button" Mandarin.

Married Caterina de Luca, daughter of Ferdinando de Luca and Sophie (Kennedy) de Luca, October 28, 1907, at Peking, China. Children: John Anderson Holwill, born October 4, 1908, and Claude Newton Holwill, Jr., born December 24, 1909; both at Chinwangtao, China. Present residence: Chinwangtao, China.

BERTHOLD SINN HORKHEIMER

After graduation, I entered the Harvard Law School, where I received the degree of LL.B. in 1907. I was admitted to the West Virginia Bar in January, 1907, and to the New York Bar in February, 1908. Since that time I have been continuously associated in the practice of the law with Hays, Hershfield & Wolf, 115 Broadway, New York City. I am a member of the New York County Lawyers' Association and of the City Athletic Club. Present residence: The Ansonia, New York, N. Y.

JOHN BELTON HORNE

From June, 1904, to June, 1907, I was with the Western Electric Company in their New York house. In June, 1907, I went to Chicago to accept a position with their Chicago house and have remained there since that time. I am doing general electrical engineering work in connection with telephone central office equipments. Business address: care of Western Electric Co., Hawthorne, Ill. Present residence: 2405 South Lawndale Ave., Chicago, Ill.

JOHN BENJAMIN HORTON

I was only with the Class during the fall of 1902, when I came to do some higher work in English with the idea of teaching. Ill health compelled me to quit studying and return home to Topeka, Kan. Got better and went to Berkeley, Cal., the next fall. After a term at the University of California I went over to the Philippines. Worked three months in the Manila Post Office, then taught school a year in Sorgon Province. The climate there was rather severe on me and I returned to the United States in the spring of 1905. Since then I have gotten into railroading, liking it better than teaching for my part, and have, up to now, been for the most part in the Santa Fé Offices in Topeka.

Married Margaret Helen Lofinck, daughter of Reuben E. Lofinck and M. I. (Wilcox) Lofinck, July 26, 1909, at Topeka, Kan. Present residence: 1014 Van Buren St., Topeka, Kan.

GORDON DAVID HOUSTON

After graduation I accepted a position as Instructor in English, at Tuskegee Institute. After one year, I was promoted to the position of head of the English department, having administration of the largest department. I remained at Tuskegee three terms, returning every summer to New England for private study. I accepted a trial position in the Colored High School of Baltimore, after leaving Tuskegee, and taught English and History. At the completion of my trial year, I was promoted to head of the department of English and History, the position which I have since retained. My travels have been very limited. During my sojourn in the South, I made visits to different sections of Alabama, Louisiana, and Florida. My writings have been as limited as my travels. I have, however, made contributions to educational magazines in which Negroes are especially interested; but such literary achievement has been too insignificant to merit more than passing notice.

Married Dora Mayo Lawrence, daughter of George Lawrence and Annie Marie Lawrence, August 20, 1907, at Tuskegee Institute, Ala. A daughter, Dorothy Maud Houston, born November 26, 1908, at Baltimore, Md. Present residence: 588 Presstman St., Baltimore, Md.

JOHN RAYMOND HOWARD, JR.

The summer of 1904, I tutored a small boy, as formerly. The winter of 1904-'05, I attended the Boston School for Social Workers, being registered in Harvard College, and residing and working in South End House Social Settlement. June, 1905, to January, 1906, I "rested," by orders of the doctor, first in the Canadian back country, and then in Boston. January 1, I undertook the Headworkership of Welcome Hall, Buffalo, N. Y., a social settlement, succeeding therein a certain Roy Smith Wallace. The scope of my work there is indicated by the following interests: volunteer probation officer; director Juvenile Improvement Association; George Junior Republic Auxiliary; Playground Association; and Association for Relief and Control of Tuberculosis; member six Committees of the Charity Organization Society and chairman of two; president of the Consumers' League, Settlement Federation, and Social Workers' Club; helped to organize Settlement Federation, Social Workers' Club, Playground Association, and Association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis; and to establish a free dispensary and the sale of modified milk to the poor; author of article on "Buffalo," for the New Encyclopedia of Social Reform, and of Study on "Standard of Living Among Workingmen's Families in Buffalo," made for the 9th New York State Conference of Charities and Correction, and published by Russell Sage Foundation as Appendix to Chapin's "Standard of Living in New York City." In September, 1909, I moved to Philadelphia, Pa., to become General Secretary of the Starr Centre Association, 725 Lombard St., a philanthropic organization devoted to the special needs of an enlarging neighborhood.

I was married to E. Daisie Davis, daughter of Charles Wesley Davis and Elizabeth Hunt Davis, May 30, 1906, at Montreal, Canada. Children: John Raymond Howard, 3d, born July 6, 1908, at Buffalo, N. Y.; and Evelyn Howard, born December 19, 1909, at Ardmore, Pa.

Early marriage and subsequent children have absorbed all my surplus, and several other peoples'; so that, when Class reunions come round, all I can do is to stay at home, and send sound advice, to wit: To the single, get married; to the married, beget, that your lives may yield their increase and the sons of Harvard may be the sons of Harvard men. Present residence: 126 Cricket Ave., Ardmore, Pa.

*CARL HAYNES HOWE *1906

At the opening of college in 1900, when our Class came together in Cambridge, half a dozen 1902 men were making up the necessary members to hold a "club" table at Randall Hall. They gathered in a number of Freshmen, Carl Howe and myself included. Maybe some of the rest of us at the table seemed irrepressible and were a source of care to our Junior friends, but the credit of our Class was kept up by Howe, who soon showed a dignity and intellectual ability to compensate for some of the others. The men at the table soon learned to call him "Deke" (short for "Deacon") and at the same time to expect him to talk with more sense than should be expected of a Freshman.

For the next four years, although the personnel of that table went through many changes, Carl Howe and a few of the rest of us still ate together. I became very well acquainted with him during that time. He was a thorough student, and devoted himself constantly to his class work, but was at the same time a good companion afield and we traveled together about the surrounding country on many excursions, both afoot and on the river. He was particularly good with a paddle from his camping experience in the northern woods.

While he was first and last a student, and doing a grade of work that brought him a "magna" with his degree, he never let others who did not qualify for that distinction know of his own standing except as the information was dragged from him.

After our Class graduated, Carl Howe went back the next fall as a graduate student, but failing health interrupted the year's work and cut short his plans for preparing himself for advanced teaching work. Illness did not for a moment change his cheerful outlook, and a letter written only a few days before his death gave so little impression of the seriousness of his condition that, on my return to Boston a few days later, I was expecting to call on him at the hospital.

Carl Howe was born at Lancaster, N. H., February 1, 1880. He died at the Boothby Hospital in Boston on May 1, 1906, several weeks after undergoing a surgical operation in connection with a tubercular affection.

Dean Hurlbut said, "His record throughout his college course was one of distinction." The Class of 1904 has lost a man who was certain to have made a place for himself in the world of scholars and teachers.

THORNDIKE DUDLEY HOWE

I left college at Christmas time in my Sophomore year and went to work in a logging camp back of Milton Mills, Me. After two winters of this I was surveyor and buyer for a box shook factory in Union, N. H., and began cutting off some lots myself. The shook mill burned down in 1903, and I became interested as stock buyer for the Archibald Wheel Co., in Lawrence, Mass. Later, was given title of Superintendent and am still at it, and probably always shall be, as what money I have is here invested. Absolutely nothing interesting or unusual has happened to me. My wife's home is in Waco, Tex., so I have been down there several times by railroad, or by steamer via New Orleans. Stock buying brings me once in a while into the mountains of Kentucky—where, bye the bye, I've never seen a gun. In the fall I sometimes go moose hunting near St. John, N. B., or back of Moosehead. I regret to say I've had no honors or public posts unless you would call a membership on the board of a savings bank such. I couldn't get an A.B. at Harvard and no other college has revoked her judgment. On the whole life has been very satisfactory—but sometimes I wish something exciting would happen.

Married Anne Sturm Rotau, daughter of Edward Rotau and Kate Sturm (McCall) Rotau, April 27, 1904, at Waco, Tex. A son, Thorndike Dudley Howe, Jr., born September 20, 1905, at Lawrence, Mass. Present residence: 15 Logan St., Lawrence, Mass.

SILAS WILDER HOWLAND

For three years after graduation, in Harvard Law School, receiving degree of LL.B. in June, 1907. September, 1907, to July, 1908, practicing law in office of Byrne & Cutcheon, New York City. August, 1908, to date, general attorney for the receiver of the Southern Indiana Railway Co., and the Chicago Southern Railway Co. Office at Grand Central Station, Chicago, Ill. Member of Harvard Club of New York; West Side Tennis Club, and University Club of Chicago. Present address: Grand Central Station, Chicago, Ill.

FLOYD MORSE HUBBARD

Graduated from Colgate University in June, 1905. Taught at Perkiomers Seminary, Pennsburg, Pa., 1905-'06. Taught at Peddie Institute, Hightstown, N. J., 1906-'07. Traveled in England and France, summer of 1907. Have taught History in Colgate Academy, Hamilton, N. Y., since September, 1907. Present residence: Hamilton, N. Y.

HOWARD DE HART HUGHES

Studied law two years at the University of Washington Law School. Admitted to practice in fall of 1906. Practiced for one year with a private firm. Was then appointed to the Corporation Counsel's Office, Seattle, Wash. For the past two years have held office as Assistant Corporation Counsel of Seattle. Present residence: Flat 18, St. Paul Apartments, Seattle, Wash.

JAMES MAURICE HUGHES

July 1, 1906, to September 1, 1906, with Brainerd & Armstrong Silk Co., Baltimore, as bookkeeper. October 1, 1906, to December 1, 1907, with Boston & Maine R. R. at Union Station, Boston, as clerk in ticket office, ticket seller, and then assistant auditor on books in ticket office. December 1, 1907, to date, in present business of real estate and insurance with Fred Holdsworth '04, under firm name of Hughes & Holdsworth; to September 1, 1908, at 141 Milk St., Boston, since then at 18 Tremont St., Boston.

Married Elizabeth Scott Smith, daughter of George M. Smith and Elizabeth Smith, June 30, 1908, at Boston, Mass. Present residence: 1864 Beacon St., Brookline, Mass.

REGINALD MOTT HULL

After graduation from college, I became secretary to the Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, D.D., Bishop of Massachusetts, with whom I remained until the fall of 1907. After leaving him, I became the assistant secretary of the first Boston Finance Commission, losing my job when that Commission expired February 1, 1909. Last spring, when the committee appointed by the Corporation to take charge of Memorial and Randall Halls found their time inadequate for their many duties, they asked me to be their representative on the job. I was on the job seven weeks until Memorial closed when I began my work with the Cambridge Taxpayers Association. This fall commenced my work as Assistant in Government at Harvard. My travels have been no further afield than Montreal on the North and New York on the South; my honors inconspicuous; my degrees none; my writings anonymous; my public posts none beside those enumerated above. Present residence: 631 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

*WILLARD PEELE HUNNEWELL *1900

Willard Peele Hunnewell was born at Wellesley, Mass., July 4, 1882, the fourth child of Walter Hunnewell, '65, and the late Jane (Peele) Hunnewell. He prepared for college at Noble and Greenough's School, Boston, where he played on the school football team. His chief characteristic was his intense love for nature, as nothing pleased him so much as to be out in the open country with a fieldglass or microscope, where he would observe and study the various forms of life about him. Just after the opening of Freshman year he developed appendicitis and died at Wellesley on November 23, 1900.

LIVINGSTON DAVIS, '04.

E., Minneapolis, Minn.

DAVID MERRITT HUNTING

Worked two years for the Burton-Pierce Co., Boston, manufacturers of uniforms, and one year and a half for the Storage Grocery Co., wholesale grocers, Salem, Mass. Between these jobs I worked with my father who was a mechanical engineer, and last October I started in at Technology. I had intended to take a course in Mechanical Engineering on completing my college course, but was unable to do so. I expect to continue at Technology through this college year and longer if possible. Since leaving college, my father became an invalid and to be with him I stayed at home and worked with him as much as possible. Since his death in July, 1908, I have settled his estate. I have not been in a position to travel, and marriage is out of the question at present. Present residence: 26 Mason St., Salem, Mass.

HOWARD EDWARD HUNTINGTON

I left Cambridge February, 1903, to accept position as Assistant General Manager of Pacific Electric Railway in Los Angeles, Cal. In January, 1904, accepted position as General Manager of the Los Angeles Railway, my present position. Made a trip abroad in the fall of 1905.

Married Leslie T. Green, daughter of Adam T. Green and Harriet J. Green, August 16, 1905, at Berkeley, Cal. Children: Elizabeth Green, born June, 1906, at Los Angeles, Cal.; and Margaret Green, born January, 1908, at Pasadena, Cal. Present residence: Pasadena, Cal.

I have been in Ohio some months and am now at Vinal Haven, Me.

Married Florence Elizabeth Myrick, November 5, 1903, at Chelsea, Mass.

WILLIAM MINOT HURD

Did nothing until February, 1905, when I went back to Cambridge until June for a half course. Fall of 1905, started in at the Harvard Law School and finished the year, but was then absent for a year traveling. Returned to Law School in fall of 1907 and took degree in June, 1909. Began practice of law in Boston in July, 1909, with firm of Coakley & Sherman, 1109 Pemberton Bldg., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 38 Rangeley Park, Winchester, Mass.

CHARLES PHILLIPS HUSE

I studied Economics in the Graduate School of Harvard after graduation, receiving the degree of A.M. in 1905, and Ph.D. in 1907. In 1907-'08, I was Assistant in Economics at Harvard College and in 1908-'09 Instructor in Economics at Dartmouth College. Since September, 1909, I have been an Instructor in Economics at Harvard College. I am a member of the American Economic Association and the American Statistical Association. Present residence: 54 Thayer Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

*HENRY SHEAFE HUTCHINSON *1907

Henry Sheafe Hutchinson died in Philadelphia on June 19, 1907. He was the son of Emlen and Harriet Sheafe Hutchinson. He was born in Philadelphia, May 14, 1882, and prepared for college at St. Mark's School, entering Harvard in the fall of 1900. At school and college he ranked well in his studies, assimilating easily and intelligently what he set his mind upon. In college he selected courses principally in Philosophy and the languages, and as time went on, devoted himself rather more to Chemistry and medical subjects. He left Cambridge after his third year receiving his degree of A.B. in the spring of 1903 "as of the Class of 1904."

His college interests were by no means confined to scholarship. Physically powerful and well built, he was naturally drawn into athletics. He played end on his freshman football team and was one of the regular pitchers on his freshman nine. Thereafter he was a member of both varsity football and baseball squads and played in several varsity games. He was extremely musical. While he could not himself perform on any instrument, he was intensely fond of listening to others and was a devotee of the opera and orchestral music in general. In addition he was a member of various social and literary clubs, in all of which he took quite an active interest.

After graduating from Harvard, Hutchinson entered the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania where he devoted much of his time to the study of Neurology and Pathology. While there, he contributed various articles to the school publication which were considered of great merit. He spent several of his summer vacations in Europe. On these occasions he indulged his taste for listening to concerts and operas though he also took the opportunity of visiting many of the larger foreign hospitals. He received his degree of M.D. in June, 1907, but died shortly after. Had he lived, it is quite likely that he would have had some contributions to make to the knowledge of his profession as a result of the research work into which he had already plunged with energy and success. It may be said, however, that he belonged rather to the type of those who acquire than to those who make use of their learning in a productive form.

Though his attractive personal appearance as also his prominence in athletics tended to make Hutchinson quite generally known to his classmates, comparatively few of them knew him intimately. He was pre-eminently modest, sensitive, retiring, simple. Of rare ability he was, nevertheless, too humble minded to regard his accomplishments as out of the common run. It was, indeed, this very humility about which his friends had to argue with him, for his tendency was to be too distrustful of his own capacity. His was a nature which knew no shirking and whatever he undertook he threw himself into with body and soul. Impetuous and ardent he did not always maintain a proper proportion, but to those who knew him best he was one of the most lovable of men, a loyal, devoted, sincere friend, courteous, tender, and unselfish.

Edward A. Taft, Jr., '04.

JOHN BONNER HUTCHINSON

With the Concrete Bureau, 640 Old South Bldg., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Riverbank Court, Cambridge, Mass.

FAY INGALLS

Graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1907. Clerk in office of Strong & Cadwalader, attorneys at law, New York City, 1907, to April, 1908; then left to go into office of Byrne & Cutcheon, attorneys at law, 24 Broad St., New York City. In connection with my work there I am also Secretary of the Chicago Southern Bond and Security Holders Protective Committee. Present residence: 995 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

HORACE COLBY INGRAM

After leaving Harvard, I returned to my home in Indianapolis. I entered the office of an architect there, following out my professional studies, but left his employ to specialize in ornamental iron at the Brown-Ketcham Iron Works. In the fall of 1904 my father's business led our family to move to Chicago, where we still live. I entered the employ of The Winslow Bros. Iron Co., and remained with them about a year and a half. I decided then that I would prefer a general practice of architecture and entered the office of Shepley, Rutan & Coolidge. I remained with them something over two years, till the spring of 1908, when I took the state examination for a license to practice architecture. This examination I passed at the head of a class of thirty candidates and on May 1, 1908, opened an office on La Salle St., Chicago, in partnership with Mr. Elmo C. Lowe, M. I. T., '06. Our partnership lasted, according to previous agreement, one year; during which time we designed and built a number of buildings in Chicago. I then received an offer from Postler & Mahler, architects, 173 Marquette Bldg., Chicago, to become associated with them and have charge of their designing. Since I have been with them I have had the opportunity of designing many important buildings in Chicago and other cities of the West. Notable among them is a Union Station for St. Paul to be built in the near future and the six story Healy Specialty Shop for Detroit. This latter building is unusual in that its main façade is covered with the elaborate ornament of the Spanish Renaissance, carried out in colors, and it will probably be the largest and one of the most beautiful examples of that style in America.

As a recreation I have played golf most of my spare time, having been a member of the Midlothian Club for five years, during which time, I have "annexed" several kinds of medals. Last fall I had the leading tenor role in a musical comedy produced by the Architectural Club of Chicago, the success of which has resulted in the organization of "The Greenroom Club," a club which proposes to produce an original musical comedy once a year on an elaborate scale, all the parts being taken by young men. I have been elected president of this club, and expect during the next year to give most of my energies, outside of my profession, towards the establishment of what ought to prove an interesting new organization for Chicago. Present residence: 4919 Lake Ave., Chicago, Ill.

MALCOLM HYDE IVY

Is practicing law at 30 Court St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 83 Fairmont Ave., Newton, Mass.

JAMES JACKSON

After a six months' trip abroad through England, France, Italy, Switzerland, and Germany, I entered Lee, Higginson & Co., bankers, Boston, and have been with them since. In fall, 1909, took a trip, mainly for business, through the West.

Married Rachel Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd Brooks, June 27, 1904, at West Medford, Mass. Children: James Jackson, Jr., born April 27, 1905, at Boston, Mass.; Helen Jackson, born August 27, 1906, at Westwood, Mass.; and Rachel Jackson, born October 4, 1908, at Westwood, Mass. Present residence: Westwood, Mass.

JOHN KARL JACKSON

Immediately after graduation taught Voice Culture and Public Speaking at Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa., 1904-'06. Spent summer of 1906 in Europe in travel and study—vocal, principally, in London with William Shakespeare. Taught 1906-'07 at Tarkio College Conservatory of Music, Vocal Department. Came to Macomb, Ill., and took directorship of Macomb Conservatory in 1907. Have taught here ever since. Have done considerable concert work, and have had remarkable success with teaching. Present residence: 320 North Johnson St., Macomb, Ill.

WILLIAM LEWIS JEFFERY

Reported to be in the printing business at Gloucester, Mass.

EDWIN CLIFFORD JOHNSON

After leaving college, I went to work with my father, Henry A. Johnson, 221 State St., Boston, in the business of bakers and confectioners supplies; and have been there ever since. January 1, 1909, the business was incorporated and I was made vice-president. My interests are not many outside of business. I have been for three years secretary of the National Food Manufacturers Association, an organization that has been contending, among other things, for the use of benzoate of soda in certain food products and in connection with my duties as secretary have traveled some east of the Mississippi. Am at present interested in the work of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Was president of the Boston Salesmanagers Club, a small organization, for two years. Am secretary of my class at Boston Latin School, 1900. Principal interests are business and home. I shall look forward with anticipation to our Sexennial, and wish there was some way that we who are round Boston could get together oftener, if only to take lunch once a month or two (as '03 does). Why not have a Local Boston '04 Committee?

Married Eva Gertrude Stickney, daughter of Seth Paddleford Stickney and Minerva (Goss) Stickney, June 25, 1906, at Boston, Mass. Present residence: 158 Foster St., Brighton, Mass.

FREDERICK HARRISON JOHNSON

After leaving college, I resided in Boston two years studying the organ with Mr. Ernest Douglas, now organist of the Pro-Cathedral, Los Angeles, Cal. In January, 1906, I accepted the position of organist and choirmaster of All Saints Church, Methuen, Mass. From 1906, to 1908, I studied organ and composition with Mr. George E. Whiting, organist of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Boston. In 1907, I began studying the pianoforte, with Mr. George Proctor and am still studying with him. During the time I have been in Methuen I have given a great many recitals and musicals, which have been very successful. Present residence: All Saints Rectory, Methuen, Mass.

HAROLD CORTEZ JOHNSON

Reported to be employed by the Government in the Panama Canal Zone, Panama, but letters addressed there do not reach him.

JAMES GOODWIN JOHNSON

Since June, 1904, have been in the stock and bond business; employed chiefly as a bond salesman. Office at 208 Commercial St., Portland, Me.

Married Emily Browne Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Mitchell, November 18, 1907, at Portland, Me. Present residence: 43 West St., Portland, Me.

JASPER NICHOLS JOHNSON

I was a member of the Class of 1908 of the Harvard Law School, and am now parcticing law at Room 410, 53 State St., Boston. Present residence: 15 Southern St., Dorchester, Mass.

FRANCIS WAYLAND JOHNSTON

The year 1904-'05 was spent in the Graduate School, at the end of which year I received the degree of A.M. with Honors in Political Science. The following winter I was an Austin Teaching Fellow in Economics and a graduate student, passing the preliminary examination of those required for the Ph.D. The year 1906-'07 I was a clerk in the National Bank of Commerce of Boston. My vacation in the summer of 1907 was spent in travel in Colorado. Since then I have been a student at the Harvard Law School. During the winter of 1908-'09 I taught in the Evening Schools of Boston and the summer of 1909 was spent in a real estate office. During that summer I received an appointment as Notary Public in Massachusetts. Present residence: 7 Oakview Terrace, Jamaica Plain, Mass.

ALFRED WILDE JONES

Is salesman for Library Bureau, 43 Federal St., Boston, Mass.

Married Marion Graer Smith, daughter of Henry A. Smith and Graer M. K. (Crane) Smith, January 1, 1907, at Roxbury, Mass. A daughter, Marion Jones, born July 14, 1908, at Brookline, Mass. Present residence: 6 Colliston Rd., Brookline, Mass.

HAROLD MARSHALL JONES

Not heard from. Address unknown.

JOHN TAZEWELL JONES

The first position I held after leaving college was the position of assistant surveyor at Joe Leiter's coal mine at Zeigler, Ill. I held this position for three months, then I left on account of the labor troubles then prevailing there. I next obtained work with the Missouri Pacific R. R. at St. Louis as rodman. The Missouri Pacific sent me to Arkansas. After working as a rodman for awhile they promoted me to be a concrete inspector. I was sent along various divisions of the Missouri Pacific in Arkansas to inspect the construction of concrete arches, culverts, etc.

This work brought me in contact with contractors, and finally I took a position with a firm of contractors of Memphis, Tenn., as superintendent of their concrete construction work. In this latter position it was necessary for me to live in a railroad construction camp. The conditions, moral and physical, in a railroad construction camp in the South are somewhat wretched, and this particular camp was in one of the unhealthiest parts of America, in the lowlands along the Mississippi River, almost in the midst of a cypress swamp. I stayed at this work nine months, or until my system was impregnated with a kind of swamp fever, then I left.

It was necessary for me to come North, where I obtained a position with the Sante Fé R. R. as transit-man. I held this position for a year, when I left to take a position with the Robert W. Hunt Co., civil and consulting engineers, 1121 Rookery Bldg., Chicago. My work with this latter company consisted of general engineering and inspecting work. A firm of this nature would naturally feel the hard times that occurred during the financial and industrial depression of 1907-'08, and after working for the R. W. Hunt Co. for fifteen months I was finally let out during the hard times of 1907-'08. In May, 1908, I was engaged as concrete inspector by the Chicago & Northwestern R. R., Orin, Wyo., which position I still hold. Present residence: Orin, Wyo.

SHADRACH CARRINGTON JONES

ROBERT WILSON KELSO

I entered the Law School of Harvard University in the autumn of 1904, taking degree of LL.B. in June, 1907. During the school year 1904-'05, I was employed as an Assistant in Argumentation under Professor G. P. Baker. In December, 1905, I acted as coach of the 'Varsity debating team against Princeton. In the spring of 1906 I ran the quarter-mile dash on the 'Varsity track team. The summer of 1906 I spent at Mt. Desert, Me, in charge, as tutor, of a defective boy. Ditto in the summer of 1907. In January, 1907, I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar. In October, 1907, I entered the office of Fish, Richardson, Herrick & Neave, attorneys at law, Boston, where I remained until May, 1909. Between December, 1905, and May, 1909, I acted as coach to two other 'Varsity debating teams, one against Princeton, the other against Yale.

In May, 1909, I became general secretary of the North American Civic League for Immigrants, a national organization with present headquarters at Boston. In November, 1909, I was appointed Secretary to the Massachusetts State Board of Charity, a position which I now hold. In April, 1909, I was appointed Instructor in Argumentation and Debating in Harvard College to succeed Professor G. P. Baker in these branches. These courses I am teaching during the present college year.

Married Susie Belle Starr, daughter of Judson Starr and Dollie Schnebley Starr, June 19, 1909, at Peoria, Ill. Present residence: 55 Sacramento St., Cambridge, Mass.

ALEXANDER KENDALL

Attended Harvard Law School beginning with Senior year and graduating in 1906. Traveled abroad (Europe) in the summer vacation of 1905. Entered the law office of the firm of Saltonstall, Dodge & Carter in Boston, September, 1906. Left them in September, 1907, and entered the law office of Tyler & Young in Boston. Stayed there until August, 1908. Opened an office of my own at 60 State St., September, 1908. Associated with Matthew Hale, Henry W. Palmer and Kennard Winsor (no partnership). Present residence: 1563 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

RALPH HAYWARD KENISTON

After a summer as a day-laborer on a truck-garden farm, I went to Colby College, Waterville, Me., as Instructor in Latin in the autumn of 1904. The following year was appointed School-tutor at the Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn., where I remained until 1907. After a summer on the continent with Lee Perrin, Yale '06, I entered the Harvard Graduate School to work in Romance Languages. For the academic year 1908-'09 I was Instructor in French in Harvard and for 1909-'10, Instructor in Romance Languages. In 1909, I was awarded the Dante Prize for a study of "The Dante Tradition," and Henry Holt & Co. now has in press an edition of Blasco Ibánez's novel "Sa Banaca" with an introduction, notes and vocabulary prepared by me. In February, 1910, I resigned my instructorship (receiving my degree of A.M.) to accept an appointment from the Hispanic Society of America to prepare a series of biographical and bibliographical monographs on Spanish men of letters. Present residence: 152 West 91st St., New York, N. Y.

CHARLES AMBROSE KENNEALY

Present residence: 2100 Adelbert Rd., Cleveland, O.

EDWARD CLEMENT KERANS

Until July, 1909, I was engaged in tanning and manufacturing fancy leather. Since that time I have been associated with the B. V. Harrison Co. of New York City. At present I am carrying on negotiations with a large firm in Boston—I am not at liberty to mention the name—with a view of making a deal with them. My public duties have been confined to serving two years on the Finance Committee of the town of Danvers. Present residence: 24 Conant St., Danvers, Mass.

THOMAS FRANCIS KERRIGAN

Two years' ill health prevented my graduation with Class in 1904. Received A.B. degree "as of 1904" in 1906. Entered Harvard Law School in September, 1906. Admitted to Massachusetts Bar in February, 1909. Received degree of LL.B. June, 1909. Went at once into law practice. Am in business for myself at 284 E St., South Boston, Mass. Present residence: the same.

RICHARDS CARROLL KIBBEY

1905, I spent at the Massachusetts Agricultural College. In 1906, graduated from Iowa Agricultural College with degree of Bachelor of Scientific Agriculture. In 1907, spent six months traveling through Europe from England to Denmark, investigating agricultural subjects and methods of farming. In 1908, took charge of dairy herd of certified milk plant in Pennsylvania. In 1908, entered government service, as Expert in Animal Husbandry, was stationed in Vermont. In 1909, began farming in Virginia, and am now trying to improve a large tract of rather poor land and experimenting with crops and fertilizers at "Morgan's Mill," Bluemont, Va.

HENRY MAYNARD KIDDER

Spent summer of 1904 in France and England. From October, 1094, to October, 1906, employed by Crane Co., Bridgeport, Conn., manufacturers of valves and pipe fittings. 1906-'09, attended Harvard Law School, receiving degree of LL.B. in June, 1909. Spent summer of 1909 at Woods Hole, Mass. September, 1909, to date, clerk in office of Huntington, Rhinelander & Seymour, attorneys-at-law, 54 William St., New York, N. Y. Denver office: 229 Century Bldg. Have had a busy, interesting time, in a quiet way, and have seen most of the mine posts in the Western States. Hope to see the others, too. Present residence: Barr, Colo.

DOUGLAS BROOKS KIMBALL

On Class Day, 1904, I sailed from New York to Cherbourg, and traveled through France. Crossed to England and traveled there, then to Ireland, and finally to Scotland, returning to New York in October. Entered the Harvard Law School immediately upon returning to Cambridge and finished the year. The following year I spent in mixed pleasure and business pursuits, being in Cambridge off and on during the year. In the fall of 1906 I entered the second year of the Law School and completed it. The next year was my third year at the Law School. In December, 1907, I took the Massachusetts Bar examinations and was admitted with eighty-five others in February, 1908. Was compelled to resign from the Law School just two weeks before the final examinations owing to ill health.

I returned to my home in Salt Lake City in June, 1908, where, after a few weeks' rest and recuperation, I entered the law office of Van Cott, Allison & Riter, 703 Utah Savings & Trust Bldg., where I am at present. My success has been encouraging. Have been admitted to both the State Bar and United States Bar for Utah. Have not seen Cambridge since that time, but expect to be on hand several times at the Class and Commencement Day re-unions as 1904 grows younger. Present residence: 124 Sixth East St., Salt Lake City, Utah.

ERNEST ROBBINS KIMBALL

Is engaged in civil engineering. Permanent address: 336 Mystic St., Arlington, Mass.

*MITCHELL KING *1906

Mitchell King, the son of Alexander Campbell King and Alice May (Fowler) King, was born January 9, 1883, at Atlanta, Ga. He prepared for college at the Donald Fraser High School, Decatur, Ga., and entered the Class of 1902 at the University of Georgia, from which he graduated with the degree of A.B. He then came to Harvard for an additional year in college and in the fall of 1903 entered the Harvard Law School.

Because of illness King was forced to leave the Law School in December, 1904. This illness hung on him for the next two years: apparent improvements were succeeded by returning weakness, and on August 17, 1906, he died at Flat Rock, N. C.

R. S. W.

MOSES KING, JR.

After graduation, I spent a month in St. Louis at the World's Fair and then came to New York and entered the employ of the Western Electric Company in the telephone engineering department where I continued until early in 1908. The latter part of February of that year I left that company and entered my father's business when he was very ill and unable to attend to it. I have since continued in the same work. My father died in June, 1909, since which time I have carried on his business of publishing books of views of various cities and places and am at present engaged in this work at 34 West 33d St., New York City.

In June, 1905, I received the degree of S.B. in Electrical Engineering at Harvard the work for which I had completed in 1904 together with the work for the degree of A.B. I have served one enlistment in the Seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y., and am still serving with the colors. My vacation in 1906 was spent in Jamaica, West Indies, but with this exception have traveled very little.

Married Margaret Birdsey Beardsley, daughter of Louis W. Beardsley and Mary B. Beardsley, September 19, 1908, at Monroe, Conn. Present residence: 534 West 152d St., New York, N. Y.

HERMAN BRUNSWICK KIPPER

Received degree of A.M. from Harvard in 1905. Was Austin Teaching Fellow at Harvard, 1905-'07. Received Ph.D. in 1907. Chemist at Solvay Process and Semet-Solvay's Co., Milwaukee, Wis., during past year. Published with Professor H. A. Torrey of Harvard: "Hydrazones of orthohydroxyketones, alkali in soluble phenols." Present residence: Milwaukee, Wis.

JAMES DOUGLAS KIRKPATRICK

After graduating, I went to teach in the Middlesex School, Concord, Mass.; remaining there two years. During the summer of 1905 I studied at the University of Grenoble, France. On leaving the Middlesex School, I went to Montana and worked on a ranch there during the summer of 1906. From there I went to Nordhoff, Cal., where I taught for a year in the Thacher School. During the following summer I reported on the San Francisco Chronicle. The following winter I taught in the Eastern High School, Washington, D. C. I left this position to become Assistant Manager of the Bureau of University Travel of Boston. While with them I traveled over most of the Northeastern States and over Europe as far north as the Rhine and as far east as Constantinople. I am now teaching Algebra in the Hillshouse High School, New Haven, Conn.

Married Ethel May Bartholomew, daughter of James Daye Bartholomew and Anna Chandler Bartholomew, September 1, 1909, at Wallingford, Conn.

SIDNEY ALEXANDER KLEIN

Attended the Harvard Law School for a while after graduation from college, but returned to his home in Cincinnati, O., in February, 1906, because of illness. Present residence: 766 Greenwood Ave., Avondale, Cincinnati, O.

HAROLD KNOWLTON

With firm of William Knowlton & Sons, manufacturers of ladies' straw and felt hats, West Upton, Mass., and 564 Broadway, New York City.

Married Frances Henrietta Raffty, daughter of Thomas E. Raffty and Katherine E. Raffty, December 3, 1903, at Boston, Mass. Present residence: West Upton, Mass.

*CHESTER WIGHT KNOX *1906

Born at Winchester, Mass., March 9, 1882, the son of Warren L. and Louisa M. (Johnson) Knox, he fitted for college in the Wesleyan Academy at Wilbraham, Mass. He entered Harvard with the Class of 1904, but remained there only one year, leaving in 1901 to attend the School of Mines and to engage in practical mining, at Butte, Mont., where he received the degree of E.M.

During 1902 and 1903 he was assistant engineer and assistant superintendent at various mines at Cripple Creek, Colo., during the time of the great miners' strike, when the city was much of the time under martial law. In 1904, he purchased a mine in Boulder, Colo., which is now in successful operation. He was solicited to run for Mayor in the City of Boulder, and was otherwise prominent in the social and church life of the city.

On June 21, 1904, he married Miss Ruth M. Bradley at South Framingham, Mass. Their only child, a boy, died when five months old.

In 1905, he opened first one and then another mining machinery house in Denver. The strenuous activity was too much for his strength, and he died October 13, 1906, at Boulder, Colo., from typhoid fever.

R. S. W.

LOUIS BESANT DE KOVEN

Entered Knickerbocker Trust Co., New York City, and was there two years. Went into the bond business in Mills & Co. Went to Norway in summer of 1906; and on my return, associated myself with the brokerage house of J. W. Davis & Co. Was Assistant Manager of their up-town office for two years and have now returned to their main office, 100 Broadway. As a side issue I have been appointed receiver and trustee of several Connecticut bankrupt firms. Member of the New York Harvard Club and Alliance Française. Present residence: 39 East 75th St., New York, N. Y.

EDWARD AUGUSTUS KRACKE

From October, 1903, until July, 1904, I traveled, covering some ten States through the Mississippi Valley, for a New York bank, soliciting accounts from banks. Then I became connected with the Bankers' Realty & Security Co., real estate operators, severing my connection with them in March, 1907, to become Secretary of the Empire Development Co., also real estate operators, 309 Broadway, New York City, and am still so connected.

Married Leonora Share, daughter of Henry Pruett Share and Selena V. Share, May 14, 1905, at Brooklyn, N. Y. A son, Edward Augustus Kracke, Jr., born January 22, 1908, at Brooklyn, N. Y. Present residence: 173 Hawthorne St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

EDWARD BELL KRUMBHAAR

Studied in University of Pennsylvania Medical School for four years, receiving M.D. in 1908. Member of Alpha Omega Alpha Honorary Fraternity and Sigma Epsilon Honorary Scientific Society. Also member of H. C. Wood Medical Society. Joined First Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry, in 1905. Shot three years on rifle team, twice in State competitions at Mt. Gretna, and once in National matches at Seagirt. Shot on University of Pennsylvania rifle team in 1908. In Tours and Vienna (studying medicine) in summer of 1906. Resident Pathologist, Pennsylvania Hospital, 1908-'09, and am now a Resident Physician in the same hospital. Medical Papers: Poliencephalitis Superior, with report of a case with Necropsy," U. of P. Med. Bull., May 1908; "On the growth of our knowledge of Stokes—Adams Disease," U. of P. Med. Bull., October, 1908; "Enlargment of the Hypophysis Cerebris and its relation to Aeromegaley," Bull. Ayer. Clin. Lab., December, 1908; "Solitary Tubercle of the Aorta, occurring in a case of Generalized Tuberculosis," Bulletin Ayer. Clin. Lab., December, 1908. Present residence: Wynnewood, Pa.

CURTIS EDMUNDS LAKEMAN

Went to work July 5, 1904, as a clerk in the business department of the Review of Reviews Co., New York City. Was later manager of their collections department for a time, but left in March, 1905, with the intention of taking up social and civic work. Was for a time engaged in census work at Ipswich, Mass; and during summer of 1905 took Civil Service examination and was later offered positions in Washington, which were declined, as I had connected myself in October, 1905, with the City Club of New York. Was successively, financial clerk, legislative clerk, and assistant secretary. Resigned in August, 1907, to become secretary of the New York State Water Supply Commission. In January 1910, I resigned to become Secretary to the President of the Board of Health, Dr. Ernst J. Lederle, which position I now hold. Address. Department of Health, New York City.

Principal interests are government and sociology, especially the function of the State in promoting general welfare. Received A.M. at Harvard in 1905. Student at Columbia part of 1906. Articles: "State Control of Water Power," Review of Reviews, January, 1909; "Governor Hughes—Leader in the State Conservation of Water Power," Leslie's Weekly, April, 1909. Considerable unsigned writing in connection with work.

Married Katharyn L. Brown, daughter of E. Newton Brown and Eliza A. Brown, June 30, 1908, at Ipswich, Mass. Present residence: 149 St. Nicholas Terrace, New York, N. Y.

CHARLES FRANK LANDER

I have continued running a wood-working mill at 18 Eustis St., Roxbury, Mass., which I bought in 1903: I am slowly building it up. The same holds good of my farm which I am running at Reading, Mass. I expect to continue plodding for some time to come. Present residence: Reading, Mass.

CHARLES CHESTER LANE

I took my degree in June, 1903, and immediately afterwards went to work in the Athenaeum Press, Cambridge, Ginn & Company, proprietors. After learning to set type and to operate the simplex machines I was transferred to the editorial office in Boston as assistant to the Art Editor. During the summer of 1904 I traveled in England and France, returning to my work with Ginn and Company in the fall. In November, 1905, I was appointed Art Editor and Advertising Manager, a position that I held until my appointment as Publication Agent of Harvard University on May 1, 1908. I am a member of the Council and Secretary of the Boston Society of Printers and I am Chairman of the committee of the Alumni Association which has charge of the preparation of the Alumni Directory. I have held no public posts and I have written nothing, with the exception of a few short articles for the daily papers. Recently I bought a small farm in Shirley, Mass., which furnishes me with some recreation, provides a summer home for the family, and supplies enough vegetables and fruit to make me practically independent of market gardeners.

Married Emily Bouvé Osborn, daughter of Francis Augustus Osborn, and Emily Tracy (Bouvé) Osborn, September 7, 1907, at Hingham, Mass. A son, Charles Augustus Lane, born August 16, 1908, at Boston, Mass. Present residence: 47 Langdon St., Cambridge, Mass.

ROBERT LANE

On leaving college, I took the first job offered to me, which, luckily, was with a very good house, namely Blodget, Merritt & Co., 60 State St., Boston, Mass. I held only a very menial position, but I have been with them since 1904 and at present have a fairly good job in the selling end of the business. I regret to say that I am unable to report any honors, degrees, travels, or public posts as I have been confined to my business. Present residence: Weston, Mass.

JOHN LANG, JR.

When last heard of was at Seattle, Wash.

MIGUEL LAVANDERA

Not heard from. Address unknown.

AUGUSTUS LAWRENCE

I finished the college course in three years and was graduated with the degree of A.B. "as of the Class of 1904." I studied Mining Engineering while at college, but on graduation did not immediately take up the practice of it. I worked on the field engineering corps of the Erie Railroad until September, 1905—about a year and a half. While with this field corps I held different positions, starting as rear flagman and serving my apprenticeship in other positions on the corps up to levelman and topographer. In November, 1905, I went to Mt. Bullion, Mariposa County, Cal., where I worked in the Princeton Mine. I stayed here steadily for thirteen months, working first as a mucker, shovelling ore and later helping on one or another of the gangs timbering the mine—this for about eight months—and finally worked as a carman, pushing car-loads of ore from the stopes and chutes to the shaft on different levels in the mine, and also on the surface pushing carloads of ore to the mill. During this time I also had odd jobs as assistant chuck-tender to the men running the drilling machines and as a regular miner working with hammer and drill. At the end of these thirteen months of steady labor my enthusiasm for pushing cars and shovelling ore had sunk considerably; and, as the foreman would not give me other work, I left. I then went to the Fremont Mine near Drytown in Amador County, Cal., where the famous old Sutter Creek district is situated. I got a job here as a regular timberman and later as a machine-man, operating one of the drilling machines. After I had been here for five months I was fired. This was in April, 1907, just at the time of some big spring floods, which did a lot of damage in the Sacramento Valley.

I had but little money, about twenty dollars, or less, I think, and I could find no work near. After an inconvenient delay—due to a tie-up in trains as a result of the floods—I got to San Francisco. I got a job here as draughtsman for the Southern Pacific R. R. in their San Francisco offices. This was only a temporary position; and in July I left, and went to the town of El Oro in Mexico, about one hundred miles outside of Mexico City, and at an altitude of about ten thousand feet. I got a job here with the El Oro Mining & Railway Co., Ltd., as a mine sampler and later as a shift boss. I had to boss about a hundred Mexicans and their manner of working, or rather of not working, was difficult to become reconciled to after having worked myself in California, where the only chance of holding a job at all was to do a fair day's work. After trying various ways to keep these Mexicans busy—and having as a result of some methods rather startling experiences—I found out that it was necessary to treat them pretty much like children, humoring them as much as possible. I left there early in April, 1908, and returned to live and to work in the Eastern United States, having abandoned mining engineering. Since my return to New York I have been most of the time with my present employers, the Bureau of Municipal Research, 261 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: 466 Mott Ave., New York, N. Y.

CHARLES HENRY LAWRENCE, JR.

1904-'08, at Harvard Medical School, receiving degree of M.D., cum laude, in June, 1908. House Officer at Massachusetts General Hospital, 1908, till April 1, 1910. Present address: 79 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

*GEORGE LAWTON *1906

George Lawton was born at Ossining, N. Y., August 2, 1880, and was soon taken to Cuba, where his father had business interests. In 1889, upon the death of his parents, he removed to Hudson, N. Y., and made his home with relatives. He went to St. Mark's School and received personal tutelage until he entered Harvard in 1900. He was prominent in college club life and in musical and dramatic organizations, being a member of the Institute of 1770, D. K. E., Hasty Pudding, Phi Delta Psi, and the Varsity Glee Club. In his Senior year, he was manager of his class crew, and vice-president of the Varsity Glee Club. His interest in athletics was hindered only by injuries to his knee. In the Hasty Pudding theatricals he took a leading part and showed exceptional talent. In the spring of his Senior year, it became evident that Lawton was suffering from diabetes. Soon after Commencement, he identified himself with the firm of Johnson & Higgins, of New York. The disease grew gradually upon him, though he kept steadily at his work until April, 1906, when he journeyed to Bermuda for a holiday. In June, upon his return, he began to fail pitifully. It became necessary for him to quit his place of business, and go to St. Luke's Hospital. For nine weeks he was under skilful medical treatment. He was taken to Seal Harbor, Me., in the late summer, but was brought back to Rye, N. Y., in a serious condition, where he died on September 18, 1906.

There is scarcely a man in the Class of 1904, who does not recall the smiling eyes and stocky form of little "Jimmie" Lawton. I can see him vividly now, scurrying across the old Yard with some student of ordinary height, taking two pattering steps to his companion's single stride. I can see his keen, radiant face, as he nods pleasantly—always pleasantly—to acquaintances. I can hear him singing at the piano in a full, rich voice, well-trained and sympathetic. Everybody respected George Lawton. Everybody loved him. There was something distinctly attractive and fascinating about his presence. He had a sweet, winning way with him. His voice was a pleasure to all his friends. During his lingering illness, he was cheerful and brave and patient, until the very end. The gentleness of his character, so apparent in his happy college years, showed forth beautifully when his young life began to fade out. Life to him was "dearly joyous." He loved to be alive. He brought sunshine with him always; and now the path of memory is all sunshine.

J. S. Seabury, '04.

JAMES PAYTON LEAKE

Having taken my degree "as of 1904" at the preceding Commencement and entered the Harvard Medical School, I continued my work there and graduated in 1907. During my medical course I held assistantships in various outpatient clinics in Boston, and for one summer was camp doctor at a boys' camp in New Hampshire. During my last year at the Medical School I was resident physician at the Parental School Hospital, West Roxbury, Mass. Immediately upon graduation from the Medical School. I received an appointment as house officer at the Boston City Hospital. The winter of 1908-'09, I spent in Aiken, S. C., and in July, 1909, I received a commission in the Public Health Service. My first station was Chicago, Ill., where I remained until January, 1910, leaving there for my present tour of duty at Ellis Island, N. Y. Present residence: Ellis Island, New York, N. Y.

JOSEPH LEBOWICH

After leaving college, studied for several years in the Harvard Law School and the Harvard Graduate School. Is now practicing law at the Tremont Bldg., Boston, Mass.

CORNELIUS SMITH LEE

Reported to be with H. B. Hollins & Co., bankers, 74 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Present residence: Tuxedo Park, N. Y.

JOHN WILLIAMSON LEE

Worked in Wall Street one year. Spent a year in Nebraska, and for the past four years have been ranching in Colorado. Present residence: Cedaredge, Delta Co., Colo.

CHESTER ARTHUR LEGG

In September, 1904, I returned to the Harvard Law School, where I graduated in 1907. I then entered the practice of law at Chicago and am still here. From 1904-1907, I was Assistant both in History and Economics at Harvard College; and for the last two years of this period was staff correspondent for the Boston Transcript, for which paper I traveled twice throughout the country, observing and writing upon economic conditions with particular attention to national movements, such as that for railroad rate regulation, pure food legislation, etc. I am now President of the Marquette Club of Chicago, one of the leading Republican Clubs in the West. Was for two years Assistant United States Attorney at Chicago. Am now Counsel of the Executive Committees of the Board of Trade of Chicago, 63 Board of Trade Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Married Anna Maud Dickson, daughter of George Franklin Dickson and Blanche Maud Dickson, June 10, 1908, at Cambridge, Mass. Present residence: 1328 Bryn Mawr Ave., Chicago, Ill.

SYDNEY CORNWALL LEGH

Received degree of B.A. at Oxford University, England, in 1908. Is traveling in Europe. Permanent address: High Legh Hall, Knutsford, England.

GEORGE JACOB LENZ

In September, 1904, I accepted a position at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, as Instructor in German, Spanish, and French; and continued at the same time my studies at Harvard University and in 1906 I took the degree of A.M. Since the conditions at Tech. did not advance me in my work, I resigned my position in the fall of 1907 to come out to Milwaukee, Wis., where I was teaching science for one year at the National German American Teachers' Seminary and the German English Academy. There I had to give also a course in Psychology, Mediaeval History and German. In the following year I was made head of the modern language department and the subjects I have now are German Literature (two year course), German Grammar (advanced two year course), Reading and Essays in German (advanced three year course). I have traveled in Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, France, and Italy in the summers of 1904, 1905, 1906, and 1909. For the last two years I have been one of the co-editors of the pedagogical monthly, Pädagogische Monatshefte and 1908-'09 I was secretary of the Modern Language section of the Wisconsin State Teachers' Association.

Married Anna Kusterer, daughter of Frederick Kusterer and Sophie Kusterer, August 9, 1906, at Mannheim, Germany. A son, Harald Frederick Henry Lenz, born September 11, 1908, at Milwaukee, Wis. Present residence: 318 North Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

DANIEL HENRY LESTER

When last heard from was with the New York Fire Insurance Exchange, 32 Nassau St., New York, N. Y.

CHARLES WINSLOW LEWIS

Went round the world September, 1905, to June, 1906, visiting Honolulu, China, Japan, Strait Settlements, Java, Ceylon, India, Egypt, Italy and Sicily, Austria and Germany. Employed by Small, Maynard & Co., publishers, Boston, September, 1906, to June, 1908, when I left to take my present position with Crippen Player Co., automatic piano players, 140 Boylston St., Boston, Mass.

Married Edna Adele Young, daughter of David B. Young and Sarah E. Young, April 22, 1908, at Brooklyn, N. Y. A daughter, Elizabeth Young, born February 7, 1909. Present residence: 90 Harvard Ave., Brookline, Mass.

KENNETH BURNHAM LEWIS

Went from college to Bethlehem (Pa.) Steel Co., where I worked in every department of steel-making represented in that plant. Settled down at the open-hearth steel furnaces, beginning as laborer, worked up to assistant superintendent. Left this job in 1907, after being badly burned in an accident at the furnaces. Then with the American Steel and Wire Co., at Worcester, Mass., doing experimental work, developing new processes, etc. On November 1, 1909, I shifted to the Morgan Construction Co., builders of rolling-mill machinery, 21 Lincoln St., Worcester, Mass. I am acting as assistant to the purchasing agent in taking care of orders placed for steel material outside of Worcester, and also studying up a new line of work in which the company expects to engage later.

Married Ethel Fairbanks, daughter of Henry Orlestus Fairbanks and Caroline Brown Fairbanks, June 26, 1906, at Wollaston, Mass. Present residence: 63 Richmond Ave., Worcester, Mass.

PAUL MURRAY LEWIS

In November, 1907, came to Boston where I have since remained. Business address: 10 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 14 Plympton St., Cambridge, Mass.

HERBERT CARLYLE LIBBY

In 1904 I bought the controlling interest in the Eastern Publishing Company, Cherryfield, Me., publishers of two weekly papers. In 1906 I purchased, under the name of the Central Maine Pub. Co., the Mail Publishing Co., Waterville, publishers of a daily paper; later I undertook the publication of three other papers. This property was sold in 1908. Next followed The Libby Co., book publishers, and at the present time this Company is publishing books. In 1908 I edited a volume of "Strong Selections for Public Speaking"; a book of Colby College verse, "Under the Willows"; also an "Historical Sketch of Stockton Springs," and wrote "Yarns for Boys." In May, 1909, I became editor of the Somerset Independent, a new Maine weekly paper, which paper later absorbed one of the oldest weekly papers of Maine, and at the present time I am editing the Somerset Independent-Reporter. In June, 1909, I was elected by the Trustees of Colby College, Waterville, Me., an Instructor in Public Speaking and Debating, and later was appointed Registrar of the College.

Outside of minor political honors, I have received none, except an election as Corresponding Secretary of the Maine Teachers' Association, at its last annual convention. Since 1904 I have been elected President of the Waterville Social Union, a philanthropic organization, and have been a member of the State Young Men's Christian Association. In 1905 the State Referendum League of Maine was organized and I was elected President of that organization; have been re-elected each year since, and am at present its head. Through the work of this organization Maine adopted the principle of Direct Legislation. Present residence: Highwood St., Waterville, Me.

ARTHUR WILLARD LINCOLN

Soon after leaving college, I went over to Europe for a few months, visiting England, France, and Italy as a companion to a young man in poor health. On returning, I remained with the same party until 1907. I then secured a position with a banking house where I remained until I was summoned to Vermont where my father was taken critically ill. The length of his illness compelled me to give up my position with the banking house. After his death in May, 1909, I accepted my present position as private secretary and confidential clerk.

During all this time I have never given up my studies. I have been a student at the Lowell Institute, taking the collegiate courses given in conjunction with Harvard. Two years ago I took English Literature and Composition under Mr. Copeland of Harvard, and received a certificate with credit. Last winter I took a course in Government under A. Lawrence Lowell, our new President, and received a certificate with credit. This year I am taking Constitutional and Political History of the United States under Professor A. B. Hart of Harvard. Present residence: 12 Howland St., Boston Highlands, Mass.

DANIEL WALDO LINCOLN

Entered Harvard Law School in October, 1904, graduating June, 1907. Worked in the law office of Thayer & Rugg during the summer of 1905. Traveled abroad in the summer of 1906 with A. V. Baird '04. Entered the Worcester law office of Choate, Hall & Stewart in September, 1907, where I remained until the following July. In August, 1908, formed partnership with Charles H. Derby '03, and have practiced law since under the firm name of Derby & Lincoln, 810 Slater Bldg., Worcester, Mass. Present residence: 49 Elm St., Worcester, Mass.

THOMAS POULTNEY LINDSAY

Teaching school and studying law.

Married Florence Field Page, daughter of Thomas Nelson Page and Florence Lathrop Page, July 1, 1905, at York, Me. A daughter, Minna Lindsay, born May 27, 1907. Present residence: Southboro, Mass.

THAYER LINDSLEY

Is engaged in mining. Permanent address: Milton, Mass.

IRVING NELSON LINNELL

In the fall of 1904 I entered the Harvard Law School and took my degree of LL.B. in June, 1907. I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar on February 15, 1907, and in September, 1907, I began the practice of the law with Butler, Cox, Murchie & Bacon in Boston. In October, 1908, I formed a partnership with Philip R. Ammidon '05; and we now have offices at 6 Beacon St., Boston, Rooms 307-308, and at 649 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge.

December 12, 1907, I was elected a member of the Cambridge Common Council from Ward 8, and was re-elected March 9, 1909, and March 15, 1910. Early in December, 1909,

I was elected Chairman of the Cambridge Non-Partisan Municipal Party City Committee to fill a vacancy, and at the regular annual meeting, January 12, 1910, was re-elected. April 4, 1910, I was elected President of the Cambridge Common Council for the year 1910-'11. Present residence: 61 Gorham St., Cambridge, Mass.

*EDWARD REVERE LITTLE *1905

Edward Revere Little was born at Brookline, Mass., October 27, 1881, the son of James Lovell Little and Mary Robbins (Revere) Little. He entered Harvard College in the fall of 1900, from Noble and Greenough's School, Boston. He had been prominent in baseball and football at school, but an injury to his arm prevented him from taking part in college athletics. In his Freshman year he was a star drawing candidate for the Lampoon, and in May of that year he was elected an editor. From the time he started as a candidate till even after he left college, every number of the Lampoon contained several of his pictures. In his Sophomore year, the Lampoon ran a long succession of centre page cartoons by him which were notable. One of a series illustrating humorously scenes in the sanctums of various college periodicals called forth a column editorial from the New York Evening Post elaborating the idea contained in the drawing. In the spring of 1901 was published "Harvard Celebrities," a book containing fourteen caricatures of professors and other college notables, with borders and verses, the caricatures being by Little. His work in this book would hardly have been taken by an uninitiated reader for that of an undergraduate, for it showed that as an artist Little had arrived at mastery of pen and a style of his own.

He was also an editor of the Harvard Advocate, to which he was elected in May of his Sophomore year. He was made Secretary in February of his Junior year, but never served in that capacity. His literary product was much smaller in quantity than his drawing work, but it showed an equally fertile imagination.

Edward Little died at Meredith, N. H., on September 2, 1905. During the years following January, 1903, he lived in the West, spending much time on horseback, and traveled in the South and in England.

Besides being on the Advocate and Lampoon, he was a member of the Noble and Greenough School Club, the Pen and Brush Club, the Signet, the Yacht Club, the Newell Boat Club, and the Harvard Union.

One still hears the old accusation that college life, particularly that of Harvard College, moulds men into a few fixed types and suppresses originality. Edward Little, with Boston traditions and schooling, was nevertheless one of the most individual figures in the college community. Numbers of men knew him by sight who had never met him. His intimate friends had for him an affection that was out of the ordinary. His personality was impressed on everything he wrote and drew, and was reflected even in the appearance of the rooms he occupied in college and at home, which were always decorated in a haphazard fashion that seemed somehow to possess delightful unity. Some of these ornaments were sketches and paintings of his own, turned out in moments of idle inspiration, and remarkable in conception. He left a great quantity of such material, some of it bigger in promise than any of his published work. Those who knew Edward Little and his work believe that he had a creative gift of a rare kind and that the place he might have occupied in the world of art will never be filled by another.

LOUIS MARGOLIN

Having passed the required Civil Service examination in June, 1904, I obtained the position of Forest Assistant with the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture, on July 1, 1904. I have remained in the Forest Service ever since then, my designation, in 1908, being changed to Forest Examiner. Shortly after my appointment, I headed a field party to make a study of forest fires in the State of Maine. In course of this investigation I covered practically the entire southern portion of Maine. My next assignment was in western Virginia and eastern Tennessee, in the Big Smoky Mountain country. There I made a study of the yellow poplar tree, completing the work in July, 1905.

In August, 1905, in collaboration with another Forest Assistant, I made a study of forest conditions in southern New Hampshire, thoroughly covering that portion of the State. With the exception of a short trip to Charleston, S. C., and its vicinity, and frequent visits to Washington, D. C., I remained in New Hampshire until July, 1906. Between that time and March, 1907, I remained in Washington preparing a report on the investigation. In March, 1907, I left for the West, to make a study of logging and milling conditions in New Mexico, Arizona, southern California, and western Montana, covering about fifteen thousand miles in the next nine months, on railroad, horseback, boat, "burro," automobile, canoe, hand-car, logging-train, chute, stage, and a-foot. I returned to Washington in November, 1907.

Early in 1908, I went to western Pennsylvania to examine a tract of forest. In April, 1908, I was placed temporarily in charge of the Section of Reconnaissance in the Forest Service, and in September, 1908, I took a trip to the Pike's Peak country in Colorado, to estimate timber and make a map of certain lands within the Pike National Forest. In December, 1908, I was permanently transferred to California, with headquarters at San Francisco. Early in 1909 I traveled through the middle and northeastern part of California, to study conditions on the National Forests in the Sierra Nevada Mountains. Later in the year I repeated part of this trip.

In July, 1909, I went into the extremely wild country of Trinity County, northwestern California, where I spent the summer estimating timber and mapping a heretofore unmapped country. The fall of the same year I spent mostly in San Francisco, with several side trips, writing reports. In November, 1909, I was detailed to go to the Hawaiian Islands, to make a study of a certain tree (Eucalyptus) introduced from Australia. I have already covered three of the islands in the group and expect to cover the two other important islands before I return to California in May, 1910.

In addition to my S.B. cum laude, from Harvard, I received in 1904 the degree of F. E. (Forest Engineer) from Cornell University. I am a member of the Society of American Foresters, American Forestry Association, National Geographic Association, National Conservation Association; and am an associate member of the American Academy of Science. I am the author of the following publications: "Forest Fires in Maine in 1903," Annual Report of the Forest Commission of Maine, 1904; (in collaboration with C. A. Lyford) "Forest Conditions in Southern New Hampshire," Biennial Report of the Forest Commission of New Hampshire, 1905-'06; "Waste in Milling," Report of the National Conservation Commission, Senate Document No. 676, 60th Congress, 2d Session, Vol. 2; "Forest Conditions in District 5," Circular of the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, 1910; and several magazine and newspaper articles. Business address: U. S. Forest Service, San Francisco, Cal. No fixed residence at present, but traveling in Hawaiian Islands.

JAMES WILLIS JOHNSON MARION

Since leaving college, my attention has been given to preparing to practice medicine. I spent four years at Harvard Medical School, graduating in 1908. Then passed Massachusetts State Board examinations for registering physicians to practice. Had a short appointment at the South Department of City Hospital, Boston, and then a sixteen months surgical appointment at Boston City Hospital. I am now about half through this appointment. In a year shall probably practice; where I do not know. Present residence: Boston City Hospital, Boston, Mass.

THOMAS MARSALIS

I've been working so hard since I left college that I really haven't much of a narrative to write. I've been with J. Thomas Reinhardt, broker, 38 Broad St., New York City, since 1904. Last summer, on one of my first vacations, I spent two weeks in Switzerland; and, outside of that, I've hardly been outside of New York, except for an occasional visit to Boston. Present residence: 227 Riverside Drive, New York, N. Y.

CLARENCE EDWARD MARSH

For two years after leaving college, I was with the American Signal Co., installing test signals on the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R., at Neponset, Mass.; and on the Illinois Central near Chicago; and also with the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., in the operating and inspection departments. In June, 1907, I went to work at my present position, Assistant Analyst of the Massachusetts State Board of Health, 501 State St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 15 Cass St., Melrose, Mass.

HENRY MICHAEL MARSH

Since leaving college, except for one year and a half that I taught at the DeWitt Clinton High School in New York City, I have been in commercial life very generally and have covered pretty much most of the States as salesman. I am at present engaged in selling town site developments and other real estate investments of Seattle, Wash., and the Western States generally, having for some time before been connected with a large real estate firm of New York City. Present residence and business address: Butte, Mont.

CARL BERTRAND MARSHALL

For a year and a half after leaving college, I was Assistant Secretary of the Security Life Deposit Co., Boston; from which position I took up the banking business with the firm of N. W. Harris & Co., 35 Federal St., Boston, Mass., covering the Rhode Island territory for their Boston office in the capacity of bond salesman. The nearest thing to a public post that has come my way is my recent election as Treasurer of the Brookline High School Alumni Association.

Married Esther Ewing Schwarz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schwarz, June 10, 1908, at Highland Park, Ill. Present residence: 3 Englewood Ave., Brookline, Mass.

CHESTER JOSEPH MARSHALL

In 1903, took family to the Southwest on account of health of wife, New Mexico and California. Taught in Throop Polytechnic Institute, Pasadena, Cal., in 1904. M.A., 1904, from Muskingum College, New Concord, O. Been on the same job all the time—same one as I now hold, Professor of Physics at Muskingum. Taken two trips through the West and one through Canada. Was nominated for State senator in 1908; got beautifully licked. Am county school examiner at present in Muskingum County.

Married Jean Idell Wylie, daughter of William Wylie and Eleanor Wylie, September 5, 1897, at Frazeybury, O. She died January 24, 1905, at Black Run, O. Married Elizabeth Dell Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Porter, December 19, 1907, at Waukegan, Ill. Children: Walter Eugene Marshall, born April 12, 1903; and Eleanor Charlotte Marshall, born January 25, 1909. Present residence: New Concord, O.

ROBERT ELIOT MARSHALL

Left Class at the end of the Freshman year and graduated from Dartmouth in 1904. He taught at various places, including Ridge School, Washington, Conn., until the fall of 1907, when he entered the General Theological Seminary, New York City. Permanent address: 33 Pintard Ave., New Rochelle, N. Y.

HENRY TOPLIFF MASON

Is a chemist. Present residence: 24 A Liberty St., Everett, Mass.

JAMES SERVETUS MASON, 3D.

In manufacturing business at 140 North Front St., Philadelphia, Pa.

RALPH MAY

After graduation, I went abroad in July; spending the summer working my way south to Naples from England, taking in the Harvard-Yale-Oxford-Cambridge games on the way, and coming home by the Mediterranean. A few weeks later I entered the banking office of Bond & Goodwin, 35 Congress St., Boston, with which I have been connected since. I have enjoyed my work there.

I have spent most of my time in New England with the exception of an interesting trip I had last summer to Seattle and the Northwest via the Great Lakes, Canada, and the Rocky Mountains. Most of my interests outside of business have been in Boston and Portsmouth, N. H. I am a member of the Union Boat Club of Boston and am its treasurer. I am also a member of Battery A, M. V. M.; on the board of managers of a Boston charity; and a member of the Federal Fire Society of Portsmouth, N. H. Present residence: 14 Mt. Vernon St., Boston, Mass.

BENJAMIN MOODIE MAYNARD

In the fall of 1904, I went to work for the Remington Typewriter Co., with whom I stayed until February, 1906. At that time I went to work as an office boy for Eldredge Lewis & Co., a dry goods commission house. In September of the same year I began selling goods to the manufacturing trade for this house, and stayed with them until January, 1910, when the firm dissolved partnership. Since then I have been selling goods on the same line in Boston for several New York commission houses. Present residence: 441 Dudley St., Boston, Mass.

July, 1908, to July, 1909, with Warren (Professor E. H.), Hoague, James & Bigelow, 84 State St., Boston, attorneys for Boston Legal Aid Society. September, 1909, began independent practice at 70 State St., Boston. Bankruptcy Instructor in Boston Y. M. C. A. School of Commerce and Finance, assistant to Secretary and legislative agent for Massachusetts State Child Labor Committee. At odd times, and in odd places, in something over two years, have secured about eight hundred subscribers to the Harvard Bulletin and some advertising for same.

Married Ethel Christina Wheeler, daughter of Guy Ephraim Browning Wheeler and Frances Ellen Wheeler, December 1, 1909. Present residence: 309 High St., West Medford, Mass.

ARTHUR SIEGFRIED MILINOWSKI

On leaving Cambridge, and having fully recovered (which process of recovery I underwent in the Adirondacks and at home), I went to work in the fall of 1904 with the Platt Iron Works Co., of Dayton, O., manufacturers of hydraulic machinery. There I took what was known as a "student's course"—doing good work for next to no money in the various shops, especially the dirty ones, finally being graduated into the drafting-room. In the early part of 1906 I was sent to the end of the earth, then located at St. Croix Falls, Wis., since they were tired of having me around. There I had charge of the installation of steel-work and machinery for a 146,000 horse-power hydro-electric plant, thirty stalwart Swedes and a drunken foreman.

I left the company, gracefully, in May, 1906, and went abroad; where, until late in August, I traveled in France, Germany, and Switzerland, visiting water-power developments, canals, and hydraulic machinery factories on the way. Returning September 1, 1906, I again looked for a victim, finding it in the American Ship-building Co., at Lorain, O., whither, by this time, the extremity of the earth had been transferred. There I worked mostly in the "mold-loft," where the full-sized patterns of ships are made; and, deciding that I was not properly appreciated, accepted an appointment as "Rodman" in the Department of the State Engineer of New York, at about $100 per month, (more than I had ever received). This occurred in April, 1907. I was sent to Fulton, N. Y., on Barge Canal work, to Skaneateles, N. Y., on "good roads" work; and finally they imposed me upon the Division office at Rochester. September 1, 1907, I was made "Leveler" and in March, 1908, Assistant Engineer, still at Rochester. In October, 1908, I came to Brockport (Heaven forgive!) in charge of Contract 61, rented a house, and prepared to stay awhile—but Rochester is only eighteen miles away, and then there is Buffalo, too, not out of reach, and a moving picture show right under my offices!

I have written three or four more or less lengthy articles for the technical press and other magazines. They are still available.

BERTRAM ADOLPHUS MILLER

Since graduating, have been with the Great Western Knitting Co., of Milwaukee, Wis. Remained in the factory for one year till acquainted with the product. Since then have been on the road four months per year and balance of time is spent in the mill. On the road, I cover important cities in the northern part of this country, extending from Portland, Me., and Philadelphia, Pa., Buffalo, N. Y., and Columbus, O., Duluth, Minn., and Chicago, Ill., Sioux City, Ia., to Kansas City, across country as far as Denver, Colo. Entered my concern at the bottom of the ladder, both as to wages and occupation. Today have charge of one entire department in the mill and hold the title of "Vice-President." Present residence: 250 Pleasant St., Milwaukee, Wis.

HOYT MILLER

I have been with H. A. Metz & Co., 122 Hudson St., New York City, as a chemist, in their laboratory since the fall of 1906. During the summer of 1906 I traveled through most of Northern Europe and last summer through Eastern Canada. Present residence: 21 East 9th St., New York, N. Y.

THEODORE HATHAWAY MILLER

The following August after graduation, I accepted a position with the New Amsterdam Casualty Co., of New York, which position I held for eight months. I then entered the employ of the banking and stock brokerage house of Strong, Sturgis & Co., at 30 Broad St., New York. After remaining there for several weeks, I entered the employ of the banking and stock brokerage house of E. Rollins Morse & Bro., at 100 Broadway, New York. I remained with this house until its dissolution, then went with the new house of Wilmerding, Morgan & Livermore, which grew out of the dissolved house of E. Rollins Morse & Bro. I remained with this house until November 1, 1907, when I gave up my position as Assistant Cashier to take a six months automobile trip from my home in Massachusetts to the end of Florida and back.

After a pleasant six months trip through the South, I returned to resume the duties of Assistant Cashier in the stock exchange house of Wilmerding, Morgan & Livermore, and remained there until May 20, 1909, when I gave up my position to go to Taylorsville, N. C., to assume the duties of Secretary and Treasurer of the Taylorsville Cotton Mill Co., a new plant, manufacturing a high grade hosiery yarn.

Married Sarah Brunner Viele, daughter of Charles Gray Viele and Annie Brunner Viele, January 1, 1910, at Taylorsville, N. C. Present residence: Taylorsville, N. C.

RALPH TURNER MILLET

In the fall of 1904, I went to Baltimore, Md., with the Chesapeake & Potomac Tel. Co., a branch of the American Bell, as District Manager, and held various other positions in the service of the Company for a little over a year. Returned North in the late fall of 1905, and did not follow any occupation for several months during that winter. Early in the spring of 1906, I became connected with the firm of Walker & Whitman, of Brockton, manufacturers of men's fine shoes, as advertising manager, remaining there until the summer of 1907, when I went with The Commonwealth Shoe & Leather Co., 72 Lincoln St., Boston, as manager of the Credit Department, where I am at present employed. I have not held any public offices, or attained any special honors or degrees during this period. My writings have consisted merely of articles for various trade papers in the shoe industry.

HUGH MINTURN

Traveled in Japan in 1904. Worked in New York two years. Spent one year in France. Have spent the last three years, 1907-'10, in the Harvard Law School, being now in the third year class. Spent one summer in the Philippines and one summer in Porto Rico. Present residence: 109 East 21st St., New York, N. Y.

HAROLD BENJAMIN MONASMITH

Left college January, 1901, re-entering in fall of 1902 with Class of 1906, and graduating in 1905 "as of 1904." With Cleveland Plain Dealer as reporter from June, 1905, to April, 1906. Engaged in economic studies until May, 1909; then joining the staff of The Wall Street Journal, department of railroad finance, 44 Broad St., New York City.

WILLIAM ANDREW MONTEN

I received the degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School in 1907. I was then in the real estate business until the spring of 1908. Since then, I have practiced law by myself, and I now do well, with office at 206 Hyde Bldg., Spokane, Wash. Outside of my practice, I have not achieved anything especially notable. In the spring of 1909 I organized the Pratt Non-Partisan Club, which placed a Democrat in the mayor's chair. His Republican rival was too tough. I am a Republican in national politics. Spokane is a city of, say, 115,000.

Married Jenny Helena Johnson (U. of Minn., '04), daughter of Frank Gustav Johnson and Fredrika Johnson, June 27, 1907, at Casselton, N. D. A daughter, Fredrika Montén, born November 14, 1908, at Spokane, Wash. Present residence: 1021 Ninth Ave., West Spokane, Wash.

EDWARD MONTOULIEU DE LATORRE

Returned to Cuba in July, 1904, and spent a month at home. Appointed resident engineer for the Development Company of Cuba at Cabanos. Began to render my services to them in August, 1904. I surveyed, laid out and engineered all their estate composed of some 100,000 acres of forest land, mainly devoted to sugar cane and orange growing. I had charge of all the engineering of the erection of a $75,000 hotel, a $50,000 ice plant and a $25,000 lumber mill. In 1906, made a prospecting trip through the mining region of St. Clara province, locating and reporting a vast copper ore claim. I left this position this year on account of financial difficulties brought about by the revolution that brought the second American Intervention.

In October, I came to Havana, offered my services to Col. W. M. Black, U. S. Engineer Corps, and was appointed 1st Assistant Engineer to the Water and Sewer Bureau of the City of Havana, in charge of all improvements to the waterworks of the city. During the time of my services in this capacity, I built two 110,000 gallon re-enfroced concrete water tanks for the suburb called Vedado, laid over 10,000 meters of pipe of 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 and built two 100,000 gallon re-enforced concrete tanks on pillars 36 ft. high for the water supply of Camp Columbia where the American troops were stationed, at a cost of $150,000 for all the improvements.

In December, 1907, I was promoted to the rank of 3d Engineer and put in charge of the construction of the Cojimar water works, which included the laying of 14,000 meters of pipe and the building of a 100,000 gallon re-enforced concrete tank, which work was completed in September, 1908. After spending one month vacation at New York, I returned to Havana to take charge of my new position of 2nd Engineer of the Havana Sewerage System contract now in progress. At the present time I have charge of the construction of all the trunk drains and sewers of this city, a work that with all its branches is estimated at $16,000,000 and is expected to be finished by 1917. Present residence: Malecon 54, Havana, Cuba.

HENRY MONTOULIEU DE LATORRE

Graduated June 29, 1904, S.B. (Civil Engineering), cum laude. Came back to Cuba, arriving in my native town, Camagüey (Puerto-Principe), Cuba, on July 27, 1904. Took a rest vacation in the country that summer and did some private work of surveying. In the winter of 1904, went to the Cuban Capital, Havana, to pass the necessary examinations to legalize my degree in Cuba. According to this country's laws, degrees from foreign universities have to be legalized here by examination in the National University in Havana; but on February 7, 1907, Governor Charles E. Magoon, Provisional Governor of Cuba, excepted me from this law, ordering the Department of Public Instruction to register my degree as legal and valid in Cuba .

Before I finished the above mentioned examinations I was appointed in January, 1905, Assistant Engineer in the Department of Public Works, in charge of the construction of bridges in the highway from La Gloria to Viaro in Camagüey province. Finishing the bridges I contracted an infectious fever which seriously menaced my life. In the fall of 1905 was appointed Assistant Engineer in the Cuba Company (Central Railroad of Cuba) and soon was promoted till the spring of 1907 when was appointed Chief Engineer of the Silveira (now Stewart) Sugar Company ($2,000,000), working in the installation and laying out of this great sugar plantation and mills, at Ciego de Avila, Cuba, till the spring of 1907, when I was again appointed in the Department of Public Works as Engineer in charge of construction in the Cienfuegos-Manicaragua highway.

In December, 1907, was called to Havana by the Secretary of Public Works (under the American Administration) and appointed to succeed Mr. Arthur S. Hobby as Chief Engineer of Water and Sewers of Havana. The Havana Water and Sewers Department comprise the administration of about $500,000 yearly. Finally, by Presidential Decree of February 28, 1910, I was appointed Chief Engineer of the "Project for the Improvement of Havana Water Supply." This project is to be carried out at the same time as the construction of the new sewerage system, and will probably aggregate an expenditure of $10,000,000. Present residence: Malecon 54, Havana, Cuba.

JAMES CLYDE MOORE

In 1904-'05 I was Assistant Principal of the high school at Cattaraugus, N. Y.; and for the next four years after 1905 I was head of the science department of the high school at Dunkirk, N. Y. During the summer of 1909 I took work in the Harvard Summer School and am at present teaching Physics and Chemistry in Worcester Academy, Worcester, Mass. Present residence: Worcester Academy, Worcester, Mass.

BENJAMIN PERLEY POORE MOSELEY

Began work in the office of L. S. Moseley Co., bankers, 50 Congress St., Boston, Mass., July 5, 1904, and have been there ever since. Live quietly in the country at Newburyport, Mass.

SIMON MOSENFELDER

Is a merchant at Rock Island, Ill.

WARREN MOTLEY

Entered Harvard Law School in fall of 1903 and received LL.B. degree in June, 1906. Spent the following summer in Europe and entered the law office of Gaston, Snow & Saltonstall, in September, 1906, having been admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in the previous March. I have been practicing law in that office up to the present time. Present residence: 22 Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass.

HENRY PHILIP MOULTON, JR.

Began teaching immediately after leaving college. In 1908 traveled extensively through Northwest and settled for some time in business in Seattle, Wash. Returned to take the position of Head Master of Powder Point School, Duxbury, Mass. November 1, of this year, my brother (John R. Moulton, Harvard Law School, '06) and I purchased the school from former owners and I am now Proprietor and Principal of same. Present residence: Powder Point School, Duxbury, Mass.

URIEL ATWOOD MURDOCK

In August, 1904, I started on a trip round the world with August Belmont, Jr., '04, and Pierre Lorillard, Jr., '04; which trip was safely concluded in June, 1905. Since then, I have been constantly in the employ of Messrs. August Belmont Co., 23 Nassau St., New York, N. Y.

Married Rita Nicholas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry I. Nicholas, June 2, 1909, at Babylon, L. I., N. Y. Present residence: Babylon, L. I., N. Y.

CARROLL DEAN MURPHY

The years 1904 and 1905 I spent in Chicago, at editorial and literary work. Outdoor needs (health and literary experience) then led me to give a year to location and construction surveying on railroads in the far West. (Idaho and Washington); where I was an instrument man on the Cascade division, trans-continental extension, C. M. and Puget Sound Ry. The year 1907 I spent as engineer on municipal construction in Ohio. Since that time, editorial and literary work has again occupied me. I am a regular editor and contributor to System, the Magazine of Business, for which I am now gathering material. Book publishing, and advertising work have naturally come to my desk with the editorial work.

Since 1904, I have published some poems and fiction, among them: "Granpap's Big Bass." Outing, August, 1907; "The Last of the Moravian Indians," American Boy, August, 1905; and "The Red Checkerboard." System, January, 1910. My System work includes a series on the modern science of mercantile and factory or office purchasing, August, 1909. In collaboration, I have written a handsome two volume "History of Medieval and Modern Europe," Bellows Bros., Chicago, publishers. Many unsigned magazine, textbook, and encyclopedic articles have also come from my pen. So closely have I been brought in touch with the opportunities and needs of circulation and advertising work that this promises to occupy much of my attention this year. Present residence: 440 Live Oak St., Dallas, Tex.

FREDERIC WILLIAM MURPHY

Since May, 1905, have been with the American Sugar Refining Co., Granite St., Boston, Mass. Was appointed Assistant Chemist and after two months was appointed Chief Chemist. Present residence: 24 Athelwold St., Dorchester, Mass.

THOMAS FRANCIS MURPHY

Received LL.B. in June, 1907. Practicing law in Boston ever since. Offices at 709 Sears Bldg. Present residence: 13 Day St., Cambridge, Mass.

GEORGE HENRY MURRAY

When last heard from was teaching. Former address, Washington, D. C., does not reach him.

WILLIAM FRANCIS MURRAY

Most of my activity since June, 1904, as well as for some years before that time, has been in the politics of the City of Boston. I represented ward 5 (Charlestown) in the Boston Common Council in 1904 and 1905; and the Fourth Suffolk district (wards 4 and 5 of Charlestown) in the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1907 and 1908. I was elected at the last State election in Massachusetts to represent the third district in the Executive Council, which is a body of eight members elected (in theory, at least), to advise the Governor. All of these elections have come through Democratic nominations.

I am practicing law in the firm of Brown, Field & Murray, 141 Milk St., Boston. I hope some time to get a degree of LL.B. "as of 1906" from the Law School, to place beside the A.B. of 1904 from the college. Aside from some newspaper work, done during college and law school days, and occasional preparation of speeches, I have done no writing. Present residence: 50 Monument Square, Charlestown, Mass.

THEODORE LAYMAN NANCE

Since leaving college, I have been: Assistant City Editor, Boston Journal; Night City Editor, Boston Herald; and am now Boston representative of Baker, Ayling & Co., dealers in bonds for investment, 50 Congress St., Boston, Mass. I am President of De Pauw University Alumni Ass'n of New England, and a member of the University Club of Boston.

FREDERICK NEIL

Is a draughtsman. Present residence: 501 Park St., Dorchester, Mass.

PETER JOSEPH NELLIGAN

I attended the Harvard Law School from 1903 to 1906, receiving degree of LL.B. I entered the law office of I. R. Clark, 54 Devonshire St., Boston, in July, 1906, and remained there until March, 1908. I then started a law office of my own at 73 Tremont St., Boston, where I am associated with Geo. H. McDermott, '03, in the general practice of law. I have been a member of the Cambridge Common Council for the years 1908 and 1909. Present residence: 23 Rindge Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

FREDERICK AMIL NELSON

Engaged in civil engineering. Business address: 10 Bridge St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 328 West 96th St., New York, N. Y.

THEODORE NELSON, JR.

Instructor in Mathematics and Navigation with Nautical Preparatory School, Providence, R. I., from September, 1904, until the school was discontinued shortly after. The following year was assistant advertising manager for Keuffel & Esser Co., 127 Fulton St., New York City. Became Instructor in Mathematics, Heffley Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y., September, 1906, and began the study of law the following year in the afternoon and evening classes of New York University Law School. Was appointed Head of the Department of Mathematics, Adelphi Academy, Brooklyn, N. Y., March 1, 1908. Received the degree of Bachelor of Laws from New York University, June, 1909. Was admitted to the New York Bar, October, 1909. Am at present studying as a candidate for the degree of Juris Doctor.

Married Edna Schwarz, daughter of John F. Schwarz and Augusta Schwarz, June 11, 1906, at Alma, Mich. Present residence: 344 Lafayette Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

WILLIAM HENRY NELSON

From June, 1904, to June, 1906, I was Sub-Master of the Webster (Mass.) High School and Principal of the Webster Evening Schools. In June, 1906, I resigned both positions and entered the Harvard Law School in September, 1906. While at the law school I was an Assistant in the Departments of Education and Government, and an Instructor in Public Speaking. I received my degree from the Law School in June, 1909, and at present am practicing law in Boston. Business address: 101 Milk St., Room 714, Boston, Mass. Present residence: 71 Esmond St., Dorchester, Mass.

GEORGE RUSSELL NEWELL

Upon graduation, I went to Charlottesville, Va., for a few weeks' visit with my roommate. After my return to Rochester, N. Y., I was employed by Edward Denniston, a contractor, and worked as a foreman in the erection of a concrete building. Early in 1905 I took a position as draftsman with the Rochester Ry. Co. In the following summer I had charge of the survey party and was made instrument man with a slight raise in my salary. In 1908 I was made Assistant Engineer in charge of construction. Shortly after that the Chief Engineer left; and, with the arrival of the new chief, almost the entire personnel of the office was changed, our draftsman and myself being the only old men left. A similar change had taken place in all the departments owing to a change in the general managership of the company, and a mutual distrust grew up between the new men and the old. Not finding my surroundings comfortable, and, feeling that any advancement under the conditions would be impossible, I left the company in May, 1909. I then entered a partnership with I. E. Matthews, my former Chief Engineer and we opened the present office expecting to do the engineering work for some of the short electric railways entering the city, the companies being too small to maintain regular engineering offices. To fill in with we have taken any survey work we could get. Business address: Room 6, Maccabee Bldg., Rochester, N. Y. Present residence: 709 St. Paul St., Rochester, N. Y.

LAWRENCE WHITTIER NEWELL

I came here to St. Luke's School, Wayne, Pa., in September, 1903; and have been here ever since, holding down the chair of German, and varying with a bit of French, some Chemistry and minor subjects. Summers I have chosen between Europe and the mountains of New Hampshire and New York. The work of pedagogue is much to my taste, and I enjoy to the utmost the entire twelve months of the year. Present residence: St. Luke's School, Wayne, Pa.

*FRANCIS WATRISS NEWHALL *1907

Francis Watriss Newhall, the son of Charles Newhall and Frances Sarah (Watriss) Newhall, was born at Dorchester, Mass., June 7, 1879. He was prepared for college at the Volkmann School and entered Harvard University with the Class of 1904.

As a student his tastes ran toward engineering. He was a faithful and conscientious worker, graduating with his class in June of 1904, with the degree of S.B. The summer he spent bicycling with two classmates in Europe. Returning in the early fall, he accepted a position as Assistant Cashier with the National Bank of Nantucket, but his old love for engineering would not be denied, and after a year there, he left to enter the construction department of Stone & Webster, engineers, Boston. They immediately sent him to Key West to the Key West Electric Co. While there, in taking care of a friend ill with typhoid, he contracted the disease and died shortly after, April 1, 1907, at his home in Boston.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend."

GRANVILLE JOHNSON, '03.

ULYSSES HOMER NICHOLSON

1904-'05, Principal of Noblesville (Ind.) High School. 1905-'09, Principal of Point Arena (Cal.) High School; being also, from 1907 to 1909, President of Mendocino County Board of Education. 1909 to date, Supervising Principal of Lodi (Cal.) City Schools. Member of Sigma Chi Fraternity.

Married Lilian Hardman Grigsby (Stanford, '01), daughter of Henry Clay Grigsby and Deborah (Williams) Grigsby, December 29, 1905, at San Francisco, Cal. Children: Abe Nicholson, 2d, born October 3, 1906, at Portland, Ore.; and Deborah Nicholson; born September 27, 1909, at Lodi, Cal.; died October 5, 1909, at Lodi, Cal. Present residence: 500 North Church St., Lodi, Cal.

HENRY COBB NICKERSON

From 1904 till the spring of 1906, I was in the Graduate School, studying Landscape Architecture. From April, 1906, till March, 1907. I worked as draftsman in the office of Sturgis & Barton, architects, Boston. Since that time I have lived in Colorado Springs, Colo., practicing architecture. Owing to poor health, I have not accomplished much till recently. In the last year I have turned out ten jobs: including a house in Lawrenceville, N. J., a hotel at Manitou Park, Colo., and local work. Present residence: 1707 Wood Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo.

WINTHROP IRVING NOTTAGE

I spent the years 1903-'06 in the Harvard Law School, taking my degree in June, 1906. I was admitted to the Bar of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts in February, 1906, and began active practice immediately upon leaving the law school in June of that year. At that time I became associated with the law firm with which I still remain, Warren, Garfield, Whiteside & Lamson, 60 State St., Boston, Mass. In January, 1907, I was chosen as the secretary to the Mayor of Medford which position I held for two years, giving it up in March, 1909, because of my desire to devote more time to my law practice.

Married Alice Coburn, daughter of Frank J. Coburn and Hannah C. (Haskins) Coburn, October 8, 1907, at Medford, Mass. A daughter, Marion Nottage, born August 28, 1909, at Medford, Mass. Present residence: 34 Wyman St., West Medford, Mass.

HEMAN HOWARD NOYES

On leaving college, I went to work in the Chicago office of the MacMillan Co., in the text-book publishing part of their business, and I have now been with the same firm almost seven years. I was transferred in 1905 to New York and am now doing outside work in the public schools of the metropolitan district. I am enjoying a semi-outdoor life and make the acquaintance of many college men and frequently of Harvard graduates. I have not traveled except to visit Chicago, and to spend an occasional holiday in Boston.

PRESCOTT OAKES

In the fall of 1904 went to work for the Davis Coal & Coke Co., at Thomas, W. Va. Worked for this company for about two years and a half as laborer, chainman, transitman, and resident engineer at Thomas, Coketon, Henry, and Weaver plants. Left there in June, 1907, for New York. Left New York for Seattle in September, 1907. From Seattle to Red Lodge, Mont., in November, where I spent the winter holding job as chainman with engineering department of Northwestern Improvement Co. Left Red Lodge last of May, 1908, to take position as resident engineer and mine clerk of the Roslyn Fuel Co., at Roslyn, Wash. Present residence: Roslyn, Wash.

PAUL O'BRIEN

In the fall of 1904, I entered Cornell University Medical College, where I obtained my M.D. in 1908. Since then I have put in eighteen months as an interne at the City Hospital, a part of the Department of Charities of the City of New York. I intend soon to practice medicine in Cartstaelt, N. J., for five months. Eventually I hope to start some where in the Northwest of the United States, probably in Washington. Present residence: City Hospital, Blackwell's Island, New York, N. Y.

*FREDERIC PATRICK O'CONNELL *1907

Frederic P. O'Connell, of the Class of 1904, died at West Baden, Ind., April 21, 1907. He was the youngest son of

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Connell and was born in Dorchester, August 27, 1881. He prepared for college at the Dorchester High School and Boston College Preparatory School. He was one of the candidates for the 1904 Freshman football team, but was obliged to give up the sport owing to the pressure of newspaper work. He became identified with journalism in 1898, when at the age of seventeen he was appointed Political Editor of the Boston Post. He later became baseball editor, and while traveling with the Boston American League team on its Southern trip in the spring of 1907, he contracted pneumonia, which caused his death. He was not married. He was a brother of Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell, Law School, '96; Dr. John A. O'Connell, Veterinary School, '96; James E. O'Connell, College, '02; and Daniel T. O'Connell, College, '05. Besides being Baseball Editor of the Boston Post, he was also the Boston correspondent for several of the sporting publications. While in college he was a member of St. Paul's Catholic Club and the Dorchester High School Club.

JAMES E. O'CONNELL, '02.

FRANK JOSEPH O'CONNOR

Attended Harvard Graduate School for one year and the Law School for one year. Since 1906, I have been handling the football games at Cambridge for the Harvard Athletic Association and have been identified with the summer amusement business, as Superintendent of Wonderland Park, Revere Beach, Mass., for the past four years. After filling several positions I have settled down to the women's wearing apparel business, being connected with the E. T. Slattery Co., 154 Tremont St., Boston, the most exclusive and high-class store in New England. I am confidential man to the general manager. Present address: Care of E. T. Slattery Co., 154 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

RALPH MILTON ODELL

After leaving Cambridge in June, 1904, I returned to Concord, N. C., a thriving cotton mill town in one of the richest and most progressive sections of the South. Here I engaged in the business of cotton manufacturing, a line which has been followed by my family for three generations. After serving an apprenticeship for nearly a year, I was made superintendent of the Odell Mfg. Co. in 1905, a position which I held for several years. In January, 1908, I became Secretary and Treasurer of The Magnolia Mills Co., of Concord, N. C., which position I still hold. Outside of my chosen line of work I have had no particular interests. I am, however, vitally interested in welfare work among the cotton mill employees of the South and to this end am now endeavoring to secure a Carnegie Library for my home city. Upon the organization of the Harvard Alumni of North Carolina, I became a member and am now on the executive committee of the association. In March, 1909, President Emeritus Eliot was a guest at a banquet in Durham, N. C., given by Trinity College, and I was one of a number of Harvard men who were present on that occasion. Present residence: Concord, N. C.

CHARLES DE LOOSEY OELRICHS

MAHLON FAY PERKINS

Is in the American Consular Service at Peking, China. Present residence: American Legation, Peking, China.

JESS GODDARD PERRIN

After completing my work at Harvard in a year and a half, the state of my health forced me to abandon my chosen life work—that of teaching—and seek the open air and sunshine. I have spent most of my time out-of-doors, have traveled extensively, and incidentally cleared myself of debt with enough surplus to spend this year in the Harvard Graduate School, and, if my health permits, next year abroad. Present residence: 48 Irving St., Cambridge, Mass.

ABBOT PETERSON

Three years at Harvard Divinity School, 1904-1907. Degree of S. T. B. in June, 1907. Commencement Part. Ordained Minister of First Church (Unitarian), Lancaster, Mass., August 7, 1907. Am trustee of Lancaster Public Library; trustee of Town Charitable Fund; and member of School Committee.

Married Edna Pollard Jones, daughter of Marshall Jones and Mary A. (Roberts) Jones, September 28, 1907, at Weston, Mass. Present residence: Lancaster, Mass.

GEORGE CONRAD PETERSON

After receiving my degree from Harvard in 1904, I was appointed during the summer of that year Principal of the High School at Cotuit, Mass. Here I served in that position for two years until I received a better position, as Principal of the Norfolk (Mass.) High School, where I also served two years. During the summer vacations I have been engaged successfully in tutoring, preparing students for Harvard and other colleges.

In October, 1908, I entered the Boston University Law School, where I am at present a student as well as Instructor. During the fall and winter of 1908-'09, I also was teacher in the Roxbury Evening High School; and during this fall and winter (1909-'10) I am teaching in the Cambridge Public Evening Schools. My plan is to enter upon the active practice of law as soon as I have passed the Massachusetts Bar examinations. Present residence: 143 Hemenway St., Boston, Mass.

FRANKLIN FOLSOM PHILLIPS, JR.

I went from college to the Harvard Law School from which I was graduated in June, 1907, having previously been admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in September, 1906. From August 1, 1907, to August 1, 1908, I was associated in practice with the firm of Clarke, Raymond & Coale, at 60 State St., Boston, which firm is principally engaged in patent practice. On September 1, 1908, I formed a partnership with Danforth W. Comins, '03, for the general practice of law and am still with Mr. Comins under the firm name of Comins & Phillips, with offices at 70 State St., Boston. CARL EMILE PICKHARDT

Upon leaving college, I was engaged for a short time as an insurance agent. In 1905 I became interested in a newly patented paper drinking cup which I assisted in perfecting. Until the latter part of 1905 I was manager of the company. In 1906 I became interested in advertising, and in the latter part of that year traveled through Mexico, preparing a sportsman's guide book for one of the principal railroads of that country. The company was in difficulties financially and the book has not yet been published. Returning from Mexico, I entered the employ of a company engaged in designing and manufacturing interior fittings for banks and offices, where I was in charge of the ventilating department. Later in the same year I secured the Massachusetts agency for a firm which manufactures ventilating apparatus, and this occupied me until I took my present position in the bond and statistical departments of a banking house at 60 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

The only public position I have held is that of postmaster at Islington, Mass., which responsible position I was forced to accept for a short time in order to prevent the closing of the post office in that village.

Married Louise Waterman Fowler, daughter of Charles Joseph Fowler and Emma Sinclair Fowler, August 26, 1907, at West Newton, Mass. A son, Carl Emile Pickhardt, Jr., born May 28, 1908, at Islington, Mass. Present residence: Islington, Mass.

ALVAH HENRY PIERCE

During the years 1905 and 1906 I was a student in the Graduate School at Harvard, specializing in Chemistry. In August, 1906, I joined the Avery Chemical Company in the capacity of chemist, and was sent to their Lowell factory. In October of the same year I began to travel for this company, and covered the New England states, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, calling on the tanneries, woolen mills, and cotton mills. In September, 1907, the Avery Chemical Company opened a branch office in Peabody, Mass., of which they made me resident manager until March, 1908, at which time I was made assistant manager of the Boston office, 88 Broad St. In January, 1909, I was made sales manager of the company, which position I now hold. The only club or organization to which I have belonged since leaving college is the First Corps of Cadets, of Boston, which I joined in March, 1907, and from which I was honorably discharged in May, 1909, having taken part in the manoeuvers at Pine Camp, Pine Plains, N. Y., during the summer of 1908.

ROGER PIERCE

Immediately after leaving college, traveled abroad during the summer of 1904 with R. H. Gardiner, Jr., '04, and Gordon Donald, '04. Upon my return, went to work for S. S. Pierce Company, where I stayed until September, 1907. I then entered the employ of Houghton, Mifflin Company, and in July, 1908, went with the new company which purchased the Atlantic Monthly of Houghton, Mifflin Company. I am now with the Atlantic Monthly Company, 4 Park St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: Milton, Mass.

HERBERT FRENCH PRESTON

After graduation in June, 1904, I accepted the position of Master of Greek and German in Lake Forest Academy, Lake Forest, Ill. I stayed there for two years, and in September, 1906, sailed for Europe. The winter of 1906-'07, I spent studying Comparative Literature at the University of Munich, doing a bit of traveling during the vacations and the next summer. In the autumn of 1907, I accepted the position of Senior Master in Dr. Coit's School for Boys, in Munich, and I have held that position ever since. Present residence: Konradstrasse 4, Munich, Germany.

WILSON PARKER PRICE

I studied at Harvard University during the season 1900-'01, registering as a special student. In September, 1901, I entered the Full Professional Course at the Faelten Pianoforte School, Boston, where I was graduated in June, 1904. In the fall of 1904 I introduced the Faelten System in the Hans Schneider Piano School of Providence, R. I.; and at the same time began regular work as a member of the Faculty of the Faelten School. During the summer of the same year I made a trip West to my home in Wisconsin and from there to the Pacific Coast. The various points of interest in this bit of travel were the Yellowstone National Park, Montana, Seattle, Tacoma, the Portland Fair, Salt Lake City, Pike's Peak, and Chicago. Since joining the regular staff of teachers of the Faelten School, I have continued in the same line of work.

Married Mary Edith James, daughter of William Bird James and Catherine Elizabeth James, July 23, 1907, at Chicago, Ill. A daughter, Meredith Elizabeth Price, born August 17, 1908. Present residence: 71 Spring Park Ave., Jamaica Plain, Mass.

STANLEY BLANCHARD PURDY

I left college in June, 1901, to go to work in the shipping room of a wholesale smallwares store in Boston. After six weeks my father offered me a position in his photograph studio (J. E. Purdy & Co., 145 Tremont St., Boston), and since then I have been under his tutelage, learning the important things in each department until at present I superintend the finishing of the pictures. In 1906, I became a Mason and later a Knight Templar. No other fraternal order has had my application for admission. So far as being in the public eye is concerned, there has been nothing in my life as yet to warrant it.

Married Edna May Anderson, daughter of Andrew Wallace Anderson and Sarah Cross Anderson, June 26, 1907, at Beachmont, Mass. Children: Ruth Alma Purdy, born May 24, 1908, at Melrose, Mass.; and Frances Purdy, born October 8, 1909, at Wakefield, Mass. Present residence: 5 Ashcroft St., Wakefield, Mass.

LANSING GOODRICH PUTMAN

Member of firm of Powers, Kaplan & Rabenold, attorneys at law, 154 Nassau St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 328 West 56th St., New York, N. Y.

LAURENCE FREDERIC RAINSFORD

After leaving college, I went abroad for the first time, spending all summer traveling about England. On my return in September, an attack of typhoid prevented my beginning work as a medical student, so again I went abroad, visiting Italy, Sicily, Sardinia, and the Tyrol. The next four years I spent at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York, during the school year. In summer joined my parents shooting in Scotland. While in the P. and S. I joined a social and medical society called the Omega Club; and, graduating third in my class, was by that standing entitled to membership in the Columbia branch of the Alpha Omega Alpha. Last June I obtained a position in competitive examination on the staff of Roosevelt Hospital where I am now working on the medical service. The service is for two years. Present residence: Roosevelt Hospital, West 59th St., New York, N. Y.

WALTER KERR RAINSFORD

The year after leaving college, I entered the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., in Wall St., New York, where I spent about two years; leaving in the spring of 1907 to accept a position in the Costa Rican banana plantations of the United Fruit Co., of Boston. Owing to friction with the Costa Rican government, a change of management was made almost immediately after my arrival; and, together with most of the Americans then in the employ of the company, I sailed north again in September. The turn of events was a disappointment, but an experience of the tropics had at least been interesting. Crossing to Scotland, I spent a month's shooting in the Highlands, and then came to Paris to begin the study of Architecture—a former ambition which I had never given trial. I passed the competitive examinations for the Ecole des Beaux Arts in the following June, and have since then been working steadily—gaining one "premier mention," and spending my summers tramping through the mountains of the Tyrol, bicycling in the south of France, and shooting in Scotland. Present residence: 5 Rue Saint Benoit, Paris, France.

OTIS MELVIN RIGGS

During 1903-'04 taught Chemistry and Mineralogy in the Michigan Agricultural College at Lansing, Mich. Returned the following year and graduated in June, 1905, still holding my identity with the Class of 1904. Since my graduation I have been serving as Sub-Principal and Head of Science Department of the Cony High School, Augusta, Me., and for the last three years have been Principal of one of two evening schools.

Married Mary E. Scamman, daughter of Stillman G. Scamman and Sarah L. Scamman, December 29, 1905. A daughter, Ada Louise Scamman, born September 29, 1906, at Gloucester, Mass. Present residence: 20 Spring St., Augusta, Me.

*HENRY FAIRBANK RIVERS *1909

Almost every one in the Class knew Rivers, and every one liked him. It is a great grief to have to record his death.

Henry Fairbank Rivers, the son of George Robert-Russell Rivers and Helen (Fairbank) Rivers, was born August 17, 1883, at Milton, Mass. He was prepared for college at the Milton Academy.

From graduation on, Rivers was employed in the wool business in Boston with Anthony and Waters. He died from tuberculosis, March 8, 1909, at Milton, Mass.

R. S. W.

ROBERT WHEATON RIVERS

I began teaching in the fall of 1904 in the same school in which I am at present, Noble and Greenough's, Boston, as general factotum for the rescue of backsliders. Then the English teacher resigned, and I slipped adroitly into his shoes. I have spent my winters on the job; and my summers, one in the Adirondacks, another traveling through Europe, another motoring through England, and the rest I forget where. I have no honors or degrees, and I haven't committed myself in writing. I have joined a few clubs, such as the University, the Union Boat Club, and the New York Harvard Club, but otherwise have led a perfectly moral life. Present residence: Milton, Mass.

FRANCIS MARKOE RIVINUS

Having completed my college course in three years, I commenced the study of law, my present profession, under the guidance of a law tutor. At the time of my study of law, I was a tutor to boys, by way of pot-boiling. I was admitted to practice in Philadelphia in 1906, some time in the fall of the year. Since that time, I have continuously practiced in Philadelphia, first going into the office of John J. Sullivan, Esq.; and, in the spring of 1907, entering the office of John G. Johnson, Esq.; and, finally, in the fall of 1909 returning to the office of John J. Sullivan, Esq., 225 Land Title Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa. As tutor and while studying law, I traveled with my charges to Egypt and also west to Colorado Springs. Honors, degrees and public office have not yet come to me. I am a member of the First Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry and of the Philadelphia Barge Club. Present residence: 2119 De Lancey St., Philadelphia, Pa.

HALLET RICE ROBBINS

Leaving Harvard in 1903, I studied two years at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston, receiving the degree of B.Sc. in Civil Engineering. I then went to Korea and took charge of a cyanide plant at the gold mines of the Oriental Consolidated Mining Co. Next I explored portions of Korea and Manchuria for the Collbran Bostinck Co. of Seoul, and the Manchu Syndicate, Ltd., of London. The next few months were spent in travel. In June and July, 1907, I was Inspector on the East River (New York) tunnels for the Pennsylvania Tunnel & Terminal Co. From August 1, 1907, to February 8, 1908, and from June 8, 1908, to August 15, 1908, I was Engineering Examiner to the New York State Civil Service Commission. From February 8, 1908, to June 8, 1908, traveling in Europe and studying at the Royal School of Mines in London. During latter part of 1908, Assistant Engineer, New York State Barge Canal. Till April 15, 1909, Office Engineer for Alexander Potter, Consulting Engineer, of New York. Since early part of 1909, Managing Engineer for Colonial Gold Mining Co., 64-66 Wall St., New York, in charge of operations on gold mining property near Hedley, British Columbia. Permanent headquarters now at Seattle, Wash. (P. O. Box 51).

Married Florence Dench, daughter of William F. Dench and Elizabeth Dench, March 18, 1909, at Princeton, Mass. Present residence: 1508 Elm St., Manchester, N. H.

ISAAC DAVID ROBBINS

Is engaged in a mercantile business. Permanent address: 155 Cambridge St., Boston, Mass.

ALTON TRUE ROBERTS

September, 1904, to March, 1905, salesman on the road. April 1, 1905, to August 15, 1905, Foreman of Borough of Richmond, New York City. August 15, 1905, to March 31, 1906, statistician in Bureau of Buildings, Borough of Manhattan, New York City. April 1, 1906, to November 30, 1908, Chief Clerk, Engineering Bureau, Board of Water Supply, New York City.

Since December 1, 1908, have been at Marquette, Mich., in real estate business—handling mineral, timber, and farming lands, city and town lots. Am a director of the Marquette National Bank, vice-president of the Pioneer Motor Co., secretary-treasurer of the Emblagaard Dairy. Am also a member of board of managers of Guild Hall Association, vice-president of Marquette Golf Club, chairman of Water Supply Committee of Commercial Club; and a member of the Marquette Club, the Harvard Club of Michigan, and the Harvard Club of New York.

Married Abbie Beecher Longyear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Longyear, November 18, 1908, at Brookline, Mass. A son, Horace Noyes Roberts, born September 22, 1909. Present residence: Marquette, Mich.

GEORGE FRENCH ROBERTS

I have nothing of interest to report. Present residence: Milton, Mass.

HENRY KNOWLTON ROBERTS

I was with the Salem (Mass.) Electric Lighting Co., from September, 1904, to June, 1905. From June, 1905, to date, I have been with the Star Refining Co., 110 West 1st St., Boston, Mass., being now Assistant Manager. Elected to Salem Common Council December, 1908. Am a member of the Salem Club, the "Now and Then Association," and the Winslow Lewis Commandery, Knights Templar; all of Salem. Have been to Canada and lower provinces for several weeks each year since 1904.

Married Florence L. Dow, daughter of Lewis A. Dow and Mary E. (Upton) Dow, September 12, 1900, at Salem, Mass. Children: Henry Knowlton Roberts, Jr., born June 15, 1902; and Mary O. Roberts, born August 12, 1904; both at Salem, Mass. Present residence: 7 Piedmont St., Salem, Mass.

SIDNEY LEWIS ROBERTS

Since leaving Cambridge, I have been working my way up in the Dairy Business owned by several of my relatives. In October, 1905, I bought a farm of eighty acres, four miles south of the village of Malvern, Pa., and directly opposite the large tract of land held by the estate of my late grandfather. I leased my farm to the "Bryn Clovis Dairy" by whom I was employed and invested the returns in permanent improvements. In January, 1907, my mother purchased all the stock, good-will, and fixtures of the "Bryn Clovis Dairy"; and, since that date, she and I have run the business on land leased from my grandfather's estate, my own land, and a small farm of my mother's. The business has doubled in two years and is very prosperous.

In January, 1908, I was one of the men who founded the Pennsylvania Certified Milk Producers Association at Wilkes-barre, Pa.; and in February, 1908, I was one of its delegates to the meeting in New York where all the State associations were merged into the Certified Milk Producers Association of America. I have been one of the representatives from Pennsylvania at the meetings of this body held in Chicago, May, 1908; New York, January, 1909; Atlantic City, N. J., June, 1909; and I am chairman of the Committee on Publication and Legislation of the C. M. P. A. of A.

I was the first man in this part of the country to produce and market goat's milk for infant feeding. I am author of "A Lacteal Mother Goose" or "Milky Melodies for Modern Mothers," Copyrighted 1906. Am author also of "Delta Upsilon Men and the Drama" in Delta Upsilon Quarterly for October, 1909; also much unsigned material in this magazine; also author of "Pre-historic Dairying among the Aryans," traced through the Sanskrit, in the Milkman.

I have not traveled for pleasure since leaving college except to attend the triennial; I have never run for public office; I have held the same job and taken no degrees. I have, as a means of recreation, collected a library of about fourteen hundred books; studied Italian, the Gypsy languages, and a little Sanskrit, as well as some rather extensive investigations in comparative mythology and the development of legends and tales. I raise Irish terriers to sell as fancy pets and have been more successful with them than with literature. I haven't been sick a day for years. I live out-of-doors and get a lot of good out of life. I am very far from being rich in material wealth but I have much that money can never buy. I am a member of the following clubs and societies: Harvard Clubs of New York and Philadelphia; Delta Upsilon Club of Philadelphia; Saint Andrew's Society of Philadelphia (Scottish Ancestry); West Chester Club, West Chester Hunt Club, and West Chester Golf and Country Club, of West Chester, Pa.; Pennsylvania Live Stock Breeders Association; Pennsylvania State Dairy Union; Certified Milk Producers Association of America; and Sons of the American Revolution. Present residence: Malvern, Pa.

ANDREW ROBESON

I worked two years with W. O. Gay & Co., Boston, and one year with same people in New York. Street broker for one year, then returned to Boston and was with J. Thomas Reinhardt one year. Since then have traveled. Permanent address: Brookline, Mass.

KINGMAN NOTT ROBINS

After graduation, spent three months in travel in the Southwestern United States, and returned to enter the employ of the Western Electric Company, Chicago, Ill. in November, 1904. Occupied various clerical positions, chiefly in the treasurer's department, including that of acting cashier. Resigned in the spring of 1906 and opened an office in Rochester, N. Y., for the negotiation and sale of mortgages on farms in various parts of the United States and Canada, this business being a continuation of previous work, in behalf of relatives, of the same nature. In 1908 the business was incorporated under the name Associated Mortgage Investors, with myself as Treasurer and Manager. This position I still hold. Offices at 1004 Granite Bldg., Rochester, N. Y.

My business has carried me into most sections of the United States and Canada, but not abroad. I spend my winters chiefly in Rochester, and my summers on the Pacific Coast. My chief avocations have been to assist in the organization of the Harvard Club of Rochester and the University Club of Rochester, of both of which societies I am the present Secretary. My other clubs are: the Genesee Valley Club, the Rochester Athletic Club, and the Rochester Lawn Tennis Club, all of Rochester; the Harvard Club of New York; and the American Universities Club of London, England. I have also been somewhat active in the work of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce and various minor activities. Present residence: 580 West Ave., Rochester, N. Y.

CHESTER HAVEN ROBINSON

Have been in woods of Maine in employ of Great Northern Paper Co., Spruce Wood Department, Millinocket, Me. Present residence: Millinocket, Me.

ERNEST ROBINSON

Is Principal of Horton College Academy at Wolfville, Nova Scotia, Canada.

THEODORE DOUGLAS ROBINSON

After my marriage on June 18, 1904, I took a trip round the world, returning to New York in May, 1905. Since that time I have been in the real estate business in New York with the firm of Douglas Robinson, Charles L. Brown Co., 146 Broadway. I am a member of the following clubs: Racquet and Tennis Club, Harvard Club, Down Town Association, of New York; and Essex County Country Club of Orange, N. J.

Married Helen Rebecca Roosevelt, daughter of James Roosevelt Roosevelt and Helen (Astor) Roosevelt, June 18, 1904, at Hyde Park, N. Y. Children: Douglas Robinson, Jr., born November 8, 1905, at New York, N. Y.; Helen Douglas Robinson, born August 29, 1907, at Orange, N. J.; and Elizabeth Douglas Robinson, born August 29, 1909, at Orange, N. J. Present residence: 750 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

CHARLES KELLOGG ROCKWELL

From 1904 to 1906 I attended the Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., entering the United States Army in 1906 as a Lieutenant in the Engineer Corps. Since then I have been stationed at a couple of army posts, spending one year of this time on duty in Cuba. At present am on duty in Washington, D. C., at the Washington Barracks.

ALLEN ARCHELAND ROFF

Is engaged in the manufacture of sweater coats and knit underwear at Cohoes, N. Y.

Married Elsie Cady Elliott, daughter of Sterling Elliott and Harriet Elliott, October 11, 1905. A little daughter, aged one year and three months, died October 9, 1907, at Troy, N. Y. Present residence: Cohoes, N. Y.

JOHN JACOB ROGERS

Received A.M. in 1905 and LL.B. in 1907 from Harvard. Was an editor of Harvard Law Review in 1905-'06 and treasurer in 1906-'07. Admitted to Massachusetts Bar, February, 1908. Am associated in the practice of law with Frank E. Dunbar at 29 Hildreth Bldg., Lowell, Mass.

Married Edith Frances Nourse, daughter of Franklin Nourse and Edith F. Nourse, October 2, 1907, at Lowell, Mass. Traveled on our wedding-trip in Greece, Holy Land and Egypt, fall of 1907. Traveled in Spain, etc., in 1909. Was Second and later First Lieutenant of Co. K, 6th Regt., M. V. M., 1906-'09. Am a member of the Yorick Club, the Vesper Country Club, and the Longmeadow Golf Club. Present residence: 444 Andover St., Lowell, Mass.

ALBERT DE ROODE

July 14, 1904, I became Assistant Secretary of the National Civil Service Reform League and of the Civil Service Reform Association of New York, with joint headquarters at 79 Wall St., New York City, and since that time have continued in this position. Outside of this work I studied law and was admitted to the New York Bar on November 23, 1909. I have been a member of the Committee on Legislation of the City Club for four years. Have held no public offices, and received no degrees. Have been for three years editor of Good Government, a monthly journal of the League, and my writings have been confined chiefly to that paper. An article on "Regulations for the Employment of Laborers in the Civil Service" was published in the Proceedings of the League for 1904. A compilation "The Business Value of Civil Service Reform" has been published by the League as a pamphlet. Travel has been confined to United States on business and vacations.

ALEXANDER ROSE

Received the degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School in 1906. Is now practicing law at 43 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

LOUIS ROSS

After June, 1904, I remained one year at Harvard, completing my studies in Civil Engineering at the Lawrence Scientific School, at the same time holding an Austin Teaching Scholarship in Mechanics. With my double sheep-skin, the United States took me into its Geological Survey, as Engineering Aid, and sentenced me to the Virginia lowlands, where I surveyed about one hundred and fifty miles of the Roanoke River, and returned to Washington to complete the office mapping of this survey. I was then promoted to the position of Assistant Engineer, and transferred to the United States Reclamation Service, and assigned to the Technical Division—my work consisting of the review and design of various en-engineering structures, and their accompanying specifications.

After a year and a half of Washington's enervating ease, I received the call of the West. Went to South Dakota, also for the United States, on the construction of the Belle Fourch Dam. There I was first introduced to the prairie, the "bronc," the frontier, and the frontiersman. Stayed there several months, and then took a leisurely trip across the continent, and landed in San Francisco. After a short engagement with the Southern Pacific Co., I entered into the private practice of civil engineering, making a speciality of taking contracts from the United States for surveys, and mapping; both of which have brought me into most intimate contact with real California. Have measured the deviation of Polaris from the Granitic crest of the Sierra Nevadas, where I drank from the snow bank which marks the very headwaters of the Mokelumne and the great San Joaquin basin, and slept on the sheltered slope heading the Humboldt basin, toward the Mississippi; have beaten up the manzanita-covered canyons of Southern California, and left some of my skin on the stinging yuccas.

I have written the following articles: "Graphic Solution of Column Strengths," Engineering News, 1906; "Strength of Flooring vs. Stringers," ibid, 1908; "Solar Observations for Azimuth," ibid, (in print); and "Work of a United States Deputy Surveyor," Harvard Engineering Journal, (in print). I have also published a number of maps, some of which have had an extensive sale. Present residence: 947 Steiner St., San Francisco, Cal.

PETER FREDERICK ROTHERMEL, 3D

Entered the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania in the fall of 1904; graduated with degree of Bachelor of Laws in the spring of 1907. Passed the State Board Examinations for admission to the Bar of Pennsylvania in the summer of 1907; and was formally admitted to the practice of the law in the fall of 1907. Have since been engaged in active practice at Philadelphia, Pa. Offices at 804-807 Land Title Bldg.

Married Louise Kennedy Elliot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baker Elliot, April 23, 1908, at Philadelphia, Pa. Present residence: 2209 Pine St., Philadelphia, Pa.

GEORGE FRANCIS ROUGHAN

Is a contractor at Mystic Wharf, Charlestown, Mass. Present residence: 60 Pond St., Jamaica Plain, Mass.

Married Lois Alice Upham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett Upham, June 26, 1907, at Arlington, Mass. Present residence: 694 East 5th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

EDGAR CARTER RUST

Have been associated with Parkinson & Burr, bankers, 53 State St., Boston, since October, 1904; first as a bond-salesman, and since February, 1909, as manager of their bond department. I spent the summer following my graduation from Harvard in Europe with Professor A. P. Andrew.

Married Rosamond Pierce Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gray Weeks, June 5, 1909, at Boston, Mass. A daughter, Rosamond Rust, born March 25, 1910, at Chestnut Hill, Mass. Present residence: 14 Norfolk Rd., Chestnut Hill, Mass.

JAMES RICHARD RUTLAND

In the summer of 1904 I was elected to a position in the public schools of Mobile, Ala., but resigned before the active work began to take a position as Instructor of English in the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala. Since that time, I have been connected with that institution as librarian, to which position I was elected in June, 1905; and as Instructor in the Department of English until June, 1909, when I became Assistant Professor. Since the fall of 1908, I have been associated with the State Department of Education as one of two County High School Inspectors. Excepting such diversions and rewards as naturally come from these "jobs" and from a summer or two at the University of Chicago "travels, honors, degrees, and public posts" have not disturbed the even tenor of my way. Present residence: Auburn, Ala.

LOUIS HERMAN RUYL

Have followed concisely my vocation of an artist—varied with travels abroad to England and the continent, the results of which have been recorded and drawn for the Boston Herald. More latterly interested in Old Boston, which I illustrated for exhibition, and which illustrations have been displayed here in the galleries. I am a member of the Copley Society.

Married Beatrice Baxter, daughter of Joseph Nickerson Baxter and Edith M. Baxter, December, 1901, at Boston, Mass. A daughter, Ruth Beatrice Ruyl, born May 6, 1905, at Boston, Mass. Present residence: Hingham, Mass.

WALTER EDWARD SACHS

The year following graduation, I spent in the Harvard Law School, taking a special course. On July 1, 1905, I entered the firm of Goldman, Sachs Co., bankers, 60 Wall St., New York City. From April, 1906, until January, 1908, I was in Europe, dividing my time equally between Paris, Berlin, and London, in the study of European banking methods. January 1, 1910, I became a partner in Goldman, Sachs Co. Present residence: 46 West 70th St., New York, N. Y.

ROY ANGELO SADLER

Graduated from Harvard Medical School in Class of 1907. Then served as House Physician at the House of the Good Samaritan, Roxbury, then at the Massachusetts General Hospital and later at Children's Hospital, Boston. Present residence: Children's Hospital, Huntington Ave., Boston, Mass.

WILFORD COOK SAEGER

I entered the Harvard Law School in the autumn of 1904, and in June, 1907, received the degree of LL.B. Since that time, I have done very little outside of my law work. For two years I was in the offices of Cook, McGowan & Foote, attorneys at law, in Cleveland, O., and in October, 1909, I became a partner in the law firm of McGraw, Hauxhurst & Saeger, 1324 Citizen Bldg., Cleveland, O. Present residence: The New Amsterdam, Cleveland, O.

RALPH SANGER

Entered accounting department of Great Northern Railroad, July 7, 1904, remaining until September, 1905. Was married November 16, 1904, and spent following month in Havana, Cuba, returning to St. Paul, Minn., where we resided until I left the employ of the Great Northern Railroad. In September, 1905, we returned to New York, which city has since been our permanent place of residence. September, 1905, entered bond department of Clark, Dodge & Co., bankers, 51 Wall St. October, 1907, resigned position with Clark, Dodge & Co., to assume active duties as general manager of the American Automatic Switch Co. May 1, 1908, entered firm of Wonham & Magor, 30 Church St., New York City. January 1, 1909, firm name changed to Wonham, Magor & Sanger. February 1, 1910, firm name again changed to Wonham, Sanger & Bates. Am officially connected with following corporations: Wonham-Magor Car & Manufacturing Co.,—Director; American Automatic Switch Co.,—Vice-President and Director; Royal Machine Co.,—President and Director. Served for three years on Committee on Admissions of Harvard Club of New York.

Married Virginia Sturges Osborn, daughter of Henry Fairfield Osborn and Lucretia Perry Osborn, November 16, 1904, at New York, N. Y. A son, Fairfield Osborn Sanger, born May 11, 1907, at New York, N. Y. Present residence: 131 East 69th St., New York, N. Y.

EUGENE MITCHELL SAWYER

The two years following graduation in June, 1904, I spent at Cambridge in the Scientific School. In June, 1906, I received the degree of S.B. in Mining and Metallurgy. The following year I was an Assistant in Mining and Metallurgy and was registered in the Graduate School of Applied Science, taking the M. E. degree. In August, 1907, I came to Bisbee, Ariz., where I have been employed by the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining Company, as mining engineer till September, 1909, since they as chief geologist. Present address: Box 2136, Bisbee, Ariz.

ELMER EUGENE SCATES

Prior to my studies at Harvard, I attended the English course of the Newton Theological Institution, Newton Centre, Mass., graduating there in 1898. Prior to May 1, 1904, I was for five years pastor of the North Billerica Baptist Church. From 1897 to 1899 I was in charge of the Mt. Auburn Union Mission, located in the Mt. Auburn part of Cambridge, Mass. Ordained to the Baptist Ministry, November 7, 1898, at Georgetown, Mass. Licensed to preach at Georgetown, Mass., November 4, 1895.

Since May 1, 1904, I have been pastor of the First Baptist Church, Gardner, Mass. I am author of "A Catechism of Truth Certified in Saviorhood."

Married Beatrice Marion Stott, daughter of James T.

Stott, and Mary Stott, April 27, 1904, at North Billerica, Mass. Children: Priscilla Lois Scates, born July 30, 1906; and Winifred Marion Scates, born January 11, 1909; both at Gardner, Mass. Present residence: 30 High St., Gardner, Mass.

FREDERICK WILLIAM SCHENCK

In August, 1902, I was appointed law librarian of the newly organized Law School of the University of Chicago, which position I have since occupied. From January, 1908, to May, 1909, I was Managing Editor of The Index to Legal Periodicals and Law Library Journal, published by the American Association of Law Libraries. From July, 1906, to July, 1909, I was a member of the executive committee of the American Association of Law Libraries. During summer of 1908 I had the pleasure of traveling through the British Isles and the Continent.

Married Mollie Gertrude Currier, daughter of George Willim Currier and Mary Prescott Currier, January 1, 1903. Present residence: 5811 Jackson Ave., Chicago, Ill.

FRANK HERMAN SCHOENFUSS

Left college in June, 1904. Spent one year in the Lawrence Scientific School, specializing in Mining and Metallurgy, receiving an S.B. in general science. Then spent two years in the West, mining, in Utah, Nevada, and California. Returned East and have been in the employ of the Boston Transit Commission, 75 Canal St., Boston, as chemist up to date. Present residence: 84 Sheridan St., Jamaica Plain, Mass.

LEONARD HASTINGS SCHOFF

I am holding down the job of Treasurer and Manager of the Columbia Worsted Company, Wallingford, Pa., and pushing to show at least a 50 per cent. increase in business every year, which keeps me too busy to fill out many blanks. Present residence: 3418 Baring St., Philadelphia, Pa.

ARTHUR SCHWAB

Is Superintendent of the factory of the Schwab Clothing Co., St. Louis, Mo. Present residence: 4393 Westminster Pl., St. Louis, Mo.

HERBERT FERLANDO SCHWARZ

The first two years after graduation I spent in the toy business, being employed in various capacities. Finding the work uncongenial I entered the English Department of Columbia University, where I pursued graduate work for two years. At the end of this period in 1909 was given the opportunity of entering the Editorial Department of G. P. Putnam's Sons, 27-29 West 23d St., New York City, with whom I have been connected since then. I am a director of F. A. O. Schwarz and of the Century Mortgage Company, and am secretary of the former company. I am a member of the Harvard Club, the Economic Club, and of Squadron A, N. G., N. Y. Since graduation I have taken two trips to the West, on one occasion visiting the Pacific Coast and a number of intermediate points, and on the other occasion making a special trip to the Indian tribes of Arizona.

Married Dorothy Constable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Constable, April 12, 1910, at New York, N. Y. Present residence: 20 East 61st St., New York, N. Y.

CHARLES ANDREW SHEA

Is in the linen manufacturing business at the Oxford Linen Mills, North Brookfield, Mass. Present residence: 99 Georgia St., Roxbury, Mass.

GEORGE GARFIELD SHEERIN

Since leaving college I have been a teacher in the West Texas Military Academy, San Antonio, Tex.; traveled in Mexico; been Principal of St. Matthews' School for Boys, Dallas, Tex.; and finally founded the Sheerin School, Dallas, Tex., preparatory for boys, of which I am now Headmaster.

PERCY ELLSWORTH SHELDON

Got a job in September, 1904, as head of ink well and ash can departments in a wool house. Got same job now, different departments added, harder work. The only travels are on the job. No honors I'm aware of; still got my A.B., but no others; write once in a while, but no money in it. No posts. Business address: 49 Federal St., Boston, Mass.

Married Alice Hawthorne Hadden, daughter of Alexander Hadden and Frank (Hawthorne) Hadden, September 5, 1908, at Euclid, O. A son, John Ellsworth Sheldon, born August 17, 1909, at Milton, Mass. Present residence: East Milton, Mass.

EDWARD HAROLD SHERBURNE

After leaving college, I assisted my father in the management of three estates until the winter of 1906. I was married April 2, 1907, and started to work for Arthur G. McKee, blast furnace engineer, on April 10, 1907, as construction engineer at the Inland Steel Company Plant at Indiana Harbor, Ind. In the fall of 1907 came back to McKee's office in Cleveland and was with him until the summer of 1908, when I went with Crowell & Murray to do engineering and inspection work. I stayed with this concern until the spring of 1909 when I went back to A. G. McKee's where I remained until January 1, 1910, when I took up gas power installation and power plant equipment with Andrew B. Nichols, organizing the Nichols and Sherburne Company, with offices at 515 Cuyahoga Bldg., Cleveland, O.

Married Mary Gilman Murphy, daughter of John F.

Murphy and Mary M. Murphy, April 2, 1907, at Roxbury, Mass. Present residence: 1929 East 90th St., Cleveland, O.

ARTHUR BROWN SHERMAN

There is little other than routine and the details of domestic happiness, whose scope cannot be expected to reach much farther than my own fireside, for me to record. I entered the employ of the New Bedford Evening Standard as a reporter immediately after graduation, and have continued in the grind (which, though arduous, has its compensations) ever since. My present position of news editor came to me early in 1908, after I had figured a bit in municipal politics, as a candidate for the common council and incidentally as campaign manager for the fusion candidate for mayor. Both my candidate and his would-be-councilman were defeated. He has run again since, but I have not.

I married Nellie M. Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bishop, October 18, 1905, at Newton, Mass. My marriage is the happiest milestone of the journey so far for me. We have a little home of our own, at 51 Park St., New Bedford, Mass., and look forward to the day when there may be more of us in it than at present.

HARRY BARTLETT SHERMAN

My college course was completed in three years, so I left Harvard in June, 1903. For the greater part of the year following, I served as an Assistant in the Executive Office of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and continued to live in Cambridge. In the spring of 1904, my health became impaired, so I took a trip to Bermuda, returning in time for the Commencement Exercises, when I was graduated with my Class. Soon afterward I entered the employ of the Phoenix Lighting Company, of Boston, and went to Somerville to live. In January, 1905, I was elected Treasurer of the company, which office I held for nearly three years.

July 19, 1905, I married Elsie Anvilla Noyes, daughter of James Henry Noyes and Annie Elizabeth Noyes, at Somerville, Mass. In the fall of 1907 I acquired the sole right to operate the patents of the Phoenix Lighting Company in the State of Rhode Island. We came to Providence, R. I., to live, and established a home at 13 Corinth St., where we may still be found. Valentines' Day, February 14, 1909, a little girl, Elizabeth Belle Sherman, came to see us, and she may still be found here, also. Come and see us anytime, any friend from 1904!

ROBERT LIXINGSTON SHEWELL

I left college after finishing my Sophomore year in June, 1902. In December, 1902, entered employ of Stone & Webster, in Boston, as clerk in purchasing department, where I remained until March 2, 1904. March 3, 1904, I went to New York City as assistant to the Treasurer of the International Curtis Marine Turbine Company, where I remained until November 1, 1905. On November 2, 1905, I came to Boston as clerk in the Trust Department of the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co., 87 Milk St., in charge of real estate and mortgages, where I am at present.

Married Caroline Rogerson, daughter of Charles Edward Rogerson and Anne Greenleaf Rogerson, April 22, 1909, at Milton, Mass. Present residence: 230 Canton Ave., Milton, Mass.

LEIGHTON SHIELDS

Prior to June, 1904, I attended the Harvard Law School as a regular first year student; and, upon finishing the final examinations, I went West to take charge of the Harvard Exhibit in the Educational Building of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis. This work was very pleasant, as I was placed in touch with Harvard graduates who were making their pilgrimage to the fair. I read law during the summer and passed the examinations for admission to the Senior class of the St. Louis Law School from which I was graduated in June, 1905, with a degree of LL.B. Before I completed my law course, I entered the offices of Jones, Jones & Hocker, one of the leading firms of St. Louis, where I was supposed to gather experience and industry. After serving a term of two years with them, I went into the law business for myself. In December, 1908, I was fortunate to form a partnership with William R. Orthwein, Yale A.B., 1903, under the firm name of Shields & Orthwein, with offices at 1200 Third National Bank Building, St. Louis. Practice has been good and the firm will continue.

The year after my graduation I joined my brother, Captain George H. Shields, as a junketer, in his command of a military expedition to the northern part of Alaska, visiting Skaguay, Muir Glacier, Valdez, Kodiak Island, the Aleutian Islands, St. Michaels at the mouth of the Yukon River and Nome. During the trip I had the opportunity of observing the social tendency of a new civilization and the operation of the wonderful placer mines on the Seward Peninsula. On our return to Skaguay, I went over the White Pass to White Horse, the southern terminus of the Yukon. Returning to Seattle, I spent part of the fall of 1906 there and enjoyed the good fellowship of the members of the Seattle Harvard Club. Returning by the way of the Yellowstone Park, I took up the fight for life again in St. Louis.

During the summer of 1907 the spirit of unrest claimed me again and I departed for European excitement with Edgar P. Hellmuth, Graduate School, 1904. After many experiences from Liverpool to London, we invaded France and soon became lost in the wonders of Parisian life. Then, after a dash to Ostend to recuperate, we toured through Germany to Switzerland; where, proud in our purchase of a rucksack and Alpine hat, we became pedestrians with most of our worldly goods on our back. We swung down from Zürich to Lucerne, round the lakes and up the St. Gothard Pass; then back over the Furka and down the Grimsel to Brienz and Interlaken. The full ascent of the Jungfrau baffled us above the Bergily Hutte. By industrious walking we strode through Geneva, Chamonix, Visp, Zermatt, and finally crossed the Simplon into Italy, where the remainder of our journey to Naples was that of the ordinary tourist. I hope to keep up my good habit of visiting Cambridge and the sea every summer, whether it be for a cruise or a motor trip with Tut Damon.

For several years I have been interested in the American National Red Cross Society and have held position as Secretary of this society in Missouri. Owing to the earthquakes we have been active in separating the public from its money in this philanthropic work. I have been interested in Republican politics, but have sought no office. At present I am United States Commissioner for the Eastern District of Missouri, having charge of preliminary hearings in cases of crimes arising in the jurisdiction of the United States Court. My club life is simple; the Public Question, University, St. Louis Amateur Athletic, and St. Louis Pressing Clubs are the only ones claiming my membership. But for all my wanderings I am an unfortunate man, I am single. Present residence: 3665 Delmar Blvd., St. Louis, Mo.

SAMUEL ATWOOD SICHER

Is engaged in the manufacture of white goods at 45-51 West 21st St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 54 East 65th St., New York, N. Y.

LAURENCE GARFIELD SILVER

I left college in December, 1903, because of illness. On recovery, I traveled some months in Europe, and re-entered college in September, 1905, receiving my degree June, 1906, "as of the class of 1904." In August, 1906, I became connected with the Wm. Hengerer Co., of Buffalo, N. Y., department store, where I remained one year; my work being in the merchandise office. I then returned to Cleveland, O., to become associated with M. T. Silver & Co., in the manufacture of ladies' garments. Present residence: 2060 East 82d St., Cleveland, O.

PEYSER EDWARD SILVERMAN

I went to Chicago in October, 1904, to take a position with the Chicago and Northwestern R. R., in the civil engineering department. My work covered track elevation and location in the States of Illinois and Wisconsin. I saw a good deal of Illinois, Wisconsin, and Iowa. I left Chicago to go to Alabama in the employ of the Illinois Central R. R. at an increase in salary. This was in May, 1905. I stayed with the Illinois Central R. R. until April, 1908, during which period my advancement was regular. Owing to a lack of any construction work and also to the financial stringency in which the country was at that time, I was let go by the company. Upon arriving at the Chicago headquarters I was informed that if I would take a reduction in salary they would retain me in the service. This I refused to do. During my stay in Alabama I was on location and construction work of the heaviest character. At a latter period I was in charge of work. I saw a good deal of Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee.

From Chicago I went to Boston, and remained there until August, 1908, when I left for Chicago; and there took a position with the Lake Construction Company, the people who are building the re-enforced concrete plant for Corn Products Refining Company. There I had a good deal of experience in concrete construction. When the construction work was closed for the winter (December 15, 1908,) I returned to Boston. My brother, one other party, and myself organized the Silverman Engineering Co., and we opened for business on February 1, 1909. I was made Field Manager in charge of civil engineering work and surveying (our company is one of engineers and architects). Business address: Room 76, 27 School St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 12 Worcester Square, Boston, Mass.

ROBERT DOUGLAS SKELLEY

1904-'06, studying at Harvard, receiving the degree of S.B. in 1905 and the degree of M.E. in 1906.

July, 1906, to June, 1908, in Ishpenning, Mich., as assistant mining engineer with the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. June, 1908, to November, 1908, in England and Europe sight-seeing and visiting mining districts. November, 1908, to March, 1909, visiting mining districts of Canada and Michigan. March, 1909, to date, mining engineer at Riverside, Cal.

STEPHEN HENRY SKILTON, JR.

I am a clerk in the National Bank of Commerce, 201 Sears Bldg., Boston, Mass. Nothing but the simple life thus far for me. Along the coast of Maine each summer in a pleasure schooner is the extent of my travels, with an occasional trip to New York. This might sound as though I were married, but no such luck. I still play the national game of baseball, and Saturday afternoon during the summer I am usually mixed up in some game. Here's hoping our Sexennial will be an occasion that everyone will always remember—with pleasure. Present residence: 1014 Beacon St., Brookline, Mass.

RUFUS BROOKS SKINNER

I spent three years in Boston University School of Law, receiving the degree of LL.B. in 1909. I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in February, 1909, and have practiced law since that date. Business address: 30 Court St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: 25 Sagamore St., Dorchester, Mass.

ALLAN SMITH

Is Assistant Engineer with the Board of Water Supply of New York City, stationed at Olive Bridge, Ulster Co., N. Y.

Married Helen Coe, daughter of Thomas A. Coe and Pamelia J. Coe, January 18, 1909, at Cold Spring-on-Hudson, N. Y. Present residence: Olive Bridge, Ulster Co., N. Y.

AUGUSTUS HENRY SMITH

Attended Harvard Law School during the year 1904-'05. In October, 1905, went to East Hartford, Conn., as Principal of Center Grammar School, remaining one year. In September, 1906, went to St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., as Instructor in Modern Languages. Here I remained two years, resigning to accept a similar position at St. Mark's School, Southboro, Mass. After one year at St. Mark's, I resigned to accept the Sub-Mastership of the Arlington High School. My subjects here are Latin, French and German. In addition to this I am in charge of athletics in the school.

Married Josephine Gordon Adams, September 1, 1909, at Fryeburg, Me. Present residence: 15 Albemarle St., Arlington, Mass.

EDWARD CONVERSE SMITH

I have been located with the Standard Gas Engine Co., manufacturers of gas, gasoline, and oil engines, Dennison and King Sts., Oakland, Cal., since the big San Francisco fire of 1906.

I have done nothing of vital importance to the uplifting of mankind since graduation—have not tried to disprove the Malthusian theory—have received neither honors, nor honorary degrees since that time. At the present time I am engaged in obtaining the cost of production of the gas engines manufactured by this concern, and doubtless will be with them for some time to come. Present residence: 648 51st St., Oakland, Cal.

ELIOT NICHOLS SMITH

With Rapid Transit R. R. Commission from August, 1904, to March, 1906. Lived for about a year in New York in apartment with six other young engineers. After that, was transferred to Brooklyn. Got appointment on Board of Water Supply of New York City in March, 1906, and was assigned to Loyd, New Paltz, High Falls, and finally Poughkeepsie.

Work consisted of surveying and office work. At present in charge of Department Office here in Poughkeepsie.

FRED MARSHALL SMITH, JR.

On graduating, I accepted a position with a wholesale clothing concern, where I stayed for two years. After taking a vacation I entered the employ of a large corporation in Boston, but finding advancement well nigh impossible, I resigned. The summer of 1908 I worked as a clerk in the office of the Harvard Summer School, which position I also held for the summer of 1909. Last October I accepted a position as clerk in the office of the Bursar of Harvard University, which I am still holding. The only traveling I have done since I left college was to take a trip to Bermuda last August. Present residence: 108 Homestead St., Roxbury, Mass.

GEORGE KENDRICK SMITH

After attending college was a laboratory assistant with The Edison Co., of Boston. A few months later was employed by Frederick Wildes, '97, wool dealer. In March, 1905, began to deal in wool on my own account at 170 Summer St., Boston, where I continued for two years. Although very successful, I withdrew from the wool business on the approach of the panic of 1907, and returned to the Edison Company as a district sales agent. I resigned this position in September, 1909, to establish a general insurance agency at 50 Congress St., Boston. I was appointed a Notary Public in August, 1907. Present residence: 416 Marlboro St., Boston, Mass.

HARRY WILBER SMITH

On August 1, 1904, I entered the employment of the American Radiator Co., of Chicago, and was sent to their plant at Springfield, O., for one year's apprenticeship, and from there was transferred to their plant at Litchfield, Ill., where I served as foreman in several of its departments. In the spring of 1909 I resigned my position with the Radiator Company, and am at present purposing to establish a factory for the manufacture of various articles in the line of patent and sheet metal novelties at Abingdon, Ill.

Married Clara Ione Blackstone, daughter of Stephen Blackstone and Mahala Blackstone, June 27, 1906, at Macomb, Ill. A daughter, Kathleen Smith, born November 28, 1909, at Abingdon, Ill. Present residence: Abingdon, Ill.

KENDALL KERFOOT SMITH

In the two years succeeding graduation I studied at Harvard in the Graduate School. The first year I acted as Assistant in Fine Arts and the second year (1906) obtained my A.M. That July I started for Greece as Charles Eliot Norton Fellow and spent the summer in pleasure-traveling and museum study through England, France, Germany and Italy. Traveling and archaeological studies in Greece occupied my time from October 1, until April, 1907. Then my interests became localized at the excavations of the American School of Athens in Corinth where I had charge of one division of the work. After nearly three months here, I returned to Germany to avoid the Greek summer heat and studied for six weeks in Munich. Then came a pleasure-trip through Switzerland lasting three weeks, followed by visits to Milan, Florence, and Rome, thence back to Athens for a second year, this time as Fellow of the School at Athens. The following May I came down with typhoid-fever and was brought back to America by my father as soon as I was able to leave the hospital.

In the fall of 1908 I resumed studies for the degree of Ph.D.

at Harvard, which I secured at Commencement, 1909. I was appointed Instructor in Classics at Harvard and Radcliffe for 1909-10, and am giving Greek A, Latin B and E, at Harvard; part of Greek 2 and Latin B at Radcliffe. I have ventured into print only twice as yet: in 1905 with an article entitled, "The Use of the High-Soled Shoe or Buskin in Greek Tragedy of the Fifth and Fourth Centuries B. C.," printed in Harvard Studies in Classical Philology, Vol. XVI; and in the American Journal of Archaeology, Vol. XIII, appears an article on "The Group Dedicated by Daochus at Delphi," written in collaboration with Miss E. M. Gardiner, of the Worcester Art Museum. Present residence: 24 Grays Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

SAMUEL GEORGE SMITH, JR.

Graduated from State Normal School at Mankato, Minn., in 1906. Taught school at Park River, Conway, Overly, and Russell, N. D. LOUIS KEITH SOUTHARD

After graduation traveled through the West to the Pacific Coast and Alaska, about a three months' trip. In October, 1904, entered employ of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., taking up the humble but honest task of securing contracts for telephone service from the willing and unwilling, receiving in return therefor a weekly stipend of ten silver dollars. Later advanced to a somewhat more exalted position, but left at the end of about eighteen months to enter the employ of the American Tel. & Tel. Co. Was connected with the "Prophetic Department" of this concern, inasmuch as my occupation was estimating the probable telephonic development of cities. After a year spent in casting these municipal horoscopes, I parted from the telephone business and accepted a position with the Hollingsworth & Vose Co., of Boston, paper manufacturers, 141 Milk St., Boston, Mass., with which concern I am still connected. It has been my fortune thus far that most of my business has required a good deal of travel, and my present berth is no exception as my duties take me more or less over the country, selling our product, which is paper, and buying our raw material, which is old rope.

Married Carolyn Edith Gumbart January 18, 1908, at Brookline, Mass. A daughter, Margaret Southard, born November 29, 1908, at Brookline, Mass. Present residence: 91 Francis St., Brookline, Mass.

LOUIS WILLIAM SWETT

I am an agent for W. S. Knitting Mills and M. Haber Co., of Philadelphia, at Room 49, 501 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Of my life, since I left college, I have nothing to say, except that I am learning the lesson of "To labor and to wait." Present residence: Bedford, Mass.

JOHN BAKER SWIFT, JR.

My first four years after leaving college were spent in the Harvard Medical School from which I received the degree of M.D. in June of 1908. During these four years I was associated with a research on "Surgical Shock," the results of which were published, under three names, one of these being mine. During this time, I also held minor positions in several of the hospitals round Boston, in connection with my work at the School.

As soon as I had finished my school work in June, 1908, I went abroad for six weeks with Beal, of our Class, and, upon my return, entered the Massachusetts General Hospital, as House Officer, which position I held for the customary term of sixteen months, finishing there November 30, 1909. I am now a House Officer in the Boston Lying-in Hospital, where I expect to remain until about August 1, 1910. I then expect to settle in Boston and practice medicine. Present residence: 465 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

*ANDREW BRYSON TAYLOR *1909

Andrew Bryson Taylor lost his life in an automobile accident near Newcastle, Delaware, on November 22, 1909.

The son of a naval officer, his childhood and early boyhood were passed in Washington, D. C., where he was prepared for college at the University School. He entered Harvard at the age of seventeen. There his energy and generous enthusiasm, his uprightness, his splendid courage and, above all, his friendly spirit won for him the affection of all who knew him.

After passing successfully through the "breakers" of college life he decided upon a business career and went into the manufacture of steel at Newcastle, Del. His talent for leadership and his tireless energy won prompt recognition and he rose rapidly; only his untimely death prevented his attaining the highest summits of his chosen vocation.

Few men have been so truly loved by his friends as was Bryson Taylor and none will be more deeply regretted. A good scholar, an accomplished musician, an open-hearted and genial comrade, we shall not soon look upon his like again.

E. A. Taft, Jr., '04.

EDWARD WILLIS TAYLOR

HAMILTON THACHER

Returned to the Harvard Law School in September, 1904, and remained there three years, obtaining the regular degree of LL.B., and graduating therefrom in June, 1907. Decided not to pursue the active practice of the law and became interested in the subject of fruit-growing in the Northwest. In July, 1909, in company with Richard H. Daniels '04, made a trip to the Bitter Root Valley, in Southwestern Montana, where a large irrigation project was being completed. Securing an option on one thousand acres of raw "bench" land, suitable for fruit-growing, returned to the East, and spent the following six months in organizing a stock company, which took up the above mentioned option and immediately began the development of this large tract. With the exception of an occasional trip I have been as President and Director of the "Bitter Root Valley Orchards, Incorporated," actively engaged, in Victor, Mont., in the development of what is now generally known as the "Thousand Acre Ranch," into a commercial fruit-growing proposition.

As a result of the first year's work eight hundred fifty acres have been put under cultivation, of which three hundred acres have been grown to apple trees almost entirely, the remaining five hundred fifty acres being grown to oats, while one hundred eighty acres of potatoes were grown between the rows of young trees. The crop returns the first year, off what was formerly raw "sage-brush" land totalled fifteen thousand bushels of oats and forty thousand bushels of potatoes. Have also made a short trip to Southern California where the orange orchards proved most interesting.

Married Elizabeth Isabel McBain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ventress McBain, November 8, 1909, at Anaconda, Mont. Present residence: Victor, Mont.

RUDOLPH JOSEPH THANISCH

Married Marion Hibbard, daughter of Thomas Hibbard and Jennie Hibbard, September 15, 1906. Present residence: 151 Park St., West Roxbury, Mass.

Holt '04, under the name of Thaxter & Holt and am still engaged in the practice of law at Portland. Am at the present time in addition to the practice of the law devoting more or less time to business, being president of S. W. Thaxter & Co., wholesale dealers in grain. Business address: 120 Exchange St., Portland, Me. Present residence: 356 Spring St., Portland, Me.

ABBOT AUGUSTINE THAYER

Upon graduation, went directly to the Cincinnati Milling Machine Co., Cincinnati, O., manufacturers of machine tools. Worked for a year in the shops in order to acquire a thorough practical knowledge of the handling and use of a milling machine. Then became emergency office and road "trouble-man." The work of a "trouble-man" is varied and complicated. One day he is repairing a machine in Iowa, the next day smoothing down the ruffled disposition of a salesman in Ohio, the third day persuading a superintendent in Kentucky that his only hope of salvation lies in buying your particular machine. Always something new and always in a different place.

After two years of this work, in the spring of 1907, was sent to Europe to look after the foreign interests of the firm and to help the foreign selling agents. The work is of a general character, combining the cares of a "trouble-man" with the wiles of a salesman and the duties of an office man.

Our agents cover all of Europe so that the scope of my work is roughly bounded by London on the west, Naples on the south, St. Petersburg on the east, and Stockholm on the north; although I occasionally spill over these borders. Am constantly on the move, and for the last three years have managed five hundred miles of travel a week. My wanderings have covered practically every city of Europe and brought me in contact with all nationalities. Have not become a linguist as yet, but must talk German and French in my work. Permanent forwarding address: 304 Oak St., Mt. Auburn, Cincinnati, O.

ARTHUR LINWOOD THAYER

After my college work in 1904, I attended the Harvard Law School one year, and in the fall of 1905 went to Cornell University as Secretary of the Cornell University Christian Association. I remained at Cornell as Secretary two years. During the summers of these two years I managed a small hotel on Cayuga Lake "The Glenwood."

In the fall of 1907 I returned to Harvard as Secretary of the Phillips Brooks House Association, and was connected with the work at Brooks House for two years, the last year giving only part time to the work, taking work in the Harvard Law School at the same time. This year I have continued my work at the Law School having severed all connection with the work at Phillips Brooks House.

While Secretary at Cornell and Harvard I visited all of the larger Universities in the East, and in March, 1906, went to Nashville, Tenn., with the Cornell Delegation, to the Student Volunteer Conference. Last summer vacation I held the position of bookkeeper and cashier at the Louisburg Hotel, Bar Harbor, Me. Present residence: 471 Broadway, Cambridge, Mass.

EUGENE VAN RENSSELAER THAYER

After having been engaged in charity and settlement work in New York City, mainly in connection with the Charity Organization Society, I returned to Boston to join the reportorial staff of the Boston Transcript. After that I became Editor of the Brookline Chronicle. The year following I accepted the position of General Manager of the National Specialty Company of Boston. In October of the same year, after a two years' diversified and extremely interesting experience in the world outside the college campus, I entered the Harvard Law School, receiving my LL.B. in June, 1908. In September of 1906, 1907, and 1908, I was engaged in lecturing and preaching in some of the Western States. I am now engaged in the general practice of the law in New York City, having been admited to the Bar in March, 1909. For a year I was connected with the law offices of Underwood, Van Vorst & Hoyt, of that city, but have since opened my own law office at 25 Broad St. Present residence: 1427 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

ISRAEL SHELDON TILNEY

Married Frederika Fiske Tirrell, daughter of Vinsom Meader Tirrell and Harriet Fiske (Phelps) Tirrell, September 24, 1907, at South Weymouth, Mass. Present residence: 154 Wallace Ave., Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

WILLIAM CALDWELL TITCOMB

I entered the Harvard Graduate School, studying Architecture, till 1909, with the exception of a half-year's travel abroad. I received the degree of S.B. in 1907. I came to the University of Michigan, immediately thereafter, as Instructor in Architecture and am now finishing my third year here in that capacity. Present residence: 1008 Hill St., Ann Arbor, Mich.

ROLAND LESLEY TOPPAN

I received the degree of M.D. from Harvard in 1908. I am at present a physician at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston. Present residence: Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Mass.

JAMES HARVEY TORREY

Upon leaving college, was connected for short time with Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., of Baltimore, Md.; and then returned to Boston in the employ of the Boston Edison Illuminating Co. For the past three and one-half years I have been connected with the United States Fastener Co. with headquarters at 95 Milk St., Boston. I have been associated with the branch office at 450 Browne St., New York, N. Y. This firm manufactures metal goods and patent snap fasteners. Present residence: 66 West 9th St., New York, N. Y.

SAMUEL BANCROFT TRAINER

The week following graduation in 1904, I came to Toronto to fill a position which was held open for me with a view to becoming City Salesman for the Canadian Fairbanks Co., in Toronto. Six weeks of laborer's work in the warehouse was my first business education. From that to actual selling was a decided and difficult change. After about a year selling in the city, I was married April 22, 1905, to Florence Webb Levis, daughter of Samuel Edgar Levis and Mary Lownes Levis, at Clifton Heights, Pa., and shortly after was put on the road. The next fourteen months I was traveling over Ontario. This training has been the most valuable that I have had and also necessary for the work I later was to do.

About three months before leaving the road, June 8, 1906, my first child, Samuel Bancroft Trainer, Jr., was born and this was an important period of my life at Toronto, as then we got a house and started real home life. Since leaving the road as traveler I have been Manager of the Small Tool and Supply Department and am now also in charge of the Railway and Contractor's Supply Department of our Business. May 28, 1909, our second child, Mary Levis Trainer, was born at Toronto; and this, with the good fortune of being able to better my business position all the time has made me feel that I should be reasonably satisfied with the short history that I have made since graduation. Present residence: 1 Hillcrest Park, Toronto, Canada.

GUY LA ROY TRUE

Is an inspector of gas appliances at 684 Main St., Waltham, Mass.

Married Caroline Grace Obermeyer, daughter of John A. Obermeyer and Margaret Obermeyer, September 21, 1909, at Dorchester, Mass. Present residence: 61 Henshaw St., West Newton, Mass.

VLADIMIR ANDREA TSANOFF

Is a correspondent of the Associated Press, St. Petersburg, Russia.

JACOB WILLARD TUCKERMAN, JR.

In August, 1904, I started in with the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co., at its Home Office at 87 Milk St., Boston. From that time, until January 1, 1910, I worked in the various important departments of the company, learning the Home Office end of the business. January 1, 1910, I received the appointment of Special Representative of the Company with office at 176 Federal St., Boston, where my duties consist chiefly of the regular field work of the solicitor, combined with a general insight into the workings of a General Agency. Present residence: 60 Waverly St., Brookline, Mass.

WILLIAM LYNAM TUFTS

After graduating I studied law at Boston University Law School for one year, then I came to New York City and was employed for one year in the dry goods commission business by Faulkner, Page & Co., 58 North St. At the end of the year I returned to the Boston University Law School and received the degree of Bachelor of Jurisprudence in June, 1907. I was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in January, 1907, and practiced law in Boston from that time until November, 1908. Then I came to New York and until the first of October, 1909, was employed in the law office of Shattuck & Glenn, 115 Broadway. In May, 1909, I was admitted to the New York Bar. Since the first of October, 1909, I have been in the law office of Kranthoff, Harmon & Mathewson, 55 Wall St., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 508 West 136th St., New York, N. Y.

CHESTER BIDWELL TURNER

The summer of 1904 I spent at Chilmark, Martha's Vineyard, Mass., gardening. The fall and winter of 1904 and 1905, I spent in Cuba investigating a land boom at Taco Bay. I returned to my home in Roxbury in the spring and took up landscape gardening for myself. 1907 I spent doing the same work for myself. In 1907 I spent the year working in the Brae Burn Nursery at West Newton. The two following years, 1908 and 1909, were spent in the landscape gardening work for myself, about Boston. I have also done some agricultural work on the side. I am a member of the Universalist Church, Grove Hall; the Y. M. C. A. of Boston; the Gardeners and Florist Club of Boston, and am about to take a life membership in the Massachusetts Horticultural Society of Boston. Present residence: 7 Wayne St., Roxbury, Mass.

RALPH WEARE TUTTLE

After June, 1904, I spent four years in the Harvard Medical School. November 1, 1908, I came to the Boston City Hospital as House Officer. Present residence: Boston City Hospital, Boston, Mass.

ARTHUR TYNG

On graduating from the college in 1904, I enrolled in the Lawrence Scientific School as candidate for the degree of S.B. in Mechanical Engineering, which degree I received in June, 1906. During these two years I held an Austin Teaching Fellowship in Engineering, being Assistant to Professor L. S. Marks in his courses in Thermodynamics and Experimental Engineering. After receiving my engineering degree I spent a few months traveling through the West. In January, 1907, I returned East to New York and entered the employ of the Pennsylvania R. R. as electrical inspector and was assigned to work in connection with the electrification of the Long Island System.

The following summer I left the P. R. R. and entered the employ of the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co., in Pittsburgh, remaining there till June, 1909, when I was assigned to the Boston Office as commercial engineer, to study paper making and to gather data relating to the application of electric machinery to the paper industries. This work I am at present engaged upon. Present residence: 34 Page St., Malden, Mass.

ABBOTT PAYSON USHER

1904-'05, at Harvard Graduate School. 1905-'06 Assistant in Government 1. 1906-'07, Francis Parkman Fellow in History. 1907-'10, Assistant in Economics 1. Received A.M. 1905. The year 1906-'07 I spent abroad, traveling for a few weeks in England, France, and Switzerland, but primarily resident in Paris. Work on my doctoral thesis being the ostensible object of the foreign tour, the libraries and archives claimed the major portion of my time. The last two years have been spent in working over the material collected. I have published: in the Quarterly Journal of Economics a preliminary paper on the "French Grain Trade," May, 1905; and in the Political Science Quarterly, a short paper on the "Reform of Parliamentary Procedure in France," September, 1906. An essay entitled "Notre Dame de Paris" has been accepted by the Harvard Monthly. Present residence: 5 Conant Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

ROBERT VALENTINE

Is an organist. Present residence: 47 Bowdoin Ave., Dorchester, Mass.

WILLIAM ROBERT VALENTINE

In September after graduation I became Principal of a three room public school in Indianapolis. After my second year I was given the Principalship of a five room building. At the end of my third year in this city I was made Principal of an eleven room building. After my fourth year here I was made Supervising Principal with four buildings under my supervision. Since being in the work of education I have visited colored schools in St. Louis and Louisville. I have visited such institutions as Tuskegee, Hampton, and Manassas. I have spent a summer in Columbia University. For three years I have been treasurer of the Principals' Club in Indianapolis. I have served as a director of Flanner Guild, a neighborhood house. I have served as a probation officer of the Juvenile Court.

Married Grace Booth, daughter of George Christopher Booth and Penelope Eudora Booth, August 10, 1907, at Indianapolis, Ind. A daughter, Dorothy Valentine, born February 10, 1910, at Indianapolis, Ind. Present residence: 817 North California St., Indianapolis, Ind.

BENJAMIN CARLTON VAN WYE

I spent the summer of 1904 in Cambridge as a University guide. In the fall I began teaching Public Speaking and English in the School of English Speech and Expression, Copley Sq., Boston, and continued this work for three years, taking at the same time graduate work in English in the University. In June, 1905, I played "Barnby" in Miss Josephine Preston Peabody's "Marlow," at the opening of the "Elizabeth Carey Agassiz Hall," Radcliffe. During that summer and the following one, I assisted in cataloging the books in the Library of Sociology, Emerson Hall. In June, 1907, I received the degree of Master of Arts from Harvard, and spent that summer in Europe, traveling through England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany and Belgium.

In September, 1907, I came to the University of Cincinnati as Instructor in Public Speaking and English—the position I have held since then. The summer of 1909 I spent in Europe in charge of a party of tourists, visiting Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, France, England, and Scotland. Made Assistant Professor of Public Speaking and English, University of Cincinnati, May, 1910. Present residence: Auburn Hotel, Cincinnati, O.

RALPH WESLEY VARNEY

I have just returned after two years of study of Architecture and travel in Europe. Present residence: 140 East 34th St., New York, N. Y.

FREDERIC VIAUX

Received the degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School in 1907. With Gaston, Snow & Saltonstall, attorneys-at-law, Boston, from 1907 to fall of 1909. Since then in the real estate brokerage business in Boston.

My travels, jobs, honors? De minimis lex non curat! My writings? Unfit for publication. Degrees? Ah! LL.B. (D.V.), 1907, Harvard. Public posts I have held? Seems to me that's a bit too personal to ask some members of the Class; seeing its you, however, its all right. Present residence: 10 Brimmer St., Boston, Mass.

EUGENE ROBINSON VINAL

September, 1904, to June, 1906, I spent in the Harvard Graduate School, receiving the degree of A.M. at the end of that time from the Department of Classics. Married Florence M. Fenderson, daughter of Frank E. Fenderson and Mary E. Fenderson, June 11, 1907, at Channel Lake, Antioch, Ill. A son, John Henry Volk, 3d, born January 8, 1910, at Mont Clare, Chicago, Ill. Present residence: Mont Clare, Chicago, Ill.

CHARLES VOSE, JR.

I taught for a short while at Pomfret, Conn. I then took the regular course in the School for Social Workers, Boston, and worked for seven months as a volunteer for the Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children. After that I spent about two years in the Statistical Department of Messrs. Hayden, Stone & Co., bankers, Boston, and have recently started to learn the paper business with the Hollingsworth & Vose Co., at East Walpole. Present residence: East Walpole, Mass.

WILLIAM ROGERS WADE

1904-'05, I was Manager of the Maine Tourmaline Co., running a gem mine at Auburn, Me. In the fall of 1905 worked as fireman in saw and framing mill in Maine. Later was employed by the New Jersey Zinc Co., at Franklin Furnace, N. J., underground. December 1, 1905, went to New Mexico to take charge of the mines and interests of the Azure Mining Co., at Tyrone, N. Mex., where I am now a consulting mining engineer and Superintendent of the mine. Have written a few articles for various scientific papers, Engineering and Mining Journal, etc.

Married Lucy Myra Ricker, daughter of Richard R. Ricker and Lucy F. Ricker, June 15, 1904, at Lewiston, Me. Present residence: Tyrone, N. Mex.

EDWIN REGINALD WADLEIGH

Since leaving Harvard, I have been for the most part in New Hampshire and Vermont where I have worked as a drug clerk and as scaler and time-keeper for the Connecticut Valley Lumber Co. There is nothing of importance to be written concerning my career, and mediocrity is very probably my portion in life. I have often wished I could have completed my course in Harvard, for I think four years and an A.B. would have placed me on a different basis. My best wishes are for '04.

Married Elizabeth Josephine Gasselin, daughter of Pierre Gasselin and Rosalie Lessard Gasselin, May 30, 1908, at Littleton, N. H. Present residence: Littleton, N. H.

WILLIAM WADSWORTH

No honors; no writings; no public posts. Present residence: 180 West 59th St., New York, N. Y. (In summer: Chatham, N. Y.)

ARTHUR WAIT

Went to work with Wm. F. Mosser Co., leather dealers, 190 South St., Boston, in October, 1904. Came to St. Louis to open branch office in April, 1906, and have held same position ever since. I sell sole and upper leather to the shoe manufacturers and cover all territory west of New York State and Pennsylvania. Am a member of the St. Louis Harvard Club, University Club of St. Louis, and Normandie Golf Club. Present residence: 8 Beverly Pl., St. Louis, Mo.

KAICHIRO WAKITA

Not heard from. Last reported address: 72 Itchorne, Tokyo, Japan.

CLARENCE STEVENS WALKER

After leaving college I spent three years and a half in New York City, working for the New York Edison Co., as District Inspector and later as Heating Engineer. I then resigned and went to work for the Hastings Pavement Co., of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., as Assistant Chemist. In August, 1908, I was taken down with typhoid fever; and, after recuperating, I was appointed a Fourth Assistant Examiner in the United States Patent Office, at Washington, D. C., where I still am.

Married Helen S. Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hanson, October 20, 1909, at New York, N. Y. Present residence: 2008 R St., Washington, D. C.

IRVING JAMES WALKER

In June, 1903, having passed the required number of courses for the degree of A.B., I decided to study medicine. Consequently I entered the Harvard Medical School in the fall of that year. After four years of study I was given the degree of M.D. in June, 1907. Shortly after, I was appointed House Physician at the Boston Lying-In Hospital for a term of six months. Starting in March, 1908, I served sixteen months as Surgical House Officer at the Boston City Hospital. I am now practicing medicine at 527 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

As you will observe from the above I have had but little spare time for any extensive travels, but have been able to spend some time in the West Indies and in California; merely pleasure trips. Naturally my interests have been in a medical way so that I have been a member of the Boylston Medical Society, am at present a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, American Medical Association, Association of Military Surgeons of the United States, Boston City Hospital Alumni Association. Have held no public posts except at present the commission of 1st Lieutenant, Assistant Surgeon, Coast Artillery Corps, M. V. M. Present residence: 527 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

ROY SMITH WALLACE

For one year after graduation, I was Secretary of the Phillips Brooks House Association in Cambridge. In July, 1905, I became Headworker of Welcome Hall, a settlement in Buffalo, from which I resigned in November, 1905, because the illness of my father made it necessary for me to go into business with him. Accordingly until June, 1907, I was a real estate agent on Long Island, N. Y. During the summer of 1907 I attended the New York School of Philanthrophy, and in the fall, returned to Buffalo as Field Secretary of the Charity Organization Society. In 1908 I again entered settlement work, this time at Watson House, Buffalo. In May, 1909, I came to New York City to become Executive Secretary of the New York Child Welfare Committee, organized to study and exhibit the forces influencing children in modern city life.

I have, during vacations, traveled considerably in the United States, visiting R. T. Holt, '04, in Portland, Me., and Professor G. P. Adams, '04, in San Francisco, Cal. I have written a number of articles and papers for conferences and technical journals of social workers; none have an interest for any but social workers. Business address: 8100 Metropolitan Bldg., New York, N. Y. Present residence: 1744 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Permanent forwarding address: Freeport, N. Y.

EDMUND FRANCIS WALSH

Received the degree of M.D. from the Harvard Medical School in June, 1908. Am practicing medicine at 121 Pinckney St., Boston, Mass. Present residence: the same.

*JOHN JOSEPH WALSH *1904

John Joseph Walsh was born in Roxbury on March 17, 1882. He was the son of John Bernard and Annie (Cotter) Walsh, and was the fourth child in a family of six. From birth he was afflicted with a weakness of the spine which retarded his growth and greatly restricted his physical powers, but in spite of this, he refused to be taught at home or have any exception made in his favor on account of his infirmity. He entered the Sherwin School on Sterling St., near his home, with the other boys of his age, and in spite of the fact that even the slowest and shortest walk was a great exertion to him, and the further fact that he was frequently obliged to lose long periods because of illness, he was able, on account of the readiness with which he learned, to keep up with his class and graduate with it in 1896.

From the time that he was able to have such an ambition, he always declared that he was going to Harvard, and although his family, who had misgivings as to his physical ability, strove to dissuade him, he entered the Roxbury Latin School in the fall of 1896, to fit himself to take the entrance examinations. The Roxbury Latin School was further from his home than the Sherwin School, and getting to and from it under the most favorable conditions was a much harder task, while any loss of its instruction was, of course, much more serious. This severer test of his physique and intellect he also sustained; for he graduated with his class in 1900, and supplemented that achievement by taking the last of his entrance examinations and passing them all; so that he was free to enter Harvard in September without conditions, and with two advanced subjects to his credit.

He entered Harvard with high hopes and at once laid out a plan of study, in the Classics and Modern Languages mainly, which involved attendance at eight different courses. He was soon forced to give up his extra work, however, and owing to a prolonged illness in his Freshman year, he was only able to complete the work in three courses of the eight in which he registered, either as a regular or extra. This disappointment in his Freshman year did not dampen his ardor; but it made him more prudent in his attempts, and thereafter he was able to pass off all the work he undertook. After his first year, he began to take a good many courses in Economics, and by the beginning of his Senior year, that was his specialty. When his Senior year began, he needed only a moderate number of courses for his degree, and he was carrying all the work he needed with every promise of a more than usually easy year, when he was suddenly stricken, early in the Mid-Year period, and died, after an illness of a few days, on February 4, 1904.

Walsh's character was a singularly attractive one. He had no rancor against his more fortunate fellow men, no envy because of the greater opportunities life offered them than it did him. The long continued and severe pain he was constantly subjected to never made him exacting or unreasonable, but he bore it with patience and resignation. He had a very sympathetic nature and was quick to detect suffering or sorrow, and tactful in removing them, when it lay in his power to do so, or in offering his sympathy when he could give nothing more substantial. He had a keen sense of humor and took a most cheerful view of life, in which his sole ambition was to overcome, to the extent that courage and patience could overcome it, the handicap nature had placed upon him, and make himself independent.

SIDNEY GUNN, '04.

BARTLETT WALTON

Since graduation, I have been making shoes with A. G. Walton & Co., Boston, Mass. This company specializes in a popular-priced line for boys and girls, and distributes its product under the name "Walton Shoe," to over eight thousand retail dealers in the United States. Present residence: Wakefield, Mass.

NEWELL J WARD

On leaving college, I became connected with the Prudential Insurance Co. of America, and held different positions until I became Assistant Manager Eastern Division of Ordinary Agencies. After five years with the Prudential, I accepted position of Vice-President of Allen Advertising Agency, of New York, which I held for two years and then became Secretary of Frank Seaman, Inc., general advertising, of New York, which I held until March 1, 1910, when I went into my present position as Secretary of the Ward-Gehin Co., real estate and insurance, Firemans Insurance Bldg., Newark, N. J.

Since leaving college I have received no honors, no degrees, have done no writing, have held no public posts, and have made three motor trips on the European Continent.

Married Ethel Conderman, daughter of Theodore H. Conderman and Mary Conderman, November 25, 1903, at Philadelphia, Pa. Present residence: 116 Highland Ave., Orange, N. J.

RICHARD CUNNINGHAM WARE

Sailed after Class Day, 1904, for Europe, to join my cousin's family, and spent summer tutoring. Saw part of Germany, Switzerland, France, England, and Scotland. Returned in September and worked till February, 1905, as secretary to my uncle, Professor W. R. Ware. February 23, 1905, began work for the gas companies which later became the present Boston Consolidated Gas Co., and have continued in this business, as Assistant to the Secretary, ever since. The work is that of the Commercial, or New Business, Department, and proves very varied in character and exceedingly interesting.

Am a member of the Illuminating Engineering Society, and have been Secretary of the New England Section of this organization; member of the National Commercial Gas Association; and associate member of the New England Association of Gas Engineers. My only writing has been a paper presented in 1909 before the Illuminating Engineering Society and the New England Association on "The Comparative Practical Efficiency of Various Types of Gas Burners." Am also a member of Battery A, Field Artillery, M. V. M. Present residence: 201 Edge Hill Rd., East Milton, Mass.

HERBERT STANLEY WELSH

Since obtaining leave of absence from college in June, of 1903, I have, with brief interruptions, been engaged in the investment bond business. From September, 1903, to March, 1906, I was employed as clerk in a Philadelphia bond house, but since the spring of the latter year have at one time or another been a member of several firms of like occupation. The present firm of Welsh Brothers, bond dealers, was formed by my older brother and me in the spring of 1909. We are located at 328 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

A few weeks spent in Bermuda in the spring of 1906, and a business trip to the Pacific Coast in the summer of 1909, have been the only occasions when I have left this country or been far from the Atlantic seaboard within it, since 1903, when in August, a short European tour immediately preceded the start of my business career.

In January, 1908, I became Treasurer (a position which I still hold) of a small Philadelphia bank, formed to encourage saving among the poor and about the same time was elected a member of the Executive Committee of the Indian Rights Association. Present residence: 5335 Baynton St., Philadelphia, Pa.

JOSEPH WERTHEIMER

*ERNEST DEVEREUX WHITE *1906

Ernest Devereux White was born in Cleveland, O., September 12, 1876. In 1880 his parents, John S. and Georgie A. (Read), moved to New York City, where his school training was in Berkeley School, of which his father was head-master.

He entered the class of 1898 in Harvard College, but was obliged to relinquish his studies before the end of his Freshman year, because of failure in health. From his fourteenth year, when he had a severe attack of rheumatic fever, his heart had been in abnormal valvular condition, and besides frequent suffering and permanent debarment from sports or great exertion, he always faced the danger of fatal collapse. He visited Nauheim, Germany, three times for the bath treatment, deriving much benefit in the way of alleviation.

Between 1895 and 1901 he engaged in journalism as assistant editor of the Overland Monthly, in San Francisco, trained himself in music (mandolin, piano, and singing, in all of which he became proficient), and studied art, spending a winter in Paris at Julian's Studio, two seasons at the Art Students' League, New York, and one as a pupil of Wm. M. Chase. Although showing much promise in art he decided not to make it his life-work.

He re-entered Harvard in 1901 to fit himself for teaching; beginning as a special student he was admitted to the Class of 1904 and graduated cum laude. After graduation he went to Paris again to acquire proficiency in conversational French, and in the fall of 1904 began teaching advanced French, History, and English, in the Phillips Brooks School, Philadelphia, Pa., of which his father was now head-master. It was his cherished purpose to study for a Ph.D. degree in French.

He was married June 6, 1906, to Harriet M. Steel, of Philadelphia, and went to Europe for a wedding trip. Returning early in September, he and his bride took up their residence with his parents at 4225 Pine St.

On September 21, his last illness began with severe headache, followed by high fever, and as the always weak heart was unable to force the blood through the lungs, septic pneumonia set in. He died after much suffering, September 26, 1906, two weeks after his thirtieth birthday and less than four months after his wedding.

Ernest White was of an exceptionally gentle and pure spirit, reserved until he felt sympathy, but warmly devoted to those who won his affection. He had varied talents and gave promise of valuable accomplishment beyond what he had already achieved. His intense love of nature and his delight in art, his sensitiveness, courageous endurance of pain, and the almost sternly unyielding conscientiousness that underlay his wit and the charm of his personality, will be remembered as notable characteristics by those who knew him best.

ELIOT WHITE.

HENRY ST. CLAIR McMILLIN WHITEHEAD

In Port Chester practically all the time, doing newspaper work. Read contract law and general business law at New York Law School day and evening sessions, 1904-'05. Brushed up "first aid" principles at Out-Patient Department, Roosevelt Hospital, November, 1907, to February, 1908, working on Port Chester Daily Record meanwhile. RALPH FOGG WHITEHEAD

Is in real estate business at 41 Virginia St., Dorchester, Mass. Present residence: the same.

ROYAL GOODRIDGE WHITING

I've been leading a very quiet and more-or-less hard-working life. Went to work with the Samson Cordage Works, of Boston, manufacturer of braided cordage and cotton twines, a few months after graduating, and have been there ever since. I haven't traveled much, except a little in the way of business, and on short summer vacations. What spare time I've had I've devoted to playing golf in the summer and skating in the winter. I belong to the Brae Burn Country Club and the Newton Club. Present residence: Auburndale, Mass.

EBEN ESMOND WHITMAN

Married Jane Whitthorne Harvey, daughter of Alexander Harvey and Ella Whitthorne Harvey, October 14, 1905, at Catonsville, Md. Children: Ellen Harvey Whitman, born October 29, 1906; and Eben Esmond Whitman, Jr., born November 6, 1907; both at New York, N. Y. Present residence: 150 East 38th St., New York, N. Y.

WILLIAM STEWART WHITTEMORE

In October, 1904, I entered the Harvard Medical School where I studied for four years, receiving the degree of M.D., cum laude, in June, 1908, graduating at the head of my Class. In March, 1908, I received an appointment as Surgical Interne at the Massachusetts General Hospital. I began my service there on November 10, 1908. April 1, 1910, I started in private practice in Cambridge, having my office in Brattle Square, at 39 Brattle St.

Married Alice Stearns Babson, daughter of Nathaniel Babson and Ellen Stearns Babson, April 14, 1910, at Gloucester, Mass. Present residence: 39 Brattle St., Cambridge, Mass.

ROWLAND GEORGE WHITTET

During the twelve months following June, 1904, I traveled through the New England States for a publishing house in Philadelphia, approving sales made by agents and collecting subscriptions. The experience this afforded me has been of great benefit during the last three or four years, when, as salesman for two wholesale dry goods houses, I have traveled as far west as the Soo. I was employed by H. E. W. Chutter, 105 Chauncey St., Boston, till that firm sold out. I traveled New England first, and later had headquarters in Detroit, Mich.

On July 1, 1909, I went to work for John R. Ainsley &

Co., Boston, dry goods importers and jobbers, calling on local trade. I was elected President of the Needham Temperance Band last July. This is one of the oldest temperance organizations in the country and is kept alive for sentimental reasons. I am a member of the executive committee of the Congregational Church, and Assistant Superintendent of Sunday School.

Married Alma Victoria Shepherd, daughter of Richard Shepherd and Nancy Shepherd, August 4, 1908, at St. Mary's, Ontario, Canada. Present residence: Needham, Mass.

OSBORNE JOHN PETER WIDTSOE

1905, I received the degree of A.M. from Harvard, and became immediately thereafter connected with the Latterday Saints' University at Salt Lake City, as Professor of English. I have retained that position since the first appointment.

Much of my time has been spent in the service of the so-called "Mormon" Church—the Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints. In 1906 I was appointed second assistant superintendent of the Sunday Schools of the Salt Lake Stake—a district comprising eleven large schools. In 1908, I was made superintendent of the Sunday Schools of this same district, and in 1909, I was called to serve as bishop of an ecclesiastical corporate district known as the Nineteenth Ward. The last-named position, I still hold. For three years, also—from March, 1907, to January, 1910—I served as managing editor of the Juvenile Instructor, a magazine devoted to the interests of the Sunday School.

Since 1905, I have written fifty or more articles for the local magazines: "Remarkable Parallels"—a series of ten articles; "The Mormon Boy at College"; "An Introduction to the Study of English Surnames"—now in progress; "Thinkright—Talks to Boys on Mental Manhood"—now in progress; many articles on Sunday School and religious matters. In preparation "The Story of Sesus," a young folks book from the Mormon viewpoint.

Just recently I have been called to act as Principal of the High School Department of the Latterday Saints' University. I shall of course continue as the head of the Department of English.

Married Rosetta Raymond Homer, daughter of William Harrison Homer and Susannah Rebecca (Raymond) Homer, June 20, 1906, at Logan, Utah. Children: Karine Homer Widtsoe, born March 3, 1907; and Rosetta Rebekah Widtsoe, born August 4, 1909; both at Salt Lake City, Utah. Present residence: Belmont Terrace, Center and 4th Sts., Salt Lake City, Utah.

THOMAS EDWARD WINSTON

After receiving an A.M. from Harvard, June, 1904, for a year's work in the Graduate School, I taught in the Rockland Military Academy, West Lebanon, N. H., for one year. In January the building was destroyed by fire, and from January to April business went on in a hotel at Hartford, Vt., ending the year at the old stand which was partially restored. During the next year, 1905-'06, I was in charge of the High School at Shirley, Mass. In the following year, 1906-'07, I taught in the East Boston High School. Since 1907 I have been teaching in the English High School, Montgomery St., Boston. The old building became so overcrowded this year that a section of the school was transferred to Winthrop St., Roxbury, where I am now located. Present residence: 199 Marion St., East Boston, Mass.
